Universitätsbibliothek Paderborn

Travels into several remote nations of the world in 4 pt .

Swift, Jonathan
London, 1726

$7$

TRAVELS

INTOSEVERAL

Remote Nations

OF THE WT O M M
By Captain Lemuel Gulliver.
V OL. II.
PARTIII.
A Voyage to Laputa, Balnibarbi, Glubbdubdribb, Luggnagg, and Japan.

> PARTIV.

A Voyage to the Houyhnhems.

$$
L O N \mathcal{D} O N:
$$

Printed for Benjamin Motte, at the Middle-Temple-Gate. M dcc xxvi.

Standort:
Signatur:
Akz.-Nr.:
Id. -Nr .:
P DZLF1018-2
74/19125
W285350

```
.2 IMF #WO3
```

III $9 & 18$

THE  CONTENTS.

C H A P. I.

- PRes 2s BiJ964

23 wayk HE Author fets out on his - T W third Voyage; is taken by Pirates: The Malice of a Dutchis man. His Aerival at anIfland. He is receivedinto Laputa. $\mathrm{Pag} . \mathrm{I}$,

C H A P. II.
The Humours and Difpofition of the Laputians defcribed. An Account of VOL. II. A 2 their

CONTENTS.

their Learning. Of the King and bis Court. The Author's Reception there. The Inbabitants fubject to Fears and Difquietudes. An Account of the Women.
p. Is

C H A P. III.

A Phxnomenon folved by modern Pbilofophy and Aftronomy. The Laputians great Improvements in the latter. The King's Method of fuppreffing Infurrections.
p. 35.

$$
\mathrm{CH} \text { A P. IV. }
$$

The Autbor leaves Laputa, is conveyed to Balsibarbi, arrives at the $\mathrm{Me}^{-}$ tropolis A Defcription of the Metropo. lis, and the Country adjoining. The Author hofpitably received by a great Lord. His Converfation with that Lord.
p. 4 ?

II - 9 & H

CONTENTS.  C. H A P. V,

The Author permitted to fee the grand Academy of Lagado The Academy largely defcribed. The Arts wherein the Profeffors employ themfelvesi: p. 62

- C द C H A P. VI. ${ }^{\circ}$. $871 .{ }^{2}$

A farther Account of the Academy. The Author propojes fome Improvements, which are bonourably received. I p, 80

C H A P. VII.

3. The Author leaves Lagado, arrives at Maldonada. No Ship ready. Hé takes a ghort Voyage to Glubbdubdribb. His Reception by the Governor.

$$
\text { p. } 94
$$

hre agene C A P Vill , vill

Nwo A farther Account of Glubbdubdribb: Antient and Modern Hijtory corrected.

$$
\text { p. } 104 .
$$

. 1 ITYA. 8 I
C HAP.

CONTENTS.

$$
\mathrm{CHAP} \text { IX. }
$$

The Author's Return to Maldonada, fails to the Kingdom of Luggnagg. The Author confined. He is Jent for to Court. The Manner of bis Admittance. The King's great Lenity to bis Subjects.
p. 118

C H A P. X .
The Luggnaggians commended. Aparticular Defcription of the Struldbruggs, with many Converfations between the Author and fome eminent Perfons upon that Subject.

C H A P. XI.

The Author leaves Luggnagg, and fails to Japan. From thence be returns in a Dutch Ship to Amfterdam, and from Amfterdam ta England. IIS bis p. 147

TRAVELS.

TRAVELS.

PART III.

e Voiage to Laputa, BalNIBARBI, LUGGNAGG, GLUBBDUBDR1BB, and JAPAN.

$$
\mathrm{CHAP} . \mathrm{I} \text {. }
$$

The Author fets out on bis ThirdVoyage; is taken by Pyrates. The Malice of a Dutchman. His Arrival at an Ifland. He is received into Lapuca.

2 AVOYAGE
hundred Tuns, came to my Houre. I had formerly been Surgeon of another Ship where he was Mafter, and a fourth Part Owner, in a Voyage to the Levant: He had always treated me more like a Brother than an inferior Officer, and hearing of my Arrival, made me a Vifit, as I apprchended only out of Friendfhip, for nothing paffed more than what is ufual after long Abfences. But repeating his Vifits often, expreffing his Joy to find me in good Health, asking whether I were now fettled for Life, adding that he intended a Voyage to the Eaft-Indies, in two Months: At laft he plainly invited me, though with fome Apologies, to be Surgeon of the Ship; that I fhould have another Surgcon under me befides our two Mates; that my Sallary fhould be double to the ufual Pay; and that having experienced my Knowledge in Sea-Affairs to be at leaft equal to his, he would enter into any Engagement to follow my Adrice, as much as if I had fhare in the Command.

to LAPUT/A, $\sigma^{\circ} c^{\circ} \quad 3$

He faid fo many other obliging Things, and I knew him to be fohoneft a Man, that I could not reject his Propofal: the Thirf $I$ had of feeing the World, notwithftanding my paft Miffortunes, continuing as violent as ever. The only Difficulty that remained, was to perfuade my Wife, whofe Confent, however, I at laft obtained, by the Profpect of advantage the propofed to her Children.

2W e fet out the sth Day of Auguft, 1706. and arrived at Fort St. George the I Ith of April, 1707. flayed there three Weeks to refrefh our Crew, many of whom were fick. From thence we went to Tonquin, whete the Captain refolved to continue fome time, becaufe many of the Goods he intended to buy were not ready, nor could he expect to be difpatched in forne Months. Therefore in hopes to defray fome of the Charges he muft be at, he bought a Sloop, loaded it with feveral forts of B 2 Goods,

4 AVOIAGE

Goods, wherewith the Tonquinefe ufually trade to the neighbouring Illands, and putting fourteen Men on board, whereof three were of the Country, he appointed me Mafter of the Sloop, and gave me power to traffick for two Months, while he tranfacted his Affairs at Tonquin.

W e had not failed above three Days, when a great Storm arifing, we were driven five Days to the North-North-Eaft, and then to the Eaft ; after which we had fair Weather, buc fill with a pretty ftrong Gale from the Weft. Upon the tenth Day we were chafed by two Pyrates, who foon overtook us; for my Sloop was fo deep loaden, that fhe failed very flow, neither were we in a Condition to defend our felves.

W e were boarded about the fame time by both the Pyrates, who enter'd furioufly at the head of their Men, but finding us all proftrate upon our Faces,

to LAPUTA, छ'c. 5

(for fo I gave order,) they pinioned us with ftrong Ropes, and fetting a Guard uponus, went to fearch the Sloop.

IOBSERVED among them a Dutchman, who feemed to be of fome Authority, though he was not Commander of cither Ship. He knew us by our Countenances to be Englifhmen, and jabbering to us in his own Language, fwore we fhould be tied Back to Back, and thrown into the Sea. I fpoke Dutch tolerably well ; I told him who we were, and begged him, in confideration of our being Chriftians and Proteftants, of neighbouring Countries, in ftrict Alliance, that he would move the Captain to take fome pity on us. This inflamed his Rage; he repeated his Threatnings, and turning to his Companions, fpoke with great Vehemence, in the Japanefe Language, as I fuppofe, often ufing the Word Cbriftianos.

The largeft of the two Pyrate Ships was commanded by a Japanefe Captain, B 3 who

6 A VOYAGE 08

who fpoke a little Dutch, but very imperfectly. He came up to me, and after feveral Queftions, which I anfwered in great humility, he faid we fhould not die. I made the Captain a yery low Bow, and then turning to the Dutchman, faid, I was forry to find more Mercy in a Heathen, than in a Brother Chriftian. But I had foon reafon to repent thofe foolifh Words, for that malicious Reprobate, having often endeavoured in vain to perfuade both the Captains that I might be thrown into the Sea, (which they would not yield ta after the Promife made me, that Ifhould not die) however prevailed fo far as to have a Punifhment inflicted on $\mathrm{me}_{5}$ worfe in all human Appearance than Death it felf. My Men were fent by an equal Divifion into both the PirateShips, and my Sloop new manned. As to my felf, it was determined that $I$ fhould be fet a-drift in a fmall Canoe, with Paddles and a Sail, and four Days Provifions, which laft the Japanefe Cap. tain

to LAPUTA, E®c. 7

tain was fo kind to double out of his own Stores, and would permit no Man to fearch me. I got down into the Canoe, while the Dutchman flanding upon the Deck, loaded me with all the Curfes and injurious Terms his Language could afford.

ABout an Hour before we faw the Pirates, I had taken an Obfervation, and found we were in the Latitude of 46 N . and of Longitude 183. When I was at fome diftance from the Pirates, I difcovered by my Pocket-Glafs feveral Iflands to the South-Eaft. I fet up my Sail, the Wind being fair, with a defign to reach the neareft of thofe Inlands, which I made a fhift to do in about three hours. It was all rocky; however, I got many Birds Eggs, and ftriking fire I kindled fome Heath and dry Sea-Weed, by which I roafted my Eggs. I eat no other Supper, being refolved to fpare my Provifions as much as I could. I paffed the Night under the Shelter of a Rock, frowing fome Heath under me, and flept pretty well.

8CAVOIAGE es

THE next day I failed to another Ifland, and thence to a third or fourth, fometimes ufing my Sail, and fometimes my Paddles. But not to trouble the Reader with a particular Account of my Diftrefles, let it fuffice, that on the fifth day I arrived at the laft Inland in my Sight, which lay South South-Eaft to the former.

THIS Ifland was at a greater diftance than I expected, and I did not reach it in lefs than five hours. I encompaffed it almoft round before I could find a convenient Place to land in, which was a fmall Creek, about three Times the Widenefs of my Canoc. I found the Ifland to be all rocky, only a little intermingled with Tufts of Grafs, and fweet-fmelling Herbs. I took out my fimall Provifions, and after having refrefhed my felf, I fecured the Remainder

to LAPUTA, ซ̌c. 9

in a Cave, whereof there were great numbers. I gathered plenty of Eggs upon the Rocks, and got a quantity of dry Sea-Weed and parched Grafs, which I defigned to kindle the next day, and roaft my Eggs as well as I could. (For I had about me my Flint, Steel, Match, and Burning-Glafs.) I lay all night in the Cave where I had lodged my Provifions. My Bed was the fame dry Grals and Sea-weed which I intended for Fewel. I flept very little, for the Difquiets of my Mind prevailed over my Wearinefs, and kept me awake. I confidered how impoffible it was to preferve my Life in fo defolate a place, and how miferable my End muft be. Yet I found my felf fo liftlefs and defponding, that I had not the heart to rife; and before I could get Spirits enough to creep out of my Cave, the Day was far advanced. I walked a while among the Rocks; the Sky was perfectly clear, and the Sun fo hot, that I was forced to turn my Face from it : When all on a fudden den it became obfcured, as I thought, in a manner very different from what happens by the Interpofition of a Cloud. I turned back, and perceived a vaft opake Body between me and the Sun, moving forwards towards the Ifland : It feemed to be about two Miles high, and hid the Sun fix or feven Minutes; but I did not obferve the Air to be much colder; of the Sky more darkned, than if I had flood under the Shade of a Mountain. As it approached nearer over the Place where I was, it appeared to be a firm Subftance, the Bottom flat, fmooth, and fhining very bright from the Reflection of the Sea below. I food upon a Height about two hundred Yards from the Shore, and faw this vaft Body defcending almoft to a Parallel with me, at lefs than an Englif力 Mile diftance. I took out my Pocket-Perfpective, and could plainly difcover Numbers of People moving up and down the Sides of it, which appeared to be floping; but what

to LAPUTA, Erc. II

what thofe People were doing, I was not able to diftinguifh.

The natural Love of Life gave me fome inward Motions of Joy, and I was ready to entertain a Hope, that this Adventure might fome way or other help to deliver me from the defolate Place and Condition I was in. But at the fame Time the Reader can hardly conceive my Aftoniffoment, to behoid an Iland in the Air, inhabited by Men, who were able, (as it fhould feem) to raire, or fink, or put it into a progreflive Motion, as they pleafed. But fot being at that time in a Difpofition to philofophize upon this Phanomenon, I rather chofe to obferve what Courfe the Ifland would take, becaufe it feemed for a while to ftand ftill. Yet foon after it advanced nearer, and I could fee the Sides of it encompaffed with feveral Gradations of Galleries and Stairs, at certain Intervals, to defcend from one to the other. In the loweft Gallery I beheld beheld fome People fifhing with long Angling-Rods, and others looking on. I waved my Cap, (for my Hat was long fince worn out) and my Handkerchief towards the Ifland; and, upon its nearer approach, I called and fhouted with the utmoft frength of my Voice: and then looking circumfpectly, I beheld a Croud gathered to that fide which was moft in my view. I found by their pointing towards me, and to each other, that they plainly difcovered me, although they made no fcturn to my fhouting. But I could fee four or five Men running in great hafte up the fairs to the top of the Ifland, who then difappeared. I hap. pened rightly to conjecture, that there were fent for Orders to fome Perfon in Authority upon this occafion.

The Number of People increafed, and in lefs than half an hour the Inland was moved and raifed in fuch a manner, that the loweft Gallery appeared in a Parallel of lefs than an hundred yards diftance

to LAPUTA, E' ${ }^{\circ}$. 13

diffance from the Height where Ifood. I then put my felf into the moft fupplicating Poftures, and fooke in the humbleft Accent, but received no Anfwer. Thofe who ftood neareft over-againft me, feemed to be Perfons of Diffinction, as I fuppofed by their Habit. They conferred earneftly with each other, looking often upon me. At length one of them called out in a clear, polite, fmooth Dialect, not unlike in Sound to the Italian; and therefore I returned an Anfwer in that Language, hoping at leaft that the Cadence might be more agreeable to his Ears. Although neither of us underftood the other, yet my Meaning was eafily known, for the People faw the Diftrefs I was in.

They made Signs for me to come down from the Rock, and gotowards the Shoar, which I accordingly did; and the flying Inand being raifed to a convenient Height, the Verge directly over me, a Chain was let down from the loweft Gallery, with a Seat faften'd to the bot tom, to which I fixed my felf, and was drawn up by Pullies.

14 CA VOYAGE

$\qquad$
$\qquad$ $\qquad$ $\qquad$

$\qquad$ $\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$

to LAPUTA, E゚c. 15

C H A P. II.

The Humours and Dipofitions of the Laputians defcribed. An Account of their Learning. Of the King and bis Court. The Author's Reception there. The Inbabitants fubject to Fears and Difquietudes. An Account of the Women.

T my alighting I was furrounded by a Crowd of People; but thofe who ftood neareft, feemed to be of better Quality. They beheld me with all the Marks and Circumftances of Wonder, neither, indeed was I much in their debt, having never till then feen a Race of Mortals fo fingulat in their Shapes,

16

 © $\mathcal{A}$ VorageShapes, Habits, and Countenances. Their Heads were all reclined either to the right, or the left ; one of the Eyes turned inward, and the other directly up to the Zenith. Their outward Garments were adorned with the Figures of Suns, Moons, and Stars, interwoven with thofe of Fiddles, Flutes, Harps, Trumpets, Guittars, Harpficords, and many more Inftruments of Mufick, unknown to us in Europe. I obferved here and there many in the Habit of Servants, with a blown Bladder faften'd like a Flail to the End of a thort Stick, which they carried in their Hands. In each Bladder was a fimall Quantity of dryed Peafe, or little Pebbles, (as I was afterwards informed.) With thefe Bladders they now and then flapped the Mouths and Ears of thofe who ftood near them, of which Practice I could not then conceive the Meaning : It feems, the Minds of thefe People are fo taken up with intenfe Speculations, that they neither can fpeak, nor attend to the Difcourfes of others, without being rouzed by fome external Taction upon the Organs of Speech and Hearing; for which reafon, thofe Perfons who are able to afford it always keep a Flapper (the Original is Climenole) in their Family, as one of their Domefticks, nor ever walk abroad or make Vifits without him. And the Bufinefs of this Officer is, when two or three more Perfons are in Company, gently to frike with his Bladder the Mouth of him who is to fpeak, and the right Ear of him or then to whom the Speaker addreffeth himfelf. This Flapper is likewife employed diligently to attend his Mafter in his Walks, and, upon occafion, to give him a foft Flap on his Eyes, becaufe tie is always fo wrapped up in Cogitation, that he is in manifeft danger of falling down every Precipice, and bouncing his Head againtt every Poft, and in the Streets of jufling others, or being juftled himfelf into the Kennel.

to LAPUTA, Grc. 17

Vol. II.
C
I.
fioIx was neceffary to give the Reader this Information, without which he would be at the fame lofs with me, to underftand the Proceedings of thefe People, as they conducted me up the fairs, to the top of the Illand, and from thence to the Royal Palace. While we were afcending, they forgot feveral times what they were about, and left me to my felf, till their Memories were again rouzed by their Flappers; for they appeared altogether unmoved by the fight of my foreign Habit and Countenance, and by the Shouts of the Vulgar, whore Thoughts and Minds were more dif. engaged.

Ait laft we enter'd the Palace, and proceeded into the Chamber of Prefence, where I faw the King feated on his Throne, attended on each fide by Perfons of Prime Quality. Before the Throne, was a large Table filled with Globes and Spheres, and Mathematical Inftruments of all kinds. His Majefly备 3.1 it iat took sook not the leaft notice of us, although our Entrance was not without fufficient Noife, by the Concourfe of all Perfons belonging to the Court. But he was then deep in a Problem, and we attended at leaft an hour, before he could folve it. There food by him on each fide, a young Page, with Flaps in their hands, and when they faw he was at leifure, one of them gently ftruck his Mouth, and the other his right Ear; at which he ftarted like one awaked on the fudden, and looking towards me, and the Company I was in, recollected the Occafion of our coming, whereof he had been informed before. He fooke fome Words, whereupon immediately a young Man with a Flap came up to my Side, and flapt me gently on the right Ear; but I made Signs, as well as I could, that I had no Occafion for fuch an Inftrument ; which, as I afterwards found, gave his Majefty and the whole Court a very mean Opinion of my Underftanding. The King, as far as I could conC 2 jecture, jecture, asked me feveral Qucftions, and 1 addreffed my felf to him in all the Languages I had. When it was found, that I could neither underftand, nor be underfood, I was conducted, by the King's Order, to an Apartment in his Palace, (this Prince being diftinguifhed above all his Predeceffors for his Hofpitality to Strangers,) where two Servants were appointed to attend me. My Dinner was brought, and four Perfons of Quality, whom I remember'd to have feen very near the King's Perfon, did me the honour to dine with me. We had two Courfes, of three Difhes each. In the firt Courfe there was a Shoulder of Mutton, cut into an Æquilateral Triangle, a Piece of Beef into a Rhomboides, and a Pudding inte a Cycloid. The fecond Courfe was two Ducks, truffed up into the Form of Fiddles, Saufages and Puddings refembling Flutes and Hautboys, and a Breaft of Veal in the fhape of a Harp. The Servants cut our Bread into

$$
\text { to LAPUTA, } \sigma^{\circ} c .19
$$

Cones,

to LAPUTA, छ'c. 21

Cones, Cylinders, Parallelograms, and feveral other mathematical Figures.

While we were at Dinner, I made bold to ask the Names of feveral things in their Language ; and thofe noble Perfons, by the affiftance of their Flappers, delighted to give me Anfwers, hoping to raife my Admiration of their great Abilities, if I could be brought to converfe with them. I was foon able to call for Bread, and Drink, or whatever elfe I wanted.

After Dinner my Company withdrew, and a Perfon was fent to me by the King's Order, attended by a Flapper. He brought with him Pen, Ink, and Paper, and three or four Books, giving me to underftand by Signs, that he was fent to teach me the Language. We fat together four hours, in which time I wrote down a great number of Words in Columns, with the Tranflations over againft them. I likewife made a fhift to learn feveral fhort

22 A VOYAGE

fhort Sentences. For my Tutor would order one of my Servants to fetch fomething, or turn about, to make a Bow, to fit, or fand, or walk, and the like. Then I took down the Sentence in writing. He fhewed me alfo in one of his Books, the Figures of the Sun, Moon, and Stars, the Zodiack, the Tropics, and Polar Circles, together with the Denominations of many Figures of Planes and Solids. He gave me the Names and Defcriptions of all the mufieal Inftruments, and the general Terms of Art in playing on each of them. After he had left me, I placed all my Words with their Interpretations in Alphabetical Order. And thus in a few days, by the help of a very faithful Memory, - I got fome infight into their Language.

The Word, which I interpret the Flying or Floating Iftand, is in the Original Laputa, whereof I could never learn the true Etymology. Lap in the old obfolete Language fignifieth High,

to LAPUTA, Ecc. 23

and Untuh a Governour, from which, they fay, by Corruption was derived Lapita from Lapuntub. But I do not approve of this Deeivation, which feems to be a little ftrained. I ventured to offer to the Learned among them a Conjecture of my own, that Lapputa was quafu Liap outed, Lap fignifying properly the Dancing of the Sun-Bearis in the Sea, and outed a Wing; which, thowever, Whall not obtruide, but fabmit to the judicious

Those to whom the King hadd cintrufted me, obferving how ill I was'clad, ordered a Taylor to come next Morning, and take my Meafure for a Suit of Clothes? This Operator did his Office after a different manner from thofe of his Trade in Europe. He firf took my Altitude by a Quadrant, and then with Rule and Compaffes, defcribed the Dimenfions and Out-lines of my whole Body, all which he enter'd upon Paper, and in fix days brought my Clothes very ill made, and a Voyage 0quite out of fhape, by happening to miftakea Figure in the Calculation. But my comfort was, that I obferved fuch Accidents very frequent, and little regarded.

24

DURING my Confinement for want of Clothes, and by an Indifpofition that held me fome days longer, I much enlarged my Dietionary; and when I went next to Court, was able to underfland many things the King fpoke, and to acturn him fome kind of Anfwers. His Majefly had given Orders that the Ifland fhould move North-Eaft and by Eaft, to the Vertical Point over Lagado, the Metropolis of the whole Kingdom below upon the firm Earth. It was about ninety Leagues diffant, and our Voyage lafted four days and an half, I was not in the leaft fenfible of the progreflive Motion made in the Air by the Illand. On the fecond Morning, about eleven a-clock, the King himfelf in Pcrfon, attended by his Nobility,

Courtiers,

to LAPUTA, E゚c. 25

Courtiers, and Officers, having prepared all their mufical Inftruments, played on them for three hours without intermiffion, fo that I was quite ftunned with the Noife; neither could I poffibly guefs the Meaning till my Tutor informed me. He faid that the People of the Ifland had their Ears adapted to hear the Mufick of the Spheres, which always played at certain Periods, and the Court was now prepared to bear their part in whatever Infrument they mot excelled.

In our Journey towards Lagado the capital City, his Majefty ordered that the Illand fhould fop over certain Towns and Villages, from whence he might receive the Petitions of his Subjects. And to this purpofe feveral Packthreads were let down with fmall Weights at the bottom. On thefe Packthreads the People ftrung their Petitions, which mounted up directly like the Scraps of Paper faftned by School-Boys at the end of the String that that holds their Kite. Sometimes we received Wine and Victuals from below, which were drawn up by Pulleys.

26 CA Vorace

The Knowledge I had in Mathematicks gave me great Afliftance in ac quiring their Phrafeology, which depended much upon that Science and Mufick ; and in the latter I was not unskilled. Their Ideas are perpetually converfant in Łines and Figures. If they would, for example, praife the Beauty of a Woman, or any other Animal, they defcribe it by Rhombs, Circles, Parallelograms, Ellipfes, and other Geometrical Terms, or by Words of Art drawn from Mufick, needlefs here to repeat. I obferved in the King's Kitchen all forts of mathematical and mufical Inftruments, after the Figures of which. they cut up the Joints that were ferved to his Majefty's Table.

THEIR Houfes are very ill built, the Walls bevil, without one Right Angle

to LAPUTA, E'c. 27

Angle in any Apartment; and this Defect arifeth from the Contempt they bear to practical Geometry, which they defpife, as Vulgar and Mechanick, thofe Inftructions they give being too refined for the Intellectuals of their Workmen; which occafions perpetual Miftakes. And although they are dextrous enough upon a Piece of Paper in the Management of the Rule, the Pencil, and the Divider, yet in the common Actions and Behaviour of Life, I have not feen a more clumfy, aukward, and unhandy People, nor fo flow and perplexed in their Conceptions upon all other Subjects, except thofe of Mathematicks and Mufick. They are very bad Reafoners, and vehemently given to Oppofition, unlefs when they happen to be of the right Opinion, which is feldom their Cafe. Imagination, Fancy, and Invention, they are wholly Strangers to, nor have any Words in their Language by which thofe Ideas can be expreffed; the whole Compass of their Thoughts and

28eA Voxage
and Mind being fhut up within the two forementioned Sciences.

Most of them, and efpecially thofe who deal in the Aftronomical Part, have great Faith in judicial Aftrology, although they are afhamed to own it publickly. But what I chiefly admired, and thought altogether unaccountable, was the frong Difpofition I obferved in them towards News and Politicks, perpetually enquiring into publick Affairs, giving their Judgments in Matters of State, and paffionately difputing every Inch of a Party Opinion. I have indeed obferved the fame Difpofition among moft of the Mathematicians I have known in Europe, although I could never difcover the leaft Analogy between the two Sciences; unlefs thofe People fup. pofe, that becaufe the fmalleft Circle hath as many Degrees as the largeft, therefore the Regulation and Management of the World require no more Abilities than the handling and turning

$$
\text { to LAPUTA, धic. } 29
$$

ing of a Globe. But, I rather take this Quality to fpring from a very common Infirmity of human Nature, inclining us to be more curious and conceited in Matters where we have leaft Concern, and for which we are leaft adapted either by Study or Nature.

These People are under continual Difquietudes, never enjoying a Minute's Peace of Mind; and their Difturbances. proceed from Caufes which very little affect the reft of Mortals. Their Apprehenfions arife from feveral Changes they dread in the celeftial Bodies. For inftance ; That the Earth, by the continual Approaches of the Sun towards it, muft in Courfe of Time be abforbed or fwallowed up: That the Face of the Sun will, by degrees, be encrufted with its own Effluvia, and give no more Light to the World: That the Earth very narrowly efcaped a Brufh from the Tail of the laft Comet, which would have infallibly reduced it to Afhes; and that the
the next, which they have calculated for one and thirty Years hence, will probably deftroy us. For, if in its Pe rihelion it fhould approach within a certain Degree of the Sun, (as by their Calculations they have reafon to dread) it will conceive a Degree of Heat ten thoufand times more intenfe than that of red-hot glowing Iron; and in its abfence from the Sun, carry a blazing Tail ten hundred thoufand and fourteen Miles long; through which, if the Earth fhould pais at the diftance of one hundred thoufand Miles from the Nucleus or main Body of the Comet, it muft in its Paffage be fet on fire, and reduced to Afhes. That the Sun daily fpending its Rays without any Nutriment to fupply them, will at laft be wholly confumed and annihilated; which muft be attended with the Deffruction of this Earth, and of all the Planets that receive their Light from it ## to. $\mathrm{LAPUTA}, \mathrm{E}^{\circ} \mathrm{C}$. 3 I

THEY are fo perpetually alarmed with the Apprehenfions of thefe and the like impending Dangers, that they can neither fleep quietly in their Beds, nor have any Relifh for the common Pleafures or Amufements of Life. When they meet an Acquaintance in the Morning, the firft Queftion is about the Sun's health, how he looked at his Setting and Rifing, and what hopes they have to avoid the Stroke of the approaching $\mathbf{C o}$ met. This Converfation they are apt to run into with the fame Temper that Boys difcover, in delighting to hear terrible Stories of Spirits and Hobgoblins, which they greedily liften to, and dare not go to bed for fear.

The Women of the Ifland have abundance of Vivacity; they contemn their Husbands, and are exceedingly fond of Strangers, whereof there is always a confiderable number from the Gontinent below, attending at Court, either upon Affairs of the feveral Towns and and Corporations, or their own particular Occafion, but are much defpifed, becaufe they want the fame Endowments. Among thefe the Ladies chufe their Gallants: But the vexation is, that they act with too much Eafe and Security ; for the Husband is always fo wrapt in Speculation, that the Miftrefs and Lover may proceed to the greateft Familiarities before his Face, if he be but provided with Paper and Implements, and without his Flapper at his fide.

The Wives and Daughters lament their Confinement to the llland, although I think it the moft delicious Spot of Ground in the World; and although they live here in the greateft Plenty and Magnificence, and are allowed to do whatever they pleafe, they long to fee the World, and take the Diverfions of the Metropolis, which they are not allowed to do without a particular Licence from the King; and this is not eafy to be obtained, becaufe the People of Qua* lity have found, by frequent Experience, how hard it is to perfuade their Women to return from below. I was told that a great Court-Lady, who had feveral Children, is married to the Prime Minifter, the richeft Subject in the Kingdom, a very graceful Perfon, extremely, fond of her, and lives in the fineft Palace of the Ifland, went down to Lagado, on the pretence of Health, there hid her felf for feveral Months, till the King fent a Warrant to fearch for her, and fhe was found in an ob-fcure-Eating-houle all in Rags, having pawned her Clothes to maintain an old deformed Footman, who beat her every day, and in whofe Company fhe was taken much againft her Will. And although her Husband received her with all polfible Kindnefs, and without the leaf Reproach, fhe foon after contrived to fteal down again, with all her Jewels, to the fame Gallant, and hath not been heard of fince.

to LAPUTA, E゚c. 33

YOL. II.
D
THIS

34 A Voxage

- THIS may, perhaps, pals with the Reader rather for an European or Eng. liff Story, than for one of a Country fo remote: But he may pleafe to confider, that the Caprices of Womenkind are not limited by any Climate or Nation, and that they are much more uniform than can be eafily imagined.

2. In about a Month's time I had made a tolerable Proficiency in their Language, and was able to anfwer moft of the King's Queftions, when I had the Honour to attend him. His Majefty difcovered not the leaft Curiofity to enquire into the Laws, Government, Hiftory, Religion, or Manners of the Countries where I had been, but confined his Queftions to the State of Mathematicks, and received the Account I gave him, with great Contempt and Indifference, though often rouzed by his Flapper on each fide.

CHAP,

to La APUTA, F'c. 35

C H A P. III.

C) वरू लaboo

A Phanomenon folved by modern Philo${ }^{21}$ fophy and Afronomy. The Laputians great Improvements in the latter. The King's Method of fuppreffing Infurrections.

Defired leave of this Prince to fee the Curiofties of the flaind, which he was graciouny pleafed to grant, and order'd my Tutor to attend me. I chicfly wanted to know to what Caufe in Aft, or in Nature, it owed its feveral Motions, whereof I whill now give a Philofophical Account to the Reader.
The Flying, or Floating Ifland, is exactly circular ; cits Diameter 7837 Yards, or about four Miles and an z2vrog $\mathrm{D}_{2}$ half, half, and confequently contains ten thoufand Acres. It is three hundred Yards thick. The Bottom or UnderSurface, which appears to thofe who view it from below, is one even regular Plate of Adamant, fhooting up to the Height of about two hundred Yards. Above it lie the feveral Minerals in their ufual Order, and over all is a Coat of rich Mould ten or twelve Foot deep. This Declivity of the upper Surface, from the Circumference to the Center, is the natural Caufe why all the Dews and Rains which fall upon the Ifland, are conveyed in fmall Rivulets towards the Middle, where they are emptied into four large Bafons each of about half a Mile in Circuit, and two hundred Yards diftant from the Center. From there Bafons the Water is continually exhated by the Sun in the Day-time, which effectually prevents their over flowing. Befides, as it is in the powet of the Monarch to raife the Iland above the Region of Clouds and $\mathrm{V}_{\mathrm{a}}$.

to LAPUTA, Ěc. 37

pours, he can prevent the falling of Dews and Rains whenever he plèafes : For the higheft Clouds cannot rife above two Miles, as Naturalifts agree, at Jeaft they were never known to do in that Country.

A T the Center of the Ifland there is a Chafm about fifty Yards in Diameter, from whence the Afronomers defeend into a large Dome, which is therefore called Flandona Gagnole, or the Aftronomers Cave, fituated at the depth of a hundred yards beneath the upper Surface of the Adamant. In this Cave are twenty Lamps continually burning, which from the Reflection of the Adamant caft a ftrong Light into every Part. The Place is ftored with great Variety of Sextants, Quadrants, Telefcopes, Aftrolabes, and other Aftronomical Inftruments. But the greateft Curiofity, upon which the Fate of the Ifland depends, is a Load-ftone of a prodigious fize, in frape refembling a Weaver's Shuttle. It D 3 is in Length fix Yards, and in the thickef part at leaft three Yards over. This Magnet is fuftained by a very ftrong Axle of Adamant paffing through its Middte, upon which it plays, and is poized fo exactly, that the weakeft Hand can turn it. It is hooped round with an hollow Cylindér of Adamant, four Foot decp, as many thick, and twelve Yards in Diameter, placed horizontally, and fupported by eight Adamantine Feet, each fix Yards high. In the middle of the concave Side there is a Groove twelve Inches deep, in which the Extremities of the Axle are lodged, and turned round as there is Occafion.

- THE Stone cannot be moved from its Place by any Force, becaule the Hoop and its Feet are one continued Piece with that Body of Adamant, which conftitutes the Bottom of the Mand.
Plate IIII. Part.III.

to LAPUTA, Ecc. 39

By means of this Load-ftone, the Mland is made to rife and fall, and move from one Place to another. For, with refpect to that Part of the Earth over which the Monarch prefides, the Stone is endued at one of its Sides with an attractive Power, and at the other with a repulfive. Upon placing the Magnet crect with its attracting End towards the Earth, the Ifland defcends; but when the repelling Extremity points downwards, the Ifland mounts directly upwards. When the Pofition of the Stone is oblique, the Motion of the Ifland is fo too. For in this Magnet the Forces always act in Lines parallel to its Di rection.

B Y . this oblique Motion the ffand is conveyed to different Parts of the Monarch's Dominions. To explain the manner of its Progrefs, let $A B$ reprefent a Line drawn crofs the Dominions of Balnibarbi, let the Line $c d$ reprefent D 4 the

40 eA VOXAGIE OS

the Load-ftone, of which let $d$ be the repelling End, and $c$ the attracting End; the Ifland being over $C$, let the Stone be placed in the Pofition $c d$, with its repelling End downwards, then the Ifland will be driven upwards obliquely towards $D$. When it is arrived at $\mathcal{D}$, let the Stone be turned upon its Axle till its attracting End points towards $E$, and then the Illand will be carried obliquely towards $E$; where, if the Stone be again turned upon its Axle till it fands in the Pofition $E F$, with its repelling Point downwards, the Inand will rife obliquely towards $F$; where, by directing the attracting End towards $G$, the Inand may be carried to $G$, and from $G$ to $H$, by turning the Stone, fo as to make its repelling Extremity point directly downwards. And thus by changing the Siruation of the Stone as often as there is Occafion, the Illand is made to rife and fall by turns in an oblique Direction; and by thofe alternate Rifings, and Fallings (the Obliquity being not confidera-ble)

to LAPUTA, שׂc. 4

ble) is conveyed from one Part of the Dominions to the other.

Bur it muft be obferved, that this Ifland cannot move beyond the Extent of the Dominions below, nor can it rife above the height of four Miles. For which the Aftronomers (who have written large Syftems concerning the Stone) affign the following Reafon; That the magnetick Virtue does not extend beyond the Diftance of four Miles, and that the Mineral which acts upon the Stone in the Bowels of the Earth, and in the Sea about fix Leagues diftant: from the Shoar; is not diffufed through the whole Globe, but terminated with the Limits of the King's Dominions; and it was eafy from the great Advantage of fuch a fuperior Situation for a Prince to bring under his Obedience. whatever Country lay within the At traction of that Magnet.
 20 sume nillyl 0421 boypuatio W H E N

42 ea Vorace

When the Stonc is put parallel to the Plane of the Horizon, the Ifland flandeth ftill; for in that Cafe, the Extremities of it being at equal diftance from the Earth, act with equal Force; the one in drawing downwards, the other in purhing upwards, and confequently no Motion can enfue.

This Load-fone is under the Care of certain Aftronomers, who from Time to Time give it fuch Pofitions as the Mo. narch directs. They fpend the greateft part of their Lives in obferving the celeftial Bodies, which they do by the affiftance of Glaffes far excelling ours in Goodnefs. For this Advantage hath enabled them to extend the Difcoveries much farther than our Aftronomers in Europe: for they have madea Catalogue of ten thoufand fixed Stars; whereas the largeft of ours do not contain above one third part of that Number. They have likewife difcovered two leffer Stars, or

Satellites,

to LAPUTA, E®c. 43

Satellites, which revolve about Mars, whereof the innermoft is difant from the Center of the primary Planet exactly three of his Diameters, and the outermoft five; the former revolves in the fpace of ten hours, and the latter in twenty one and an half : fo that the Squares of their periodical Times are very near in the fame proportion with the Cubes of their Diftance from the Center of Mars; which evidently fhews. them to be governed by the fame Law of Gravitation, thiat influences the other Heavenly Bodies.

THEY have obferved ninety three different Comets, and fettled their Pe riods with great Exactners. If this be true, (and they affirm it with great Confidence, ) it is much to be wifhed that their Obfervations were made publick, whereby the Theory of Comets, which at prefent is very lame and defective, might be brought to the fame Per-Perfection with other Parts of Afto. nomy.

44 ed Vorage

The King would be the moft abfo. lute Prince in the Univerfe, if he could but prevail on a Miniftry to join with him; but thefe have their Eftates below on the Continent, and confidering that the Office of a Eavourite hath a very uncertain Tenure, would never confent to the enflaving their Country.

If any Town fhould engage in Re . bellion or Mutiny, fall into violent Factions, or refure to pay the ufual Tribute, the King hath two Methods of reducing them to Obedience. The firft and the mildeft Courfe is by keeping the Inland hovering over fuch a Town, and the Lands about it, whereby he can deprive them of the Benefit of the Sun and the Rain, and confequently afllit the Inhabitants with Death and Dif eafes. And if the Crime deferve it, they are at the fame time pelted from above

to E L A P UTA, ${ }^{\circ} \mathrm{c}$ c. 45

with great Stones, againft which they have no Defence but by creeping into Cellars or Caves, while the Roofs of their Houfes are beaten to pieces. But if they ftill continue obftinate, ot offer to raife Infurrections, he proceeds to the laft Remedy, by letting the Ifland drop directly upon their Heads, which makes a univerfal Deftruction both of Houfes and Men. However, this is an Extremity to which the Prince is feldom driven, neither indeed is he willing to put it in execution, nor dare his Minifters advife him to an Action, which, as it would render them odious to the People, fo it would be a great damage to their own Eftates, which lie all below, for the Ifland is the King's Demern.
${ }^{2} \mathrm{BUx}$ there is ftill indeed a more weighty Reafon, why the Kings of this Country have been always averfe from executing fo terrible an Action, unlefs apon the utmoft Neceflity. For if the Town intended to be deftroyed fhould have have in it/any tall Rocks, as it generally falls out in the larger Cities, a Situation probably chofen at firft with a View to prevent fuch a Cataftrophe: or if it abound in high Spires, or Pillars of Stone, a fudden Fall might endanger the Bottom or Under-furface of the Illand; which, although it confifts, as I have faid, of one entire Adamant two hundred Yards thick, might happen to crack by too great a Choque, or burf by approaching too near the Fires from the Houfes below, as the Backs both of Iron and Stone will often do in our Chimneys. Of all this the People are well apprized, and undertand how far to carry their Obftinacy, where their Liberty, or Property is concerned. And the King, when he is higheft provoked, and moft determined to prefs a City to Rubbifh, orders the Illand to defcend with great Gentlenefs, out of a Pretence of Tendernels to his People, but indeed for fear of breaking the Adamantine Bottom; in which Cafe, it is the Opinion of all their

46 vec VoYAGE

$$
\text { to L L A P U T A, Ө'c. } 47
$$

Philofophers, that the Load-ftone could no longer hold it up, and the whole Mars would fall to the ground.

B y a fundamental Law of this Realm, neither the King, nor either of his two elder Sons, are permitted to leave the Ifland; nor the Queen till the is paft Child-bearing.

48 AVOYAGE

C. HAP. IV.

The Autbor leaves Laputa, is conveyd to Balnibarbi, arrives at the Metr. polis. A Defcription of the Metr. polis, and the Country adjoining. The Author hofpitably received by agrea Lord. His Converfation with the Lord.

2ugh in TH OU GH I cannot fay tix I was ill-treated in this Ifland yet I muft confefs I thought mI felf too much neglected, not withou fome degrec of Contempt. For neithe Prince nor People appeared to be curios in any Part of Knowledge, except Matik maticks and Mufick, whercin I was fi their Inferior, and upon that accollis tery little regarded.

to LAPUTA, $\sigma^{\circ} c$. 49

ON the other fide, after having feen all the Curiofities of the Inand, I was very defirous to leave it, being heartily weary of thofe People. They ivere indeed excellent for two Sciences for which I have great efteem, and wherein I am not unverfed; but at the fane time, fo abftracted and involved in Speculation, that I never met with fuch difagreeable Companions. I convers'd only with Women, Tradefmen, Flappers, and Court-Pages, during two Months of my Abode here, by which, at laft, I renderd my felf extremely contemptible ; yet thefe were the only People from whom I could everreceive a reafonable Anfwer.

I had obtained, by hard Study, a good degree of Knowledge in their Language; I was weary of being confined to an Illand where I received fo little Countenance, and refolved to leave it with the firf Opportunity. 2+22 yof mal THERE was a great Lord at Court, nearly related to the King, and for that Fol. II. E reafor
reafon alone ufed with Refpect. He was univerfally reckoned the moft ig. norant and ftupid Perfon among them. He had performed many eminent Services for the Crown, had great natural and acquired Parts, adorned with Integrity and Honour, but fo ill an Ear for Mufick, that his Detractors reported he had been often known to beat Time in the wrong Place; neither could his Tutors, without extreme difficulty, teach him to demonfrate the moft cafy Propofition in the Mathematicks. He was pleafed to fhew me many Marks of Favour, often did me the honour of a Vifit, defired to be informed in the Affairs of Europe, the Laws and Cuftoms,' the Manners and Learning, of the feveral Countries where 1 had travelled. He lifned to me with great Attention, and made very wife Obfervations on all I fpoke. He had two Flappers attending him for State, but never made ufe of them except at. Court, and in Vifits of Ceremony, and would always command them

$$
\text { to LAPUTA, Fc. } 5 \text { I }
$$

them to withdraw when we were alone together.

I intreated this illuftrious Perfon to intercede in my behalf with his Majefty for Leave to depart ; which he accordingly did, as he was pleafed to tell me, with Regret: For, indeed he had made me feveral Offers very advantageous, which however I refufed with Expreffions of the higheft Acknowledgment:

O N the Ioth Day of February I took Leave of his Majefty and the Court. The King made me a Prefent to the value of about two hundred Pounds Englifh, and my Protector his Kinfman as much more, together with a Letter of Recommendation to a Freind of his in Lagado, the Metropolis: The Ifland being then hovering over a Mountain about two Miles from it, I was let down from the loweft Gallery, in the fame manner as I had been taken up.

E 2
THE

PTHe Continent, as far as it is fub. ject to the Monarch of the Flying I/land, pafies under the general Name of Balnibarbi, and the Metropolis, as I faid before, is called Lagado. I felt fome little Satisfaction in finding my felf on firm Ground. I walked to the City without any Concern, being clad like one of the Natives, and fufficiently infirueted to converfe with them. I foon found out the Perfon's Houfe to whom I was recommended, prefented my Letter from his Friend the Grandee in the Illand, and was received with much Kindnefs. This great Lord, whofe Name was Munodi, ordered me an Apartment in his own Houfe, where I continued during my Stay, and was entertained in a mof hofpitable manner.

TH s next Morning after my arrival, he took me in his Chariot to fee the Town, which is about half the bignels of London, but the Houfes very ftrangely built, and mof of them out of Repair.

The

to LAPUTA, E'c. 53

The People in the Streets walked faft, looked wild, their Eyes fixed, and were generally in Rags. We paffed through one of the Town-Gates, and went about three Miles into the Country, where I faw many Labourers working with feveral forts of Tools in the Ground, but was not able to conjecture what they were about; neither did I obferve any Expectation cither of Corn or Grafs, al though the Soil appeared to be excellent. I could not forbear admiring at thefe odd Appearances both in Town and Country, and I made bold to defire my Conductor, that he would be pleafed to explain to me what could be meant by fo many bufy Heads, Hands, and Faces, both in the Strects and the Fields, becaufe 1 did not difcover any good Effects they produced; but on the contrary, I never knew a Soil fo unhappily sultivated, Houfes fo ill contrived, and fo ruinous, or a People whofe Countenances and Habit expreffed fo much Mifery and Want. b)

E 3
THIS

This Lord Munodi was a Perfon of the firft Rank, and had been fome Years Governor of Lagado; but by a Cabal of Minifters was difcharged for Infüfficiency. However, the King treated him with Tendernefs, as a well-meaning Man, but of a low contemptible Underftanding.

3 WhEN I gave that free Cenfure of the Country, and its Inhabitants, he made no further Anfwer than by telling me, that I had not been long enough among them to form a Judgment; and that the different Nations of the World had different Cuftoms, with other common Topicks to the fame purpofe. But when we returned to his Palace, he asked me how I liked the Building, what Abfurdities 1 obferved, and what Quarrel I had with the Drefs and Looks of his Domefticks. This he might fafely do, becaufe every thing about him was magnificent, regular, and polite. I anfwered,

to LAPUTA, छ̋c. 55

rwered, that his Excellency's Prudence, Quality, and Fortune, had exempted him from thofe Defects which Folly and Beggary had produced in others. He faid, if I would go with him to his Country Houre about twenty Miles diftant, where his Eftate lay, there would be more Leifure for this kind of Converfation. Itold his Excellency, that I was entirely at his difpofal; and accordingly we fet out next Morning.

DURING our Journey, he made me obferve the feveral Methods ufed by Farmers in managing their Lands, which to me were wholly unaccountable; for, except in fome very few Places, I could not difcover one Ear of Corn or Blade of Grafs. But, in three hours travelling, the Scene was wholly altered; we came into a mof beautiful Country; Farmers Houfes at fmall diftances, neatly built ; the Fieldsenclofed, containing Vineyards, Corn-grounds and Meadows. Neither do I remember to have feen a E 4 more more delightur Profpect. His Excellency obferved my Countenance to cleaf up; he told me, with a Sigh, that there his Effate began, and would continue the farre till we flould cone to hins Houlf; that his Countrymen ridieuld and defpis'd him for managing his Affairs no better, and for fetting fo iff an Example to the Kingdom, which howeve? was followed by very few, fuch as were old, and wilfal, and weak, like himfelf.

56 DeA Vow AGE U

194P E canic at length to the Houfe; which was indeed a inoble Stricture, built actording to the beff Rules of ancient Architecture. The Fountains, Gardens, Walks, Aventics, and Groves, were all difpofed with exaet Judgment and Tafte. I gave duic Praifes to every thing I faw: whereof his Execllency took not the leaft notice till after Supper, when, there being no thild Companion, he told me' with a very melancholy Air, that he doubted he muft throw down his Honfes in Town and Country,

to LiAPUTA,Gc. 57

Country, to rebuild them after the prefent Mode, deftroy alb his Plantations, and caft others in fach a Form as modern Ufage required, and give the fame Directions to all his Tenants, unlefs he would fubmit to incur the Cenfure of Pride, Singularity, Affectation, Ignorance, Caprice, and perhaps increafe his Majefty's Difpleafure.
3) That the Admiration I appeared to be under, would ceafe or diminifh, when he had informed me of fome Particulars, which, probably, I never heard of at Court; the People there being too much taken up in their own Speculations, to have regard to what paffed here below.

The Sum of his Difcourfe was to this Effect: That about forty Years ago, certain Perfons went up to Laputa, cither upon Bufinefs or Diverfion, and after five Months continuance, came back with a very little Smattering in Mathematicks, maticks, but full of volatile Spirits acquired in that airy Region. That thefe Perfons upon their Return began to diflike the Management of every thing below, and fell into Schemes of putting all Arts, Sciences, Languages, and Mechanicks upon a new foot. To this end, they procured a Royal Patent for erecting an Academy of Projectors in Lagado; and the Humour prevailed fo ftrongly among the People, that there is not a Town of any confequence in the Kingdom without fuch an Academy In thefe colleges, the Profeffors cont trive new Rules and Methods of Agri culture and Building, and new Inftro ments and Tools for all Trades and Manufactures ; whereby, as they under. take, one Man fhall do the Work of ten; a Palace may be built in a Week, of Materials fo durable, as to laft fot ever, withour repairing; all the Fruits of the Earth fhall come to Maturity at whatever Seafon we think fit to chufes and increafe an hundred fold more than they do at prefent, with innumerable other happy Propofals. The only Inconvenience is, that none of thefe Projects are yet brought to Perfection, and in the mean time the whole Country lies miferably wafte, the Houfes in Ruins, and the People without Food or Clothes. By all which, inftead of being difcouraged, they are fifty times more violently bent upon profecuting their Schemes, driven equally on by Hope and Defpair: That as for himfelf, being not of an enterprizing Spirit, he was content to go on in the old Forms, to live in the Houfes his Anceftors had buiit, and act as they did in every part of Life without Innovation: That, fome few other Perfons of Quality and Gentry had done the fame, but were looked on with an Eye of Contempt and ill Will, as Enemies to Art, ignorant and ill Commonwealthfmen, preferring their own Eafe and Sloth before the general Improvement of their Country.

to LAPUTA, ซ゚c. 59

60

H is Lordihip added, that he would not by any further Particulars prevent the Pleafure I fhould certainly take in view. ing the Grand Academy, whither he was refolved I fhould go. He only defired me to obferve a ruined Building upon the fide of a Mountain about three Miles diftant, of which he gave me this Account: That he had a very convenient Mill within half a Mile of his Houle, turned by a Current from a large River, and fufficient for his own Family, as well as a great number of his Tenants: That, about feven Years ago, a Club of thore Projectors came to him with Propofals to deftroy this Mill, and build another on the fide of that Mountain, on the long Ridge whereof a long Canal muft be cut for a Repofi tory of Water, to be conveyed up by Pipes and Engines to fupply the Mill: Becaufe the Wind and Air upon a Height agitated the Water, and thereby made it fitter for Motion; and becaufe the Water defcending down a Declivity, wotld turn the Mill with half the Current of a River whofe Courfe is more upon a Level. He faid, that being then not very well with the Court, and preffed by many of his Friends, he complied with the Propofal ; and, after cmploying an hundred Men for two Years, the Work mifcarried, the Projectors went off, laying the blame entirely upon him, railing at him ever fince, and putting others upon the fame Experiment, with equal Affurance of Succefs, as, well as equal Difappointment.

to LAPUTA, E'c. 61

1. In a few days we came back to Town, and his Excellency, confidering the bad Character he had in the Academy, would not go with me himfelf, but recommended me to a Friend of his to bear me Company thither. My Lord was pleafed to reprefent me as a great Admirer of Projects, and a Perfon of much Curiofity and eafy Belief; which, indeed, was not without Truth, for I had my felf been a fort of Projector in my younger days.

C HAP,

62 ch Voxage 01

C H A P. V.

The Autbor permitted to fee the Grand Academy of Lagado. The Academy largely defcribed. The Arts wherein, the Profeffor semploy themfelves.

HIS Academy is not an entire fingle Building, but a Continuation of feveral Hour fes on both Sides of a Street, which growing wafte, was purchafed and applied to that Ufe.

I was received very kindly by the Warden, and went for many days to the Academy. Every Room hath in it one or more Projectors, and I believel could not be in fewer than five hundred Rooms.

to LAPUTA, ซc. $\sigma_{3}$

fre firt Man I faw was of a meager Afpect, with footy Hands and Face, his Hair and Beard long, ragged and finged in feveral Places: His Clothes, Shirt, and Skin, were all of the fame Colour. He had been eight Years upon a Project for extracting Sun-Beams out of Cucumbers, which were to be put into Vials hermetically fealed, and let out to warm the Air in raw inclement Summers. He told me, he did not doubt in eight Years more, he fhould be able to fupply the Governor's Gardens with Sun-fhine at a reafonable Rate; but he complained that his Stock was low, and intreated me to give him fomething as an Encouragement to Ingenuity, efpecially fince this had been a very dear Seafon for Cucumbers. I made him a fmall Prefent, for my Lord had furnifhed me with Money on purpofe, becaufe he knew their Practice of begging from all who go to fee them.

I went into another Chamber, but was ready to haften back, being almoth overcome with a horrible Stink. My Conductor preffed mie forward, conilu ring me, in a Whifper, to giveno Offence, which would be highly refented, and therefore I durft not fo much as fop my Nofe.- The Projector of this Cell was the moft ancient Student of the Academy: His. Face and Beard were d a pale yellow; his Hands and Clothes dawbed over with Filth. When I ws prefented to him, he gave me a very clofe Enibrace, (a Compliment I could well have excufed.) His Employmen from his firft coming into the A cadenis, was an Operation to reduce human $E x$. erement to its original Food, by feps rating the feveral Parts, removing the Tincture which it receives from the Gall, making the Odour exhale, and fcumming off the Saliva. He had a weekly Allowance from the Society, of a Veffel filled with Human Ordure, aboun the bignefs of a Briftol Barrel.

to LAPUTA, E゚c. 65

Wh faw another at work to calcine Ice into Gun-Powder, who likewife Thewed me a Treatife he had written concerning the Malleability of Fire, which he intended to publifh.

* There was a moft ingenious Architect, whothad contrived a new Method for building Houfes, by beginning at the Roof and working downwards to the Foundation, which he juftified to me by the like Practice of thofe two prudent Infects the Bee and the Spider.

There was a Man born blind, who "had feveral Apprentices in his own Condition: Their Employment was to mix Colours for Painters, which their Mafter taught them to diftinguifh by feeling and fmelling. It was indeed my misfortune to find them at that tinte not very perfect in their Leffons, and the Profeffor himfelf happened to be generally miftaken : This Artift is much encouraged and efteemed by the whole Fraternity. Vol. II. F

IN

In another Apartment I was highly pleared with a Projector, who had found a Device of plowing the Ground with Hogs, to fave the Charges of Plows, Cattle and Labour. The Me thod is this: In an Acre of Ground you bury at fix Inches diftance, and eight deep, a quantity of Acorns, Dates, Chefnuts, and other Mafte or Vegetables, whercof thefe Animals are fondeft : then you drive fix hundred or more of them into the Field, where in a few days they will root up the whole Ground in fearch of their Food, and make it fit for fow ing, at the fame time manuring it with their Dung. It is true, upon Experiment they found the Charge and Trouble very great, and they had little or no Crop: However, it is not doubred that this Invention may be capable of great Improvement.

I went into another Room, where the Walls and Ceiling were all hung round with Cobwebs, except a narrow Paffage

to LAPUTA, G゚c. 67

for the Aitift to go in and out. At my Entrance he calted aloud to me not to difturb his Wcbs. He lamented the fatal Miftake the World had been fo long in, of ufing Silk-Worms, while we had fuch plenty of domettick Infects, who infinitely excelled the former, becaufe they underfood how to weave as well as fpin. And he propofed farther, that by employing Spiders, the Charge of dying Silks fhould be wholly faved, whereof I was fully convinced when he fhewed me a vaft number of Flies moft beautifully coloured, wherewith he fed his Spiders, afturing us, that the Webs would take a Tincture from them; and as he had them of all hues, he hoped to fit cvery body's Fancy, as foon as he could find proper Food for the Flies of certain Gums, Oils, and other glutinous Matter to give a Strength and Confiftence to the Threads.

There was an Aftronomer who had undertaken to place a Sun-Dial upon F 2 the the great Weather-cock on the TownHoufe by adjufting the annual and diurnal Motions of the Earth and Sun, fo as to anfwer and coincide with all accidental Turnings by the Wind.

I was complaining of a fmall Fit of the Cholick, upon which my Conductor led me into a Room, where a great Phyfician refided, who was famous for curing that Difeafe by contrary Operations from the fame Inftrument. He had a large pair of Bellows, with a long flender Muzzle of Ivory. This he conveyed eight Inches up the Anus, and drawing in the Wind, he affirmed he could make the Guts as lank as a dried Bladder. But when the Difeafe was more ftubborn and violent, he let in the Muzzle while the Bellows were full of Wind, which he difcharged into the Body of the Patient, then withdrew the Inftrument to re plenifh it, clapping his Thumb ftrongly againft the Orifice of the Fundament ; and this being repeated three or four times $_{2}$ times, the adventitious Wind would rufh out, bringing the noxious along with it (like Water put into a Pump) and the Patient recover. I faw him try both Expcriments upon a Dog, but could not difcern any Effect from the former. After the latter, the Animal was ready to burf, and made fo violent a Dircharge, as was very offenfive to me and my Companions. The Dog died on the fpot, and we left the Doctor endeavouring to recover him by the fame Operation.

$$
\text { to L LAPUTA, छ'c. } 69
$$

I vifited many other Apartments, but Chall not trouble my Reader with all the Curiofities I obferved, being ftudious of Brevity.

I had hitherto feen only one fide of the Academy, the other being appropriated to the Advancers of fpeculative Learning, of whom I fhall fay fomething when I have mentioned one illuftrious Perfon more, who is called among them

70 © VOYAGE them the univerfal Artift. He told us, he had been thirty Years employing his Thoughts for the Improvement of human Life. He had two large Rooms full of wonderful Curiofities, and fifty Meñ at work. Some were condenfing Air into a dry tangible Subftance, by extracting the Nitre, and letting the aqueous or fluid Particles percolate; others foftening Marble for Pillows and Pincufhions; others petrifying the Hoofs of a living Horfe to preferve them from foundring. The Artif himfelf was at that time bufy upon two great Defigns; the firf to fow Land with Chaff, wherein he affirmed the true feminal Virtueto be contained, as he demonftrated by feveral Experiments, which I was not skilful enough to comprehend. Theother was, by a certain Compofition of Gums, Minerals, and Vegetables outwardly applied, to prevent the Growth of Wool upon two young Lambs; and he hoped in a reafonable time to propagate the Breed of naked Sheep all over the Kingdom.

. to LAPUTA, E゚c. 7 I

W e croffed a Walk to the other part of the Academy, where, as I have a' ready faid, the Projector in fecculative Learning refided.

Abstract

The firft Profefior I faw, was in a very large Room, with forty Pupils about him. After Salutation, obferving me to look earneftly upon a Frame, which took up the greateft part of both the Length and Breadth of the Room, he faid perhaps I might wonder to fee him employed in a Project for improving fpeculative Knowledge by practical and mechanical Operations. But the World would foon be fenfible of its Ufefulacfs, and be flattered himfelf that a more noble exalted Thought never fprung in any other Man's head. Every one knew how laborious the ufual Merhod is of attaining to Arts and Sciences; where. as by his Contrivance, the moft ignorant Perfon at a reafonable Charge, and with a little bodily Labour, may write both in Philofophy, Poctry, Politicks, Law, F 4 Ma-

72 EAVOYAGE
Mathemathicks and Theology, without the leaft Affiftance from Genius or Study. He then led me to the Frame, about the fides whercof all his Pupils ftood in Ranks. It was twenty Foot fquare, placed in the middle of the Room. The Superficies was compofed of feveral bits of Wood, about the big. nefs of a Dye, but fome larger than others. They were all linked together by flender Wires. Thefe bits of Wood were covered on every Square with Papers pafted on them, and on thefe Papers were written all the Words of their Language in their feveral Moods, Tenfes, and Declenfions, but without any Order. The Profeffor then defired me to obferve, for he was going to fet his Engine at work. The Pupils at his command took each of them hold of an Iron Handle, whereof there were forty fixed round the Edges of the Frame; and giving them a fudden turn, the whole Difpofition of the Words was entirely changed. He then commanded

to LAP UTA, ECc. 73

fix and thirty of the Lads to read the feveral Lines foftly as they appeared upon the Frame; and where they found three or four Words together that might make part of a Sentence, they dictated to the four remaining Boys who were Scribes. This Work was repeated three or four times, and at every turn the Engine was fo contrived, that the Words fhifted into new Places, or the fquare bits of Wood moved upfide down.

SIx hours a-day the young Students were employed in this Labour, and the Profeffor fhewed me feveral Volumes in large Folio already collected, of broken Sentences, which he intended to piece together, and out of thofe rich Materials to give the World a compleat Body of all Arts and Sciences; which however might be ftill improved, and much expedited, if the Publick would raife a Fund for making and employing five hundred fuch Frames in Lagado, and oblige the Managers to contribute in in common their feveral Colleati. ons.

74 CA VOYAGE

- He aflured me, that this Invention had employed all his Thoughts from his Youth, that he had employed the whole Vocabulary into his Frame, and made the ftricteft Computation of the general Proportion there is in the Book between the Numbers of Particles, Nouns, and Ye:bs, and other Parts of Speech.

2 I made my humbleft Acknowledg $=$ ment to this illuftrious Perfon for his great Communicativenefs, and promi $=$ fed if ever I had the good fortunc to return to my native Country, that I would do him Juftice, as the fole In venter of this wonderful Machine ; the Form and Contrivance of which I de fred leave to delineate upon Paper as in the Figure here annexed. I told him, although it were the Cuftom of ous Learned in Europe to fteal Inventions from each other, who had thercby at

to LAPUTA, E゚c. 75

leaft this Advantage, that it became a Controverfy which was the right Owner, yet I would take fuch Caution, that he fhould have the Honour entire without a Rival.

W E next went to the School of Language, where three Profeffors fate in Confultation upon improving that of their own Country.

THE firf Project was to fhorten Difcourfe, by cutting Polyfyllables into one, and leaving out Verbs and Participles, becaufe in reality all things imaginable are but Nouns.

The other was a Scheme for entirely abolifhing all Words whatfoever; and this was urged as a great Advantage in point of Health as well as Brevity. For it is plain, that every Word we fpeak is in fome degree a Diminution of our Lungs by Corrofion, and confequently contributes to the fhortning of our Lives. An Expedient was there fore offered, that fince Words are only Names for Things, it would be more convenient for all Men to carry about them, fuch Things as were neceffary to exprefs the particular Bufinefs they are to difcourfe on. And this Invention would certainly have taken place, to the great Eafe as well as Health of the Subject, if the Women in conjunction with the Vulgar and Illiterate had no: threatned to raire a Rebellion, unles they might be allowed the Liberty to fpeak with their Tongues, after the manner of their Anceftors; fuch con flant irreconcilable Enemies to Science are the common Pcople. However, many of the moof Learned and Wile adhere to the New Scheme of exprefling themfelves by Things, which hath only this Inconvenience attending it, that if a Man's Bufinefs be very great, and of various kinds, he muft be obliged in proportion to carry a great Bundle of Things upon his Back, unlefs he can afford ## to LAPUTA, $\mathcal{E}^{\circ} c .77$

76 CA VOXAGE

afford one or two ftrong Servants to attend him. I have often beheld two of thofe Sages almoft finking under the Weight of their Packs, like Pedlers among us; who, when they met in the Streets, would lay down their Loads, open their Saddles, and hold Converfation for an hour together; then put up their Implements, help each other to refume their Burthens, and take their Leave.

B U t for fhort Converfations, a Man may carry Implements in his Pockets and under his Arms, enough to fupply him, and in his Houfe he cannot be at a lofs: Therefore the Room where Company meet who practife this Art, is full of all Things ready at hand, requifte to furnifh Matter of this kind of artificial Converfe.

ANOTHER great Advantage propofed by this Invention, was, that it would ferve as an Univerfal Language to be underfood in all civilized Na tions, tions, whofe Goods and Utenfils aregenerally of the fame kind, or nearly refembling, fo that their Ufes might eafily be comprehended. And the Embafiad dois would be qualified to treat with foreign Princes or Minifters of State, to whofe Tongues they were utter Stran. gers.I was at the Mathematical School, where the Mafter taught his Pupils after a Method fcarce imaginable to us in Europe. The Propofition and Demonftration were fairly written on a thin Wafer, with Ink compofed of a Cephalick Tincture. This the Student was to fwallow upon a fafting Stomach, and for three days following eat no. thing but Bread and Water. As the Wafer digefted, the Tincture mounted to his Brain, bearing the Propofition along with it. But the Succefs hath not hitherto been anfwerable, partly by fome Error in the Quantum or Compofition, and partly by the Perverfenefs of Lads,

78 A VOIAGE

to L A P UTA, ${ }^{\circ} \mathrm{c}$. 79

to whom this Bolus is fo naufeous, that they generally fteal afide, and difcharge it upwards before it can operate ; neither have they been yet perfuaded to ufe fo long an Abftinence as the Prefcription requires.

80. A VOYAGE

stoivainsloy?

> C H A P. VI.

A further Account of the Academs. The Author propofes fome Improve. ments which are bonourably recelved.

N the School of Political Pro. icctors I was but ill entertained, the Profeffors appearing in my Judgment wholly out of their Senfes, which is a Scene that never fails to make me melancholy. Thefe unhappy People were propofing Schemes for perfuading Monarchs to chufe Favourites upon the feore of their Wildom, Capacity and Virtue ; of teaching Minifters to confult the Publick Good; of rewarding Merit, great Abilitice, and eminent Services; of inftructing Princes to know their true Interef by placing

to LAPUTA, छc. 8 s

it on the fame Foundation with that of their People: Of chufing for Employ ments Perfons qualified to exercife them, with many other wild impoflible Chimæras, that never entred before into the heart of Man to conceive, and confirmed in me the old Obfervation, that there is nothing fo extravagant and irrational which fome Philofophers have not maintained for Truth

BUT, however, I fhall fo far do Juftice to this Part of the Academy, as to acknowledge that all of them were not fo vifionary. There was a moft Ingenious Doctor who feemed to be perfectly verfed in the whole Nature and Syftem of Government. This illuftrious Perfon had very ufefully employed his Studies in finding out effectual Remedys for all Difeafes and Corruptions, to which the feveral kinds of publick Adminiftration are fubject by the Vices or Infiumities of thofe who govern, as well as by the LicentioufISOL. II.

G
nefs

82© $A$ VIIAGE nefs of thofe who are to obey. For inflance ; whereas all Writers and Reafoners have agreed, that there is a frita univerfal Refemblance between the $\mathrm{N}_{2}$ tural and the Political Body; can there be any thing more evident, than that the Health of both muft be preferved, and the Difeafes cured by the fame Prefeription? It is allowed, that/Senates and great Councils are often troubled with redundant, ebullient, and other peecant Humours, with many Difeafes of the Head and more of the Heart; with ftrong Convulfions, with grievous Contractions of the Nerves and Sinews in both Hands, but efpecially the Right; with Spleen, Flatus, Vertigos and Deliriums; with Scrophulous Tumors full of foetid purulent Matter; with fower frothy Ructations, with Canine Appetites and Crudenefs of Digeftion, befides many others needlels to mentions This Doctor therefore propofed, that upon the meeting of a Sonate, certain Phyficians fhould attend

to L-A PUTA, Eֹc. $8 \mathbf{3}$

at the three firt Days of their fitting; and at the Clofe of each Day's Debate, feel the Pulfe of every Senator; after which, having maturely confider'd, and confulted upon the Nature of the feveral Maladies, and the Method of Cure, they fhould, on the fourth Day, return to the Serate-Houfe, attended by their Apothecaries, fored with proper Medicines; and before the Members fate, adminifter to each of them Lenitives, Aperitives, Abfterfives, Corrofives, Reftringents, Palliatives, Laxatives, Cephalalgicks, IAtericks, Apophlegmaticks, Acouticks, as their feveral Cafes required; and according as thefe Medicines fhould operate, repeat, alter, or omit them at the next Meeting.

- This Project could not be of any great Expence to the Publick, and would, in my poor Opinion, be of much Ule for the difpatch of Bufinefs in thofe Countries where Senates have any fhare in the Legiflative Power, beget Unanimity, fhorten Debates, open a few Mouths G 2
whic

which are now clofed, and clofe many more which are now open; curb the Petulancy of the Young, and correct the Pofitivenefs of the Old ; roufe the Stupid, and damp the Pert.

Again, Becaufe it is a general Com. plaint that the Favourites of Princes are troubled with fhort and weak Memories; the fame Doctor propofed, that whoever attended a Firft Minifter, after having told his buffnefs with the utmot Brevity, and in the plaineft Words; fhould at his departure give the faid Minifter a Tweak by the Nofe, or a Kick in the Belly, or tread on his Corns, or lug him thrice by both Ears, or run a Pin into his Breech, or pinch his Arm black and blue, to prevent Forgetfulnefs: and at every Levée Day repeat the fame Operation, till the Bufines were donc or abfolutely refufed.

He likewife directed, that every Senator in the great Council of a Nation, after

to LAPUTA, E゚c. 85

after he had delivered his Opinion, and argued in the defence of it, fhould be obliged to give his Vote directly contrary; becaufe if that were done, the Refult would infallibly terminate in the Good of the Publick.

When Parties in a State are violent, he offered a wonderful Contrivance to reconcile them. The Method is this: You take an hundred Leaders of each Party, you difpofe of them into Couples of fuch whore Heads are neareft of a fize ; then let two nice Operators faw off the Occiput of each Couple at the fame time, in fuch a manner that the Brain may be equally divided. Let the Occiputs thus cut off be interchanged, applying each to the Head of his oppofite Party-man. It feems indeed to be a Work that requireth fome exactnefs, but the Profeffor aflured us, that if it were dextroully performed, the Cure would be infallible. For he argued thus; that the two half Brains being left to debate G 3
the
the Matter between themfelves within the fpace of one Scull, would foon come to a good Underftanding, and produce that Moderation as well as Regularity of Thinking, fo much to be wifh'd for in the Heads of thofe, who imagine they come into the World only to watch and govern its Motion : And as to the difference of Brains in Quantity or Quality, among thofe who are Directors in Faction; the Doctor affured us from his own knowledge, that it was a perfect Trifle.

I heard a very warm Debate between two Profeffors, about the mof commodious and effectual Ways and Means of raifing Moncy without gricving the Subjeet. The firf affirmed the juftet Method would be to lay a certain Tax upon Vices and Folly, and the Sum fixed upon every Man, to be rated after the faireft manner by a Jury of his Neighbours. The fecond was of an Opinion directly contrary, to tax thofe

to LAPUTA, Ecc. 87

Qualities of Body and Mind for which Men chiefly yalue themfelves, the Rate to be more or lefs according to the Degrees of excelling, the Decifion whereof fhould be left entirely to their own Breaft. The higheft Tax was upon Men, who are the greatef Favourites of the other Scx, and the Affeffments according to the Number and Natures of the Favours they have received; for which they are allowed to be their own Vouchers. Wit, Valour, and Politenefs, were likewife propofed to be largely taxed, and collected in the fame manner, by every Perfon's giving his own. Word for the Quantum of what he poffeffed. But as to Honour, Juftice, Wifdom and Learning, they fhould notbe taxed at all, becaufe they are Qualifications of fo fingular a kind, that no Man will either allow them in his Neighbour, or value them in himfelf.

- The Women were propofed to be taxed according to their Beauty and G 4 Skill

88 cA Voyace
skill in Drefling, wherein they had the fame Privilege with the Men, to be determined by their own Judgment. But Conftancy, Chaftity, good Senfe, and good Nature, were not rated, becaure they would not bear the Charge of Collecting,

To keep Senators in the Intereft of the Crown, it was propofed that the Members fhould raffle for Employments, every Man firft taking an Oath, and giving Security that he would Vote for the Court, whether he won or no, after which the Lofers had in their turn the liberty of Raffling upon the next Vacancy. Thus Hope and Expectation would be kept alive, none would complain of broken Promifes, but imputo their Difappointments wholly to Fortune, whofe Shoulders are broader and ftronger than thofe of a Miniftry.

Another Profeffor fhewed me a large Paper of Inftructions, for difcovering

to LAPUTA, Goc. 89

 ing Plots and Confpiracies againft the Governments. He advifed great Statefmen to examine into the Dyet of all fufpected Perfons ; their times of eating; upon which fide they lay in Bed; with which Hand they wiped their Pofteriors; take a ftrict View of their Excrements, and from the Colour, the Odour, the Tafte, the Confiftence, the Crudenefs, or Maturity of Digeftion, form a Judgment of their Thoughts and Defigns : Becaufe Men are never fo Serious, Thoughtful, and Intent, as when they are at Stool, which he found by frequent Experiment. For in fuch Conjunctures, when he ufed meerly as a Trial to confider which was the beft way of murdering the King, his Ordure would have a Tincture of Green, but quite different when he thought only of raifing an Infurrection or burning the Metropolis.The whole Difcourfe was written with great Acutenefs, containing many Obfer-

90 eAVotAG

Obfervations both curious and ufeful for Politicians, but as I conceived not altogether compleat. This I ventured to tell the Author, and offered if he pleafed to fupply him with fome Additions. He received my Propofition with more Compliance than is ufual among Writers, efpecially thofe of the projecting Species, profeffing he would be glad to receive farther Information.

I told him, that fhould I happen to live in a Kingdom where Plots and Confpiracies were either in vogue from the turbulency of the meaner People, or could be turned to the ufe and fervice of the higher Rank of them, I firft would take care to cherifh and encourage the Breed of Difcoverers, Witneffes, Informers, Accufers, Profecutors, Evidences, Swearers, together with their feveral fubfervient and fubaltern Inftruments; and when I had got a competent Number of them of all forts and capacities, I would put them under the colour and conduct of fome dextrous

to LAPUTA, E'c. 9 I

dextrous Perfons in fufficient Power both to protect and reward them. Men thus qualified, and thus empowered, might make a mof excellent Ufe and advantage of Plots; they might raife their own Characters, and pafs for moft profound Politicians: they might reftore new Vigor to a crazy Adminiftration ; they might ftifle or divert general Difcontents ; fill their Pockets with Forfeitures; and advance or fink the Opinion of Publick Credit, as either might anfwer their private Advantage. This might be done by firt agreeing and fettling among themfelves what fufpected Perfons fhould be accufed of a Plot. Then effectual care is taken to fecure all their Letters and Papers, and put the Criminal in fafe and fecure Cuftody. Thefe Papers might be deliver'd to a Sett of Artifts, of Dexterity fufficient to: find out the myfterious Meanings of Words, Syllables, and Letters. They, fhould be allowed to put what Interpretation they pleafed upon them, giving them a Senfe not only which has no relation at all to them, but even what is quite contrary to their true Intent and real Meaning; thus, for inftance, they may, if they fo fancy, interpret a Sieve to fignify a Court-Lady, a lame Dog an Invader, the Plague a ftand. ing Army, a Buzzard a great Statefman, the Gout a High Prieft, a Chamber-pot a Committee of Grandees, a Broom a Revo. lution, a Moufe-trap an Employment, a Bottomless-pit a Treafury, a Sink a Court, a Cap and Bells a Favourite, a broken Reed a Court of Juftice, an empty Tiun a General, a running Sore an Admini. fration.

$9^{2}$ cA Vorage

BUT fhould this Method fail, recourfe might be had to others more effectual, by Learned Men called Acrofticks and Anagrams. Firf, might be found Men of Skill and Penetration who can difcern that all initial Letters have political Meanings. Thus $N$ fhall fignify a Plot,

to LAPUTA, $\sigma^{\circ} c .93$

Plot, $B$ a Regiment of Horfe, $L$ a Fleet at Sea. Or fecondly, by tranfpofing the Letters of the Alphabet in any furpected Paper, who can difcover the deepeft Defigns of a difcontented Party. So for example, if I fhould fay in a Letter to a Friend, Our Brother Tom bas juft got the Piles, a Man of Skill in this Art would difeover how the fame Letters which compofe that Sentence, may be analyfed into the following Words; Reffl a Plot is brought Home -The Tour. And this is the Anagrammatick Method.

The Profeffor made me great Acknowledgments for communicating thefe Ob fervations, and promifed to make honourable mention of me in his Treatife.

I faw nothing in this Country that could invite me to a longer Continuance, and began to think of returning home to England.

CHAP.

94 © $A$ VOYAGE

$\qquad$

S. CH H P. V.

The Author leaves Lagado, arrives at Thaldonada. No Ship ready. He takes a fhort Voyage to Glubbdub. drib. His Reception by the Governor:

2 2 varut HE Continent of which this
T Kingdom was a part, extends it felf, as I have reafon to be lieve, Eaftward to that unknown Tract of America, Weftwardos Califorvia, and North to the Pacifick Ocean, which is not above a hundred and fifty Miles from Lagado, where there is a good Port, and much Com. merce with the great Ifland of Luggnagg, fituated to the North-Weft about 29 Degrees North Latitude, and 140 Long. tude. This Illand of Luggnagg ftands &1 & 813 South

$$
\text { to } \mathrm{LA} \mathrm{APU} \mathrm{~T} / \mathrm{A}, \text { छr}^{\circ} \mathrm{c} .95
$$

South-Eaftwards of Japan about an hundred Leagues diftant. There is a frict Alliance between the Fapanefe Emperor and the King of Luggnagg, which affords frequent Opportunities of failing from one Hland, to the other. I determined therefore to direet my Courfe this way, in order to my return to Europe. Ihired two Mules with a Guide to fhew me the way, and carry my fmall Baggage. I took leave of my noble Protector, who had fhewn me fo much Favour, and made me a generous Prefent at my departure. $\qquad$ ai Sf : lultinit Wbamsums bun
My Journey was without any Accident of Adventure worth relating. When I arrived at the Port of Maldonada, (for fo it is called) there was no Ship in the Harbour bound for Luggnagg, nor like to be in fome time. The Town is about as large as Portfmouth. I foon fell into fome Acquaintance, and was very hofpitably. received. A Gentleman of Diftinction faid to me thar

a VOYAGE

that fince the Ships bound for Luggnagg could not be ready in lefs than a Month, it might be no difagreeable Amufement for me to take a Trip to the little Ifland of Glubbdubdribb, about five Leagues off to the South-Went. He offered himfelf and a Friend to accompany me, and that I fhould be provided with a fmall con: venient Barque for the Voyage.

- GLUBBDUBD $R I B B$, as nearly as I can interpret the Word, fignifies the Illand of Sorcerers or Magicians. It is about one third as large as the fle of Wight, and extremely fruitful: It is governed by the Head of a certain Tribe, who are all. Magicians. This Tribe marries only among each other, and the eldeft in Succeffion is Prince or Gorernor. He hath a noble Palace, and a Park of about three thoufand Acres, furrounded by a Wall of hewn Stone twenty Foot high. In this Park are fe. veral fmaller Inclofures for Cattle, Corn, and Gardening.

to LAPUTA, ซ゙c. 97

 THe Governor and his Family are ferved and attended by Domefticks of a kind fomewhat unufual. By his skill in Necromancy, he hath a Power of calling whom he pleafeth from the Dead, and commanding their Service for twenty-four hours, but no longer; nor can he call the fame Perfons up again in lefs than three Months, except upon yery extraordinary occafions.When we arvived at the IMand, which was about cleven in the Morning, one of the Gentlemen who accompanied me, went to the Governor, and defired admittance forla Stranger, who came on purpofe to have the honout of attending on his Highnes This awas immediately granted, and we all three enter'd the Gate of the Palace between two Rows of Guards, armed and dreffed after a very antick manner, and fomething in theis Countenances that made my Flefh creep with a Horror I cannot exprefs We paffed VOL, II.
through

28LeA, VaxAGE OI through feveral Apartments between Servants of the fame fort, ranked on eadh fide as before, till we came to the Cham: ber of Prefence, where, after three profound Obeyfancess and a few general Qincfions, we were permitted to fit on three-Stools near the loweft Step of his Highnefs's Throne. He undeffood the Language of Batnibarbi, although it wers different from that of his Inland He defired me to give him fome account of miny Travels; and to tet me fee that 1 fhould be treated without Ceremony; he difmified all his Attendants with a tura of his Finger; at which, to my great aftoniffument, they vanifhed in an In ftant, Ilike Vifions in a Dream, when we awake on a fudden. I could not Yecover my felf in fome time till the Governor afliured me that II fhould if scive no hurt ; and obferving my two Cont panions to be under no Concern, who had been often entertained in the fame manner, I began to take couragg and related to his Highnefs a fhort $\mathrm{H}:$ nory

to LJA P UTVA, G"c. 99

flory of my feveral Adventares, yet not without fome hefitation, and frequently looking behind me to the place where I had feen thofe Domeftick Speotres. I had the honour to dine with the Governor, where a newlinset of Ghofts ferved up the Meat, and waited at Table. Inow obrerved mifelf to belefs terfified than I had been in the Morning. Iftad tidfosun-fee, blit humbly defired his Highners to exeufe me for not accepting of tris Invitation of lodgingin the Palace. My two Friends and I lay at a private Houfe in the Town adjoining, which is the Capital of this little Ifland; and the next Morning we returned to pay our Duty to the Governor, as he was pleafed to command us: burwyg of tat axmigili ald of arerme AFTER this manner we continued in the Ifland for ten days, moft part oflevery day with the Governor, andrat Night in our Lodging. I foon grewo fo familiariz'd to the fight of Spinits, that after the third or fourth time they gave ad H 2 me

100 © V OYAGE

 me no Emotion at all ; or if I had any Apprehenfions left, my Curiofity pre vailed over them. For his Highnefthe Governor ordered me to call up whaterer Perfons I would chufe to name, and in whatever Numbers, among all the Dead from the beginning of the Word to the prefent time; and command them to anfwer any Quentions I fhould think fit to ask ; with this condition, that my Queftions muft be confined within the compafs of the Times they lived in. And one thing I might depend upon, that they would certainly tell me truth, for Lying was a Talent of no ufe in the lower World.1 made my humble Acknowledge ments to his Highnefs for fo great : Favour. We were in a Chamber, from whence there was a fair Profpect into the Park. And becaufe my firft Inclind: tion was to be entertained with Scens of Pomp and Magnificence, I defired to fee Alexander the Great, at the headof

to LAPUTA, E̋c. ICI

his Army juft after the Battle of Arbela; which upon a Motion of the Governor's Finger immediately appeared in a large Field under the Window, where we ftood. Alexander was called up in the Room: It was with great difficulty that I underftood his Greek, and had but little of my own. He affured me upon his Honour that he was not poifoned, but died of a Fever by exceffive Drinking.

NExTI faw Hanibal paffing the Alps, who told me he had not a drop of Vinegar in his Camp.

I faw Cafar and Pompey at the head of their Troops juft ready ro engage. I faw the former in his laft great Triumph. I defired that the Senate of Rome might appear before me in one large Chamber, and an Affembly of fomewhat a latter Age, in Counterview in another. The firt feemed to be an Affembly of Heroes and Demy-Gods: H 3
the

IO2 $3 A_{, ~ A V I X A G E ~ o f ~}^{\text {a }}$

the other an Rnoe of Pedlars，Pick－poc－ kets，Highway men and Bullies．

2JI 日e Governor at my Requeft gave the Sign for Cx far and Brutus to add vance towaids us．iI was ftruck with a profound $\sqrt{ }$ veneration at the fight of Bruptus，and could eafily odifcover the thoft conftrmmate Virtue，thergieateft Intrepidity，and Firmnefs of Mind，the trucft Love of his Country，and general Bencvolence for Mankind in every Line－ amient of his Cd aitenance．II obferved withi much quleafure，that thefe two Per fons were in good Intelligence with each other，and Cefar freely confeffed to me，that the greateft Actions of his －own life were not equal by many adegrees to the Glory of taking it away． 27 had the honoun to have much Cor－ sverfation with Brutus；and was told What his Antecfors Yunius，Socrates，Eph एminondas，Cato the Younger，Sir Thomas ${ }^{21}$ More and himfelf，iwere perpetnally to ：gefher ：a Slexthunvevate to ivhich all the श⿳亠丷厂⿰㇒⿻土一⿱⿴囗⿱一一八刂土 Age

to L A P U T A, Esc. 103

Ages of, the World cannot add a $\mathrm{Se}^{-}$ venth.

Ir would be tedious to trouble the Reader with relating what vaft Numbers of illuftrious Perfons were called up, to gratify that infatiable Defre I had to fee the World in every Period of Antiquity placed before me. I chiefly fed mine Eyes with beholding the Deftroyers of Tyrants and Ufurpers, and the Reftorers of Liberty to oppreffed and injured Nations. But it is impoffible to exprefs the Satisfaction I received in my Oivn Mind, after fich a manner as 10 make it a fuitable Entertainment to the Reader.

104 ca VOYAGEOt

itnA 70 boiso $q$ verove
CHAP. VIII.
A further Account of Glubbdubdrib. buantient and Madern Hiftory cor orcecked.

AVING a defre to fee thote Ancients, jiwho were moft renowned for Wit and Learning, I fet apart one Day on purpofe. I propofed that Honmer and Ariftotle might appear at the head of all their Commentators ; but thefe were 1o numerous, that fome hundreds were forced to attend in the Court, and outward Rooms of the Palace. I knew and could diftinguifh thofe two Heroes at 4 AH3 a H firt

to LAPUTA, $\sigma^{\circ}$ c. 105

firft fight, not only from the Croud, but from each other. Homer was the taller and comelier Perfon of the two, walked very erect for one of his Age, and his Eyes were the moft quick and piercing I ever beheld. Arifotle ftooped much, and made ufe of a Staff. His Vifage was meager, his Hair lank and thin, and his Voice hollow. I foon difcovered that both of them were perfect Strangers to the reft of the Company, and had never feen or heard of them before. And I had a Whifper from a Ghoft, who fhall be namelefs, that thefe Commentators always kept in the moft diftant Quarters from their Principals in the lower World, through a Confciouf nefs of Shame and Guilt, becaufe they chad fo horribly mifreprefented the Mean--ing of thofe Authors to Pofterity. I introduced Didymus and Euftathius to Homer, and prevailed on him to treat them better than perhaps they deferved; for he foon found they wanted a Gcmius to enter into the Spirit of a Poet.

$1 \mathrm{C} 6.2 \mathrm{~A} / \mathrm{ATHAGE}$.

But Arifotle was out of all patience with the account I gave him of Scotus and Ramus, as I prefented them to him; and heasked them, whether the reft of the Tribe were as great Dunces as themfolves.
I. then defixed the Governor to call up Defcartes and Gaffendi, with whom I prevailed to explain their Syftem to Arifotle. This great Philofopher free Iy acknowledged his own Miftakes in Natural Philofophy, becaufe he proceeded in many things upon Conjecture, as all Men muft do; and he found, that Gaffendi, who had made the Doctrine of Epicurus as palatable as he could, and the Tortices of Defcartes were equally exploded. He predicted the fame Fate to Attractions whereaf the prefent Learned are fachzéblous Affertors. He faid, that new Syfems of Nature were but new Fathions, which would vary in every Age: and even thore who pretend to demonftrate them from Mathematical

to LAP UTA, ©゚c. 107

Principles, would flourifh but a fhort Period of time, and be out of vogue when that was determined.

I I feent five days in converfing with many others of the antient Learned. I faw moft of the firt Rom an Emperors. I prevailed on the Governor to call up Eliogabalus's Cooks to dref's us a Dinner, but they could not fhew uis much of their Skill, for want of Materials. A Helot of Ageflaus made us a Difh of Spartan Broth, but I was not able to get down a fecond Spoonful.

ait Thetwo Gentlemen who conducted me to the Ifland, were preffed by their private Affairs to return in three days, which I employed in feeing fome of the modern Dead, who had made the greateft Figure for two or three hundred Qears paft in our own and other Countries of Europe; and having been always a great Admirer of old illuftrious Families, I defired the Governor would call up a dozen or two of Kings with their Anceftors in order for eight or nine Generations. But my Difappointment was grievous and unexpected. For inftead of a long train with Royal Diadems, I faw in one Family two Fidlers, three fruce Courtiers, and an Italian Prelate. In another a Barber, an Abbot, and two Cardinals I have too great a Venera. tion for Crowned Heads to divell any longer onso nice a Subject. But as to Counts, Marqueffes, Dukes, Earls, and the like, I was not fo frupulous, And I confefs it was not without fome plea. fure that I found my felf able to trace the particular Eeatures, by which certain Families are diftinguifhed, up to theit Originals. I could plainly difcover from whence one Family derives a long Chin, why ai fecond hath abounded with Knaves for two Generations, and Fools for two more; why a third happened to be crack-brained, and a fourth to be Sharpers. Whence it came what Poly. dore Kirgil fays of a certain:great Houfe, Nef

IC8 A VOTIA/G E

to LAP UTA, Erc. I09

 Nec Vir fortis, nec Fcemina cafta. How Cruelty, Falfiood, and Cowardice grew to be Characterifticks by which certain Familics are diftinguifhed as much as by their Coat of Arms Who firft brought the Pox into a noble Houfe, which hath lineally defcended in ferophulous Tumours to their Pofterity. Neither could I wonder at all this, when I faw fuch an Interruption of Lineages by Pages, Lacqueys, Valets, Coachmen, Gamefters, Captains, and Pick-pockets.I was chiefly difgufted with modern Hiftory. For having ftrictly examined all the Perfons of greateft Name in the Courts of Princes for an hundred Years paft, I found how the World had been mifled by proftitute Writers, to afcribe. the greatef Exploits in War to Cowards, the wifeft Counfel to Fools, Sincerity to Flatterers, Roman Virtue to Betrayers of their Country, Piety to Atheifts, ChaAity to Sodomites, Truth to Informers. How many innocent and excellent Perfons fons had been codemned to Death or Banifhment, by the practifing of great Minifters upon the Corruption of Judges, and the Malice of Faction. How many Villains had been exalted to the highet Places of Truft, Power, Dignity, and Profit: How great a fhare in the Mo. tions and Events of Courts, Councils, and Senates Imight be challenged by Bawds, Whores, Pimps, Parafites, and Buffoons: How low an opinion I had of human Wifdom and Integrity, when I was truly informed of the Springs and Motives of great Enterprizes and Revolutions in the World, and of the contemptible Accidents to which they owed their Suceefs.

110 CA VOXAGE

- Here I difcovered the Roguery and Ignorance of thofe who pretend to write Anecdotes, or fecret Hiftory, who fond fo many Kings to their Grates with a Cup of Poifon; will repeat the Difcourfe between a Prince and Chicf -Minifter, where no Witnefs was by;

to 工APUTA, E'c. III

unlock the Thoughts and Cabinets of Embafladors and Secretaries of State, and have the perpetual misfortune to be miftakent: Here I difcovered the fecret Caufes of many great Events that have furprized the World, how a Whore can govern the Back-flairs, the Backftairs a Council, and the Council a Senate. A General confefled in my prefence, that he got a vietory purely by the force of Cowardice and ill Condict; and ani Admiral, that for want of proper ${ }^{3}$ Intelligence, the beat the Enemy to when he intended to betray the Flect. Three Kings protefted to me, that in their whole Reigins they did never once prefer any Perfon of Merit, unles by Miftake, or Treachery of fome Minifte: in whom they confided : Neither would they do it, if they were to live again; and they flewed with great ftrength of Reafon, that the Royal Throne could not be fupported without Corruption, becaufe that pofitive, confident, fenive Temper, which which Virtue infufed into Man, was a perpetual Clog to Publick Bufninefs.

II2 CANOXAGE

I had the Curiofity to enquire in a particular manner, by what method great numbers had procured to themfelves high Titles of Honour, and prodigious Eflates; and I confined my Enquiry to a very modern Period: However, without grating upon prefent Times, becaufe I would be fure to give no Offence even to Foreigners, (for 1 hope the Reader need not be told, that I do not in the leaft intend my own Country in what I fay upon this occafion) a great number of Perfons concerned were called up, and upon a very flight Examination, difcover'd fuch a Scene of Infamy, that I cannot reflect upon it without fome Serioufnefs. Perjury, Oppreffion, Subor: nation, Fraud, Pandarifin, and the like Infirmities were amongt the moft exclufable Arts they had to mention, and for thefe I gave, as it was reafonable, great allowance. But when fome confefied they

to LAPUTA, G2c. 113

they owed their Greatnefs and Wealth to Sodamy or Inceft, others to the proftituting of their own Wives and Daughters ; others to the betraying their Country or their Prince ; fome to Poifoning, more to the perverting of Juftice in order to deftroy the innocent: I hope I may be pardoned if thefe Difcoveries inclined me a little to abate of that profound Veneration which I am naturally apt to pay to Perfons of high Rank, who ought to be treated with the utmoft Refpect due to their fublime Dignity, by us their Inferiors.

I had often read of fome great Services done to Princes and States, and defired to fee the Perfons by whom thofe Services were performed. Upon enquiry I was told that their Names were to be found on no Record, except a few of them whom Hiftory hath reprefented as the yileft Rogues and Traitors. As to the reft, I had never once heard of them. They all appeared with dejected Looks, and Vol. II,
in

if $\mathcal{A} \mathrm{VOYAGE}$

in the meaneft Habit, mof of them tefling me they died in Poverty and Dif. grace, and the reft on a Scaffold or a Gibbet.

Thell or अriol

2. MONG the reft, there was one Perfon whore Cafe appeared a little fingu: lar. He had a Youth about eighteen Years old ftanding by his fide. He told me he had for many Years been Commander of a Ship, and in the Sea-Fight at ADtium, had the good fortune to break through the Enemy's great Line of Battle, fink three of their Capital Ships, and take a fourth, which was the fole Caule of Anthony's Flight, and of the Vietory that cafued ; that the Youth ftanding by him, his only Son, was killed in the Action. He added, that upon the Confidence of fome Merith this War being at an ead, he went to Rome, and folicited at the Court of Als. guftus to be preferred to a greater Ship, whofe Commander had been killed; but without any regard to his Pretenfions

to LAP UUTVA, E゚c. IIs

it was given to a Youthe who had never feen the Sea, the Son of Libertina, who waited on one of the Emperor's Miftreffes. Returning back to his own Veffels, he was charged with neglect of Duty, and the Ship given to a Favourite Page of Publicola the Vice-Admiral; whereupon he retired to a poor Farm at a great diftance from Rome, and there ended his Life. I was fo curious to know the truth of this Story, that I defired Agrippa might be called, who was A dmiral in that Fight. He appeared, and confirmed the whole Account, but with much more advantage to the Captain, whofe Modefty had extenuated or concealed a great part of his Merit.

I was furprized to find Corruption grown fo high and fo quick in that Empire, by the force of Luxury fo lately introduced, which made me lefs wonder at many parallel Cafes in other Countries, where Vices of all kinds have reigned fo much longer, and where the whole

116 $A$ Voiage

Praife as well as Pillage hath been ens groffed by the chief Commander, who perhaps had the leaft Title to either.

A s every Perfon called up made exactly the fame appearance he had done in the World, it gave me melancholy Reflections to obferve how much the Race of human kind was degenerated among us, within thefe hundred Years paft. How the Pox under all its Confequences and Denominations had altered every Lineament of an Englifb Countenance, fhortned the Size of Bodies, unbraced the Nerves, relaxed the Sinews and Mufcles, introduced 2 fallow Complexion, and rendered the Flefh loofe and Rancid.

I defcended fo low, as to defire that fome Englifh Yeomen of the old ftamp, might be fummoned to appear, once fo famous for the Simplicity of their Manners, Dyet and Drefs, for Juftice in their Dealings, for their true Spirit of Liberty,

to LAPUTA, G゚c. 117

for their Valour and Love of their Country, Neither could I be wholly unmov'd after comparing the Living with the Dead, when I confidered how all thefe pure native Virtues were proftituted for a piece of Money by their Grand-children, who in felling their Votes, and managing at Elections, have acquired every Vice and Corruption that can poffibly be learned in a Court.

II8 . $C A$ Vioriag e ot

207 bautinlo C H A P. IX .

- Iirlo-brispi gisnis yd venoll 20 spaif

The Author's Return to Maldonada Sails to the Kingdom of Luggnagg. The Autbor confined. He is fent for to Court. The manner of bis Admittance. The King's great Le nity to bis Subjects.

(2aramo
H E Day of our Departure being come, I took leave of his Highnefs the Governor of Glubbedubdribb, and returned with my two Companions to Maldorrada, where after a Fortnight's waiting a Ship was ready to fail for Luggnagg. The two Gentle men and fome others were fo generous and kind as to furnifh me with Provi: fions, and fee me on board. I was a Month in this Voyage. We had one violent Storm, and were under a necefili-

to LAPUTA, E®c. 119

ry of fteering Weftward to get into the Trade-Wind, which holds for above fixty Leagues. On the 2 Ift of April, 17 II. we failed in the River Clumegnig, which. is a Sea-port Town, at the South-Eaft Point of Luggnagg. We caft Anchor within a League of the Town, and madea Signal for a Pilot. Two of them cameon board in lefs than half an hour, by whom we were guided between certain Shoals and Rocks which are very dangerous in a Paffage to a large Bafin, where a Fleet may ride in fafety within a Cable's length of the Town-Wall.

Some of our Sailors, whether out of Treachery or Inadvertence, had informed the Pilots that I was a Stranger and a great Traveller, whereof thefe gave notice to a Cuftom-Houfe Officer, by whom I was examined very ftrictly upon my landing. This Officer fpoke to me in the Language of Balnibarbi, which by the force of much Commerce is genesally underfood in that Town, efpeci14 ally ally by Sea-men, and thofe employed in the Cuftoms. I gave him a fhort Ac. count of fome Particulars, and made my Story as plaufible and confitent as I could ; but I thought it neceffary to dif. guife my Country, and call my felf an Hollander, becaufe my Intentions were for Fapan, and I knew the Dutch were the only Europeans permitted to enter into that Kingdom. I therefore told the Officer, that having been fhipwrecked on the Coaft of Balnibarbi, and caft on a Rock, I was received up into Ler puta, or the flying Ifland (of which he had often heard) and was now endeavouring to get to fapan, from whence I might find a Convenience of returning to my own Country. The Officer faid, ! muft be confined till he could receive Orders from Court, for which he would write immediately, and hoped to receive an Anfwer in a fortnight. I was carried to a convenient Lodging, with a Centry placed at the Door; however, I had the liberty of a large Garden, and was trea-

120

to. LAPUTA, $\mathcal{E}^{\circ} c$. 12 I

ted with Humanity enough, being maintained all the time at the King's charge. I was invited by feveral Perfons, chiefly out of Curiofity, becaufe it was reported that I came from Countries very remote, of which they never heard.

I hired a young Man, who came in the fame Ship, to be an Interpreter; he was a Native of Luggnagg, but had lived fome Years at Maldonada, and was a perfect Mafter of both Languages. By his affiftance I was able to hold a Converfation with thofe who came to vifit me; but this confifted only of their Queftions, and my Anfwers.

The Difpatch came from Court about the time we expected. It contain'd a Warrant for conducting me and my Retinue to Traldragdubh or Trildrogdrib, for it is pronounced both ways as near as I can remember, by a party of ten Horfe. All my Retinue was that poor Lad for an Interpreter, whom I perfuaded ded into my Service, and at my humble Requeff, we had each of us a Mule to ride on. A Mcfienger was difpatch'd half a day's Journey before us, to give the King notice of my Approach, and to defire that his Majefty would pleafe to appoint. a Day and Hour, when it would be his gracious Pleafure that I might have the honour to lick the Duft before his Foot. flool. This is the Court Style, and I found is to be more than matter of form. For upon my Admittance two daysafter my arrival, I was commanded to cravl on my Belly, and lick the Floor as Iadvanced; but on account of my being ? Stranger, care was taken to have it fiwept fo clean, that the Duft was not offenfive. However this was a peculiar Grace, not allowed to any but Perfons of the higheft Rank, when they defire an Admittance. Nay, fometimes the Floor is firewed with Duft on purpole, when the Perfon to be admitted hap. pens to have poiverful Enemies at Court. And I have feen a great Lord with his Mouth

122 A VOYAGE

to LAPUTA, Gc. 123

Mouth fo crammed, that when he had crept to the proper Diffance from the Throne, he was not able to fpeak a Word. Neither is there any remedy, becaufe it is Capital for thofe who re. ceive an Audience to fpit or wipe their Mouths in his Majefty's prefence. There is indeed another Cuftom, which I cannot altogether approve of. When the King hath a mind to put any of his Nobles to death in a gentle indulgent manner, he commands to have the Floor frewed with a certain brown Powder, of a deadly Compofition, which being licked up, infallibly kills him in twenty-four Hours. But in juftice to this Prince's great Clemency, and the care he hath of his Subjects Lives, (wherein it were much to be wifhed that the Monarchs of Europe would imitate him) it muft be mentioned for his Honour, that ftrict orders are given to have the infected parts of the Floor well wafhed after every fuch Execution; which if his Domefticks neglect, they are in danger thomis of incurring his Royal Difpleafure, I my felf heard him give Directions, that one of his Pages fhould be whipt, whole turn it was to give notice about wafhing the Floor after an Execution, but malicioufly had omitted it; by which Negled, a young Lord of great Hopes coming to an Audience, was unfortunately poifored, although the King at that time had no defign againft his Life. But this good Prince was fo gracious, as to for give the poor Page his Whipping, upon promife that he would do fo no more, without fpecial Orders.

124 CA VOTAGE

To return from this Digrefion; when I had crept within four Yards of the Throne, I raifed niy felf gently upon my Knees, and then ftriking my Fote head feven times on the Ground, I pronounced the following Words, as they had been taught me the Night before, Ickpling Gloffthrobb Squut ferumm blliop Mlafbnalt, Zwin tnodbalkgufft Slbiop: bad Gurdlubh Afbt. This is the Compli

to LAPUTA, Є゚c. 125

ment eftablifhed by the Laws of the Land for all Perfons admitted to the King's Prefence. It may be rendered into Englifh thus: May your coeleftial Majefty out-live the Sun, eleven Moons and an balf. To this the King returned fome Anfwer, which although I could not underftand, yet I replied as I had been directed; Fluft drin Talerick Dwuldom praftrad mirpufh, which properly fignifies, My Tongue is in the Mouth of my Friend, and by this Expreffion was meant that I defired leave to bring my Interpreter; whereupon the young Man already mentioned was accordingly introduced, by whofe Intervention I anfwer'd as many Queftions as his Majefty could put in above an hour. I fpoke in the Balnibarbian Tongue, and my Interpreter delivered my Meaning in that of Luggnagg.

The King was much delighted with my Company, and ordered his Bliffmarklub, or high Chamberlain, to appoint a Lodging in the Court for me and my Interpreter, with a daily Allowance for my Table, and a large Purfe of Gold for my common Expences.

126 CAVOYAGE

I. ftayed three Months in this Country out of perfeet Obedience to his Majefty, who was pleafed highly to favour me, and made me very honourable Offers. But, I thought it more confiftent with Prudence and Juftice to pais the temainder of my Days with my Wife and Family.

CHAP.

to L A P UTA, E ${ }^{\circ}$ c. 127

, Hoith CH A P. X.
The Luggnaggians commended. A parB ticular Defcription of the Struldbruggs, withomany Converfations between the Autbor and fome eminent Perfons. upon that Subject.

N Win H Luggnaggians are a po-$\square$
T lite and gencrous Pcople, and although they are not without fome fhare of that Pride which is peculiar to all Eaftern Countries, yet they fhew themfelves courteaus to Strangers, efpecially fuch who are countenanced by the Court. I had many Acquaintance among Perfons of the beft Fathion, and being always attended by my Interpreter, the Converfation we had was not difagreeable.

> ONE.

128 eA Vorage

One Day in much good Company I was asked by a Perfon of Quality, whether I had feen any of their Struld. bruggs or Immortals. I faid I had not, and defired he would explain to me what he meant by fuch an Appellation applyed to a mortal Creature. He told me, that fometimes, though very rarely, a Child happened to be born in a Family with a red circular Spot in the Forehead, directly over the left Ejebrow, which was an infallible Mark that it fhould never die. The Spot, as he defcribed it, was about the compals of a Silver Three-pence, but in the coure of Time grew larger, and changed its Colour; for at twelve Years old it became Green, fo continued till five and twenty, then turn'd to a deep Bluc; at five and forty it grew coal Black, and as large as an Englifh Shilling, but never admitted any farther Alteration. He faid thefe Births were fo rare, that he díd not believe there could be above Eleyen Hundred Struldbruggs of both Sexes

to LAPUTA, VGc. 129

Sexes in the whole Kingdom, of which he computed about fifty in the Metropolis, and among the reft a young Girl. born about three Years ago. That thefe Productions were not peculiar to any Family, but a meer Effect of Chance; and the Children of the Struldbruggs themfelves, were equally mortal with the reft of the People.

I freely own my felf to have been ftruck with inexpreffible Delight upon hearing this Account: And the Perfon who gave it me happening to underftand the Balnibarbian Language,: which I fpoke very well, I could not forbear breaking out into Expreffions perhaps a little too extravagant. I cryed out as in a Rapture ; Happy Nation, where every Child hath at leaft a chance for being immortal ! Happy People, who cnjoy: fo many living Examples of antient Virtue, and have Mafters ready to imftruct them in the Wifdom of all former Ages! But, happicft beyond all Vol. II.
comparifon are thofe excellent Struldbruggs, who born exempt from that univerfal Calamity of Human Nature, have their Minds free and difengaged, without the weight and depreffion of Spirits cauled by the continual Apprehenfion of Death. I difcovered my Admiration that I had not obferved any of thefe illuftrious Perfons at Court: the black Spot on the Fore-head, being fo remarkable a Difinetion, that I could not have cafly overlooked it: And it was impoffibie that his Majefty, a moft judicious Prince, fhould not provide himfelf with a good number of fuch wife and able Counfle lours. Yet perhaps the Virtue of thofe Reverend Sages was too friet for the Corsupt and Libertine Manners of ia Court. And we often find by Expectin ence, that young Men are too opinionat tive and volatile to be guided by the fober Dictates of their Seniors. ©) Hown ever, fince the King was pleafed to alh low me accefs to his Royal Perfon, do was refolved upon the very firt occafion

to ЕAPUTA, ซુc. IJI

to deliver my Opinion to him on this Mattef freely, and at large by the help of my Interpreter; and whether he would pleafe to take my Advice or no, yet in one thing I was determince, that his Majefty having frequently offered me an Efablithment in this Country, IWould with great thankfulnefs accept the Favour, and pafs my Life here in the Converfation of thofe fuperiour Be ings the Struldbruggs, if they would pleafe to admit me.

The Gentieman to whom I addreffed my Difcourfe, becaufe (as I trave alteady obferved) he fpoke the Language of Balnibarbi, faid to me with a fort of a Smile, which ufually arifes from Pity to the Ignotant, that he was glad of any occafion to keep me among them, and defired my permiffion to explain to the Company what I had fooke. He did fo, and they talked together for fome time in their own Language, whereof I underftood not a K 2

Syllable,

132 e 1 VOIAGE

 Syllable, neither could I obferve by their Countenances what impreffion my Difcourfe had made on them. After a fhort Silence, the fame Perfon told me, that his Friends and mine (fo he thought fit to exprefs himfelf) were very much pleafed with the judicious Remarks I had made on the great Happinels and Advantages of immortal Life; and they were defirous to know in a particular manner, what Scheme of Living I fhould have formed to my felf, if it had fallen to my Lot to have been born a Struldbrugg.I anfwered, it was cafy to be elo. quent on fo copious and delightful a Subject, efpecially to me who have been often apt to amufe my felf with Vifions of what I fhould do if I were a King, a General, or a great Lord: And upon this very Cafe I had frequently run over the whole Syftem how I fhould employ my felf, and pals the time if I were fare to live for ever.

to LAPUTA, EFc. $133^{1}$

That, if it had been my good fortune to come into the World a Struldbrugg, as foon as I could difcover my own Happinefs by underftanding the difference between Life and Death, I would firt refolve by all Àrts and Methods whatfoever to procure my felf Riches. In the purfuit of which, by Thift and Management, I might reafonably expect in about two hundred Years, to be the wealthieft Man in the Kingdom. In the fecond place, I would from my earlieft Youth apply my felf to the ftudy of Arts' and Sciences, by which I fhould arrive in time to excely all others in Learning. Lafty, I would carefully record every Action and Event of confequence that happened in the Publick; impartially draw thet Characters of the reveral Succeffions of Princes, and great Minifters of State, with my own Obfervations on every Point. I would exactly fet down the feveral Changes in Cuftoms, Languages, Fathions, Drefs, Dyet and Diverfions. motia K

By all which Acquircments, I fhould be a living Tieafury of Knowledge and Wifdom, and-certainly becomo the Oracle of the Nation.

I would never marry after threefcore, but liye in an hofpitable mancr, yet fill on the faving, fide. I would entertain myfelf in forming and directing the Minds of hopcful young Men, by convincing ithemil from my own Remem. brance, Expericnce and Obfervation, fortified by numorous Examples, of the ufefulnefs of Virtee in publick and private Life. But, my. Choice land con. ftant Compations flowild be a Sett of my own impuottal Brothct-hood, among whom do would eleat a dozon from the moft mactent down to myickin Contemporaties. Where any of otirefe wanted Fortunes, I I would provide them with convenient Lodges round wey dwn Eftate, and havẹ fome of "them always ate my Table x ronly minglings sa few of theomof valuable among youl Mootals,

to LAPUTA, Goc. 135

whom length of Time would harden me to lofe with little or no reluctance, and treat your Poferity after the fame mannee, juft as a Man diverts himfelf with the annual Succeflion of Pinks and Tulips in his Garden, without regretting the lofs of thofe which withered the preceding Year. 2the was sewoitcil Inptilog

THESE Struldbruggs and I would mutually communicate our Obfervations and Memorials through the Courfe of Time, remark the feveral Gradations by which Corruption fteals into the World, and oppofe it in every ftep, by giving perpetual Warning and Infruction to Mankind ; which, added to the ftrong Influence of our own Example, would probably prevent that continual Degencracy of Human Nature fo juftly complained of in all Ages.

ADD to all this, the pleafure of feeing the various Revolutions of States and Empires, the Changes in the lower molaribete $\mathrm{K} \cdot 4$, 4 and 136 eA Voíage and upper World, ancient Cities in Ruins, and obfcure Villages become the Seats of Kings. Famous Rivers leffening into fhallow Brooks, the Ocean leaving one Coaft dry, and overwhelming another: The Difcovery of many Countries yet unknown. Barbarity over-running the politeft Nations, and the moft barbarous become civilized. I fhould then fee the Difcovery of the Longitude, the Perpetual Motion, the Univerfal Medicine, and many other great Inventions brought to the utmof Perfection.

What wonderful Difcoveries fhould we make in Aftronomy, by outliving and confirming our own Predictions, by oblerving the Progrefs and Returns of Comets, with the Changes of Motion in the Sun, Moon, and Stars.

I enlarged upon many other Topicks which the natural defire of endlefs Life and fublunary Happinefs could eafily furnifh me with. When I had ended,

to LAP UTA, $\sigma^{\circ}$ c. 137

and the Sum of my Difcourfe had been interpreted as before, to the reft of the Company, there was a good deal of Talk among them in the Language of the Country, not without fome Laughter at my expence. At laft the fame Gentleman who had been my Interpreter, faid, he was defired by the reft to fet me right in a few Miftakes, which I had fallen into through the common Imbecility of human Nature, and upon that allowance was lefs anfwerable for them. That this Breed of Struldbruggs was peculiar to their Country, for there were no fuch People either in Balnibarbi or Japan, where he had the honour to be Embaffador from his Majefty, and found the Natives in both thefe Kingdoms very hard to believe that the Fact was poflible ; and it appeared from my Aftoniffiment when he firf mentioned the matter to me, that I received it as a thing wholly new, and fearcely to be credited. That in the two Kingdoms above mentioned, where during his Refidence he had con-
$43^{8}$ eA Voyice
converfe yery nuch, he obferved liong Life to be the univerfal Defire and Wilb of Mankind. That whoever had one Foot in the Grave, was fare to hold back the other as frongly as he could. That the ctdeft had fill hopes of living one day longer, and looked on Death $$$ the greatoft Evil, from which Nature al: ways prompted him to retreat; only in this Iffand of Luggnagg, the Appetite for living was not fo eager, from the continual Example of the Strulddruggs betore their eyes.

20 THA $\boldsymbol{x}$ the Syftem of Living contrived by me was unreafonable and unjuf, be caufe it ruppofed a Perpetuity of Youth, Health, and Vigour, which no Man could be fo foolifh to hope, howerer extravagant he may be in his Wihes. That the Queftion therefore was not whether a Man would chufe to be ale ways in the Prime of Youth, attended with Profperity and Health, but how he would pafs a perpetual Life under all ## to LAPUTAFO゚c. 139?

 the ufual Difadvantages which old Age brings along with it. For although few Men will arow their Defires of being immortal upon fuch hard Conditions, yet in the two Kingdoms before-mentioncd of Balnibarbi and fapan, he oblerved that every Man defired to put off Death for fome time longer, let it approach ever fo late ; and he rarely heard of any Man who died willingly, execpt he were incited by the Extremity of Grief or Torture. And he appealed to me, whether in thofe Countrics I had travelled as wett as my own, I had not obferved the fame general Difpofition.After this Preface, he gave me a particular Account of the Struldloruggs among them. He faid they commonly acted like Mortals, till about thirey Years old, after which by degrees they grew melancholy and dejeeted, increafing. in both till they came to four-fcore. This the learn'd from their own Confeffion; for otherwife there not being above two or three of that Species born in an Age, were too few to form a gencral Ob . fervation by. When they came to four fcore Years, which is reckoned the Ex. tremity of living in this Country, they had not only all the Follies and Infir: mities of other old Men, but many more, which arofe from the dreadful Pro. fpects of never dying. They were not only Opinionative, Peevifh, Covetous, Morofe, Vain, Talkative, but uncapablic of Friendfhip, and dead to all naturd Affection, which never defcended be low their Grand-Children. Envy and impotent Defires are their prevailing Paffions. But thofe Objects aggint which their Envy feems principally directed, are the Vices of the younger fort and the Deaths of the old. By refleaing on the former, they find themfelres cut off from all poffibility of Pleafurc; and whenever they fee a Funcral, they lament and repine that others are gone to an Harbour of Ref, to which they themfelves never can hope to arrive. They

to LAPUTA, Esc. I4I

They have no Remembrance of any thing but what they learned and obferved in their Youth and middle Age, and even that is very imperfect. And for the Truth or Particulars of any Fact, it is fafer to depend on common Traditions than upon their beft Recollections. The leaft miferable among them appear to be thofe who turn to Dotage, and entirely lofe their Memories; there meet with more Pity and Affifance, becaufe they want many bad Qualities which abound in others.

If a Strulddrugg happen to marry one of his own kind, the Marriage is diffolved of courfe by the Courtefy of the Kingdom, as foon as the younger of the two come to be four-fcore. For the Law thinks it a reafonable: Indulgence, that thofe who are condemned without any Fault of their own to a perpetual Continuance in the World, fhould not 3 have their Mifery doubled by the Load of a Wife. the term of eighty Years, they are fookd on as dead in Law ; their Heirs imme diately fueceed to their Eftates, only a frall Pittance is referved for their Sup. port, and the poor ones are maintained at the publick Charge. After that $P_{6}$. riod they are held incapable of any Employment of Truft or Profit, they cannot puitchare Lands or take Leafes, neither are they allowed to be Witneffes in any Caufe, either Civil or Criminal, not even for the Decifion of Meers and Bounds.

- A r Ninety they lofe their Teeth and Hair, they have at that age no Dif tinction of Tafte, but eat and drink whatever they can get, without Relifh or Appetite: The Difeafcs they were fubject to, flill continuing without in creafing or diminifhing. In talking they forgot the common Appellation of Things, and the Names of Perfons, eren of thofe who are the nearet Friends

to LAPUTA, گ'c. 143

and Relations. For the fame reafon, they never can amufe themfelves with reading, becaufe their Memory will not ferve to carry them from the beginning of a Sentence to the end; and by this Defect they are deprived of the only Entertainment whereof they might otherwife be capable.

THE Language of this Country being always upon the Flux, the Struldbruggs of one Age do not underftand thofe of another, neither are they able after two hundred Years to hold any Converfation (farther than by a few general Words) with their Neighbours the Mortals; and thus they lie under the difadvantage of living like Foreigners in their own Country.
 T Hols was the Account given me of the Struldbraggs, bas hear as I can remember. I ancervads faw five or fix of different Ages, whe youngeft not above tivo hundred Years old, who were: ark brought brought me at feveral times by fome of my Friends; but although they were told that I was a great Traveller, and had feen all the World, they had not the leaft Curiofity to ask me a Queftion; only defired I would give them Slumskudask, or a Token of Remembrance, which is a modeft way of begging, to avoid the Law that ftrictly forbids it; becaule they are provided for by the Publick, although indeed with a very fcanty Al. lowance.

144 eA VOTAGE

THEY are deprived and hated by all fort of People: when one of them is born, it is reckoned ominous, and their Birth is recorded very particularly; $5_{0}$ that you may know their Age by confulting the Regiftry, which however hath not been kept above a thoufand Years paft, or at leaft hath been deftroyed by Time or publick Difturbances. But the ufual way of computing how old they are, is by asking them what Kings of great Perfons they can remember, and then

to LAPUTA, ซc. 145

then confulting Hiftory, for infallibly the laft Prince, in their mind, did not begin his Reign after they were fourfeore Years old.

Thieylwere the moft mortifying Sight I ever beheld, and the Women more horrible than the Men. Befides the ufual. Deformities in extreme old Age, they acquired an additional Graatlinefs in proportion to their Number of Ycars, which is not to be defcribed; and among half, a dozen, 1 , foon diftinguifhed which was the eldeft; although there was notabove a Century ortwo between them.

T HE Reader will eafily believe, that from what I had heard and feen, my keen Appetite for Perpetuity of Life was much abated. I grew heartily afhamed of the pleafing Vifions I had formed, and thought no Tyrant could invent a Death into which I would not run with pleafure from fuch Yol. II.

146 A VOYAGE
a Life. The King heard of all that had paffed between me and my Friends up. on this Occafion, and rallied me very pleafantly, wifhing I would fend a Couple of Struldbruggs to my own Country, to arm our People againf the Fear of Death; but this it feems is forbidden by the fundamental Laws of the Kingdom, or elfe I fhould have been well content with the Trouble and Expence of tranf. porting them.

I could not but agree that the Laws of this Kingdom, relating to the Struldbruggs, were founded upon the ftrongeft Reafons, and fuch as any other Country would be under the Necefility of enacting in the like Circumfances. Otherwife, as Avarice is the neceffary Confequent of old Age, thofe Immortas would in time become Proprietors of the whole Nation, and engrofs the Civil Power, which for want of Abilities to manage, mutt end in the Ruin of the Publick.

to LAPUTA, Ơ'c. 147

$8000000000000000000000

C H A P. XI.

The Author leaves Luggnagg, and Jails to Japan. From thence be returns in a Dutch Ship to Amfterdam, and from Amfterdam to England.

THOUGHT this Account of the Struldbruggs might be fome Entertainment to the Reader, becaufe it feems to be a little out of the common way; at leaft, I do not remember to have met the like in any Book of Travels that hath come to my hands: And if I am deceived, my Excufe muft be, that it is neceffary for Travellers, who defcribe the fame Country, very often to agree in dwelling on the fame Particulars, without deferving the Cenfure of having borrowed or tranfcribed from thofe who wrote before them.

There is indeed a perpetual Commerce between this Kingdom and the great Empire of Yapan, and it is very probable that the Japanefe Authors may have given fome account of the Struldbruggs; but my Stay in Japaß was fo thort, and I was fo intirely a Stranger to that Language, that I was not qualified to make any Enquiries. But I hope the Dutch, upon this Notice, will be curious and able enough to fup. ply my Defeets.

148 A VOYAGE

H is Majefty having often preffed me to accept fome Employment in his Court, and finding me abfolutely determined to return to my Native Country, was pleafed to give me his Licence to depart, and honoured me with a Letter of Recommendation under his own Hand to the Emperor of Fapan. He likewife prefented me with four hundred forty four large Pieces of Gold (this Na. tion delighting in even Numbers) and a red Diamond, which I fold in England for eleven hundred Pounds.

On the fixth day of May, 1709, I took a folemn Leave of his Majefty; and

to LAPUTA, E゚C. 149

and all my Friends. This Prince was fo gracious, as to order a Guard to conduct me to Glanguenftald, which is a Royal Port to the South-Weft part of the Inland. In fix days I found a Veffel ready to carry me to Fapan, and fpent fifteen days in the Voyage. We landed at a fmall Port-Town called Xamofobi, fituated on the SouthEaft part of Fapan; the Iown lies on the Weftern Point, where there is a narrow Streight, leading Northward into a long Arm of the Sea, upon the NorthWeft part of which, $\Upsilon$ edo, the Metropolis, ftands. At landing, I fhewed the Cuftom-houfe Officers my Letter from the King of Luggnagg to his Imperial Majefty. They knew the Seal perfectly well; it was as broad as the Palm of my Hand. The Impreffion was, $A$ King lifting up a Lame Beggar from the Earth. The Magiftrates of the Town hearing of my Letter, received me as a Publick Minifter; they provided me with Carriages and Servants, and bore my Charges to $Y e d o$, where I was admitted to an Audience, and deli-delivered my Letter, which was opened with great Ceremony, and explained to the Emperor by an Interpreter, who then gave me notice, by his Majefty's Order, that I fhould fignify my Requef, and whatever it were, it fhould be granted for the fake of his Royal Brother of Luggnagg. This Interpreter was a Perfon employ: ed to tranfact Affairs with the Hollan ders; he foon conjectured by my Countenance that I was an European, and therefore repeated his Majefty's Commands in Lowe-Dutch, which he fpoke perfectly well. I anfwered, (as I had before determined, ) that I was a $\mathcal{D}$ utch Merchant, fhipwrecked in a very remote Country, from whence I travelled by Sea and Land to Luggnagg, and then took fhipping for Japan, where I knew my Countrymen often traded, and with fome of thefe I hoped to get an Opportunity of returning into Europe: I therefore mof humbly entreated his Royal Favour to give Order, that 1 fhould be conducted in Safety to Nangafac. To this I added another Petition, that for the fake of my Patron the King of Luggnagg, his Majefty would condefcend to excufe my performing the Ceremony impofed on my Countrymen of trampling upon the Crucifix, becaufe I had been thrown into his Kingdom by my Misfortunes, without any Intention of Trading. When this latter Petition was interpreted to the Emperor, he feemed a little furprized, and faid, he believed I was the firt of my Countrymen who ever made any Scruple in this Point, and that he began to doubt whether I was a real Hollander, or no, but rather fufpected I muft beaChristian. However, for the Reafons I had offerēd, but chiefly to gratify the King of Luggnagg, by an uncommon Mark of his Favour, he would comply with the Singularity of my Humour; but the Affair, muft be managed with Dexterity, and his Officers fhould be commanded to let me pals, as it were, by Forgetfulnefs. For he affured me, that if the Secret fhould be difcovered by my Countrymen, the Dutch, they would cut my Throat in the the Voyage. I returned my Thanks by the Interpreter, for fo unufual a Favour, and fome Troops being at that time on their March to Nangafac, the Commanding Officer thad Orders to convey me fafe thither, with particular Inftructions about the Buffinefs of the Crucifix.

I50 AVO立AGE

to LAPUTA, E̛C, 15I

$152, A$ Vo vá e

- ON the gth Day of Fune, 1709, I arrived at Nangafac, after a very long and troublefome Journey. I foon fell into company of fome Dutch Sailors, belonging to the Amboyna of Amferdam, a ftout Ship of 450 Tons. Ihad lived long in Holland, purfuing my Studies at Lieyden, and I fpoke $\mathcal{D}$ utch well. The Seamen foon knew from whence I came laft; they were curious to err quire into my Voyages and Courfe of Life. I made up a Story as fhott and probable as I could, but concealed the greatoft part. I knew many Perfons in Holland; I was able to invent Names for my Parents, whom I pretended to be obfcure People in the Province of Guelderland. I would have given the Captain

to L A P U TA, Ecc. 153

Captain (one Theodorus Vangrult) what he pleafed to ask for my Voyage to Holland; but underftanding I was a Surgeon, he was contented to take half the ufual Rate, on condition that I would ferve him in the way of my Calling. Before we took thipping, I was often ask'd by fome of the Crew, whether I had performed the Ceremony above-mentioned : I evaded the Queftion by general Anfwers, that I had fatisfied the Emperor and Court in all Particulars. However, a malicious Rogue of a Skipper went to an Officer, and pointing to me, told him, I had not yet trampled on the Crucifix: But the other, who had received Infructions to let me pafs, gave the Rafcal twenty Strokes on the Shoulders with a Bamboo, after which I was no more troubled with fuch Queftions.

Nothing happened worth merrtioning in this Voyage. We railed with a fair Wind to the Cape of Good Hope, where we faid only to take in frefh Water. On the 16th of April we arrived 154 A VOT A GE, ซ゚c. rived fafe to Amfer dam, having lof only three Men by Sickniefs in the Vorage, and a fourth who fell from the Fore-malt into the Sea, not far from the Coaft of Guinea. From Amfertann I foon after fet fail for England, in a fmall Vefiel belonging to that City.

O N the ioth of April, 1710, we put in at the Downs. I landed the next Morning, and faw once more my native Country, after an Abfence of five Years and fix Months compleat. I went frait to Redriff, where I arrived the fame day at Two in the Afternooin, and found my Wife and Family in good Health.

The End of the Third Part.

TRAVELS

 INTO SEVERAL Remote Nations OF THE W ( IT 10 By Captain Lemuel Gulliver.PARTIV.

A Voyage to the Houyhnhnms.

$$
L O N D O N
$$

Printed in the Year M DCC XXVI.

4.5 THE ## CONTENTS.

C H A P. I.

 HE Autbor Sets out as Captain of a Ship. His Men confpire agairft bim, confine bim a long time to bis Cabbin, fet him on Sbore in an unknown Land. He travels up in the Country. The Yahoos a firange Sort of Animal defcribed. The Author meets. two Houyhnhnms.Page 155.
M 2
CHAP.

The Contents.

C H A P. II.

The Author conducted by a Houyhnhnm to bis Houfe. The Houfe defcribed. The Author's Reception. The Food of the Houyhnhnms. The Autbor in diffrefs for want of Meat, is at laft relieved. His manner of feeding in this Country.

C H A P. III.

The Author fudious to learn the Lallguage, the Houyhnhnm bis Mafter af. fifts in teaching him. The Language defcribed. Several Houyhnhnms of 2 qua . lity come out of Curiojity to Jee the Alvthor. He gives his Mafter a Sbort Ac. count of bis Voyage.

CHAPIV.

The Houyhnhnms Notion of Truth and Faljhood. The Author's Difcourfe difapproved by bis Mafter. The Autbor

The Contents.

 gives a more particular Account of bimfelf, and the Accidents of bis Voyage.C H A P. V.
The Author at his Mafter's Command informs bim of the State of England. The Caufes of War among the Princes of Europe. The Autbor begins to explain the Englifh Confitution. p. 214 .

C H A P. VI.

A Continuation of the State of England; so well governed by a Queen as to need no firt Minifter. The Character of fuch an one in fome European Courts.

$$
\text { p. } 234 .
$$

CHAP. VII.

The Author's great Love of bis Native Country. His Mafter's Obfervations upon the Confitution and Adminififation M 3

The Contents.

of England, as deforibed by the Autbor, with parallel Cafes and Comparijons. His Mafter's Objervations upon Human Nature.

C H A P. VIII.

The Autbor relates Several Particu. lars of the Yahoos. The great Virtues of the Houyhnhinms. The Education and Exercijes of their Youth. Their general Affembly.
p. 271.

C H A P. IX.

A grand Debate at the General Af. fembly of the Houyhnhnms, and how it was determined. The Learning of the Houyhnhnms. Their Buildings. Their manner of Burials. The Defectiveness of their Language. p. 286.

CHAP.

The CONTENTS:

CHAP. X.

The Author's Oeconomy and happy Life among the Houyhnhinms. His great Improvement in Virtue, by converfing with them. Their Converfations. The Author has notice given bim by bis Mafter that be muff depart. from the Country. He falls into a Swoon for Grief, but fubmits. He contries and finifbes a Canoo, by the help of a Fellow -Servant, and puts to Sea at a venture.
beg users CHAP. XI.
The Author's dangerous Voyage. He arrives at New-Holland, hoping to fettle there Is wounded with an Arrow by one of the Natives. Is feized and carried by force into a Portu. gueze Ship. The great Civilities of the Captain. The Author arrives at England.
p. 318 .

Mt CHAP.

The Gontents.

CHAP. XII.

The Author's Veracity. His Defign in publijhing this Work. His Cenfure of thofe Travellers who fwerve from the Irutb. The Author clears bimpelf from any finifer Ends in writing. An Ob. jection anfwered. The Method of planting Colonies. His Native Country commended. The Right of the Crown to thofe Countries defcribed by the Autbor is jufified. The Diffculty of conquering them. The Author takes bis laft leave of the Reader: propofeth bis manner of living for the future, gives good Advice, and concludes.

TRAVELS.

PARTIV.
A VOYAGE to the Country of the Houyhnanms.

CHAP. I.

The Autbor fets out as Captain of a Ship. His Men confpire againfl bim, - confune bim a long time to bis Cabbin, Fet Bim on Ihore in an unknown Land. He travels up in the Cointry. The Yahoos a frange fort of Animal defcribed. The Author meets two Houyhnlinms.

Continued at home with my Wife and Children about five Months in a very happy Condition, if I could have learned the Leffon is 6 Voyage to of knowing when I was well. I left my poor Wife big with Child, and accepted an advantagious Offer made me to be Captain of the Adventure, a fout Merchant-man of 350 Tuns: For I unđerftood Navigation well, and being grown weary of a Surgeon's Employment at Sea, which however I could exercife upon occafion, I took a skilful young Man of that Calling, one Robert Purefoy, into my Ship. We fet fail from Portfmouth upon the fecond Day of $A u g u f$, 1710; on the fourteenth we met with Captain Pooock of Briftol, at Tenariff, who was going to the Bay of Campechy, to cut Log. wood. On the fixteenth he was parted from us by a Storm; I heard fince my Return, that his Ship foundered, and none efcaped, but one Cabbin-Boy He was an honeft Man, and a good Sailor, but a little too pofitive in his own Opinions, which was the Caule of his Deftruction, as it hath been of feveral others. For if he had followed

the Houyhnhims. 157

 my Advice, he might have been fafe at home with his Family at this Time as well as myfelf.I had feveral Men died in my Ship of Calentures, fo that I was forced to get Recruits out of Barbadoes, and the Leeward Iflands, where I touched by the Direction of the Merchants who employed me, which I had foon too much caufe to repent; for I found afterwards that moft of them had been Bucaneers. I had fifty Hands on board, and my Orders were, that I fhould trade with the Indians in the South-Sea, and make what Difcoveries I could. Thefe Rogues whom I had picked up debauched my other Men, and they all formed a Confpiracy to feize the Ship and fecure me; which they did one Morning, rufhing into my Cabbin, and binding me Hand and Foot, threatning to throw me over-board, if I offered to fiir. I told them, I was their Prifoner, and would fubmit. This they made me fwear to do, and then they unbound me, only faftening one of my Legs with a Chain near my Bed, and placed a Centry at my Door with his Piece charged, who was commanded to fhoot me dead, if I attempted my Liberty. They fent me down Victuals and Drink, and took the Government of the Ship to themfelves. Their Defign was to turn Pyrates, and plunder the Spamiards, which they could not do, till they got more Men. But firft they refolved to fell the Goods in the Ship, and then go to Ma. dagafcar for Recruits, feveral among them having died fince my Confinement: They failed many Weeks, and traded with the Indians, but I knew not what Courfe they took, being kept a cloee Prifoner in my Cabbin, and expeting nothing lefs than to be murdered, as they often threatned me.
$15^{8} A$ Voyage to

the Houyhnhnms. I59

 the Captain, to fet me a-fhore. I expoflulated with him, but in vain ; neither would he fo much as tell me who their new Captain was. They forced me into the Long-boat, letting me put on my beft Suit of Cloaths, which were as good as new, and a fmall bundle of Linen, but no Arms except my Hanger ; and they were fo civil as not to fearch my Pockets, into which I conveyed what Money I had, with fome other little Neceffaries. They rowed about a League ; and then fet me down on a Strand. I defired them to tell me; what Country it was. They all fwore, they knew no more than myfelf, but faid, that the Captain (as they called him) was refolved, after they had fold the Lading, to get rid of me in the firft place, where they could difcover Land. They pufhed off immediately, advifing me to make hafte, for fear of being overtaken by the Tide, and fo bad me farewell.160 Vorage to
In this defolate Condition I advanced forward, and foon got upon firm Ground, where I fate down on a Bank to reft myfelf, and conifider what I hiad beft to do. When I was a little refrefhed, I went up into the Country, refolving to deliver myfelf to the firit Savages I fhould meet, and purchafe my Life from them by fome Bracelets, Glafs-rings, and other Tors, which Sailors ufually provide themfelves with in thofe Voyages, and whereof I had fome about me: The Land was divided by long rows of Trees, not regularly planted, but naturally grow. ing; there was great plenty of Gras, and feveral Fields of Oats. I walled very circumpectly for fear of being furprized, or fuddenly fhot with an Ar: row from behind or on either fide I fell into a beaten Road, where I faw many Tracks of human Feet, and fome of Cows, but moft of Horfes. At lat I beheld feveral Animals in a Field, and ## the Houyhnhems. 16 I

 one or two of the fame kind fitting in Trees. The Shape was very fingular, and deformed, which a little difcompofed me, fo that I lay down behind a Thicket to obferve them better. Some of them coming forward near the place where I lay, gave me an opportunity of diftinctly marking their Form. Their Heads and Breafts were covered with a thick Hair, fome frizled and others lank, they had Beards like Goats, and a long ridge of Hair down their Backs and the fore-parts of their Legs and Feet, but the reft of their Bodies were bare fo that I might fee their Skins, which were of a brown buff Colour. They had no Tails, nor any Hair at all on their Buttocks, except about the Anus, which, I prefume, Nature had placed there to defend them as they fate on the Ground; for that Pofture they ufed as well as lying down, and often ftood on their hind Feet. They climbed high Trees as nimbly as a Squirrel, for they had ftrong extended Claws before and162 $A$ Voyage to and behind, terminating in fharp points, hooked. They would often fpring, and bound, and leap with prodigious Agility. The Females were not fo large as the Males, they had long lank Hair on their Faces, nor any thing more than a fort of Down on the reft of their Bodies, except about the Anus, and Pudenda. Their Dugs hung between their Fore-feet, and often reached almot to the Ground as they walked. The Hair of both Sexes was of feveral C . lours, brown, red, black, and yellow. Upon the whole, I never beheld in all my Travels fo difagreeable an Animal, nor one againft which I naturally conceived fo ftrong an Antipathy. So that thinking I had feen enough, full of Contempt and Averfion, I got up and purfued the beaten Road, hoping it might direct me to the Cabbin of fome Indian. I had not gone far when I met one of thefe Creatures full in my way, and coming up direetly to me. The ugly Monfter, when he faw me, dif-

the Houybnhems. $16_{3}$

torred feveral ways every Feature of his Vifage, and flarted as at an Object he liad never feen before; then approaching nearer, lifted up his fore-paw, whether sut of Curiofity or Mifchief, I could not tell. But I drew my Hanger, and gave him a good Blow with the flat fide of it, for 1 durf not ftrike him with the Edge, fearing the Inhabitants might be provoked againift me, if they fhould come to know, that I had killed or maimed any of their Cattle. When the Beaft felt the frmart, he drew back, and roared fo loud, that a Herd of at leaft forty came flocking about the from the next Field, houling and making odious Faces; but I ran tontlie Body of a Tree, and leaning my Back againft it, /kept them of by waving my Hanger Several of this curred Brood getting hold of the Branches behind, leapt up in the Tree, from whence they began to dffcharge their Excrements on my Head: However, 1 efcaped pretty well, by fticking clofe Vol.II.

164 VOYAGE to
to the Stem of the Tree, but was alo moft ftifled with the Filth, which fell about me on every fide.

Gs the midft of this Diftrefs, I obferved them all to sun away on a fudden as faft as they could, at which I ventured to leave the Tree, and purfue the Road, wondring what it was that could put them into this Fright. But looking on my left hand, I faw a Horle walking foftly in the Field: which my Perfecutors having fooner difcovered, was the caufe of their Flight. The Hore farted a little when he came near me, but foon recovering himfelf, look'd full in my Face with manifeft Tokens of Wonder: He viewed my Hands and Feet, walking round me feveral times: I would have purfued my Journey, but be placed himfelf directly in the way, yet looking with a very mild Afpect, never offering the leaft Violence. We flood gazing at each other for fome time; at laft I took the Boldnefs to reach my

the Houyhnanms. 185

 Hand towards his Neck, with a Defigh to froak it ufing the common Style and Whiftle of Jockies when they are going to handle a frange Horre. But this Animal feeming to receive my Civilities with Difdain, flook his Head, and bent his Brows, foftly raifing up his right forefoot to remove my Hand. Then he neighed three or four times, but in fo different a Cadence, that I almoft began to think he was feaking to himfelf in fome Language of his own.WHILE he and I wefe this employed, another Horfe came up; who applying himfelf to the firft in a very formal manner, they gently fruck eacli others right Hoof before, neighing feveral timies by Turns, and varying the Sound, which feemed to be almoft articulate. They went fome Paces off, as if it were to confer together, walking fide by fide, backward and forward, like Perfons deliberating upon fome Affair of Weight, but often turning their

$$
\mathrm{N}_{2}
$$

$$
166 \text { VOYAGE to }
$$

Eyes towards me, as it were to watch that I might not efcape. I was amazed to fee fuch Actions and Behaviours in brute Beafts, and concluded with myfelf, that if the Inhabitants of this Country were endued witli a proportionable Degree of Reafon, they muft needs be the wifeft People upon Earth. This Thought gave me fo much Comfort, that I refolved to go forward until I could difcover fome Houfe or Village, or meet with any of the Natives, learing the two Horfes to difcourfe together as they pleafed. But the firft, who was a Dapple Gray, obferving me to feal off, neighed after me in fo expreffive a Tone, that I fanfied myfelf to underffand what he meant; whereupon I turned back, and came near him, toexpeet his farther Commands. But concealing my Fear as much as I could, for I began to be in fome Pain, how this Adventure might terminate; and the Reader will eafily believe I did not much like my prefent Situation.

Th®

the Houyhnhams. 167

The two Horfes came up clofe to me, looking with great Earneftnefs upon my Face and Hands. The grey Steed rubbed my Hat all round with his right fore-hoof, and difcompofed it fo much, that I was forced to adjuft it better, by taking it off, and fettling it again; whereat both he and his Companion (who was a brown Bay) appeared to be much furprized; the latter felt the Lappet of my Coat, and finding it to hang loofe about me, they both looked with new Signs of Wonder. He ftroked my right hand, feeming to admire the Softnefs and Colour; but he fqueezed it fo hard between his Hoof and his Paftern, that I was forced to roar; after which they both touched me with all poffible Tendernefs. They were under great Perplexity about my Shoes and Stockings, which they felt very often, neighing to each other, and ufing va4 rious Geftures, not unlike thofe of a Philofopher, when he would attempeto

$$
\mathrm{N}_{3} \text { folve }
$$

folve fome new and difficult Phano: menon.

UPON the whole, the Behaviour of thefe Animals, was fo orderly and rational, fo acute and judicious, that I at laf concluded, they muft needs be Magicians, who had thus metamorphofed themfelves upon fome defign, and feeing a ftranger in the way, were refolved to divert themfelves, with him; or perhaps were really amazed at the fight of a Man fo yery different in Ha bit, Feature and Complexion from thofe who might probably live in fo remotea Climate. Uporz the ftrength of this Reafoning, I ventured to addrefs them in the following manner: Gentlemen, if you be Conjurers, as I have good Caufe to believe, you can undertand any Language; therefore I make bold to let your Worfhips know, that I am a poor diftseffed Englifh Man, driven by his misfortunes upon your Coaft, and I entreat one of you, to let me ride up.

the Houxhnhnms. P69

 on his Back, as if he were a real Horfc, to fome Houfe or Village, where I cant be relieved. In return of which Fa vour, I will make you a Prefent of this Knife and Bracelet, (taking them out of my Pocket.) The two Creatures ftood filent while I fpoke, feeming to liften with great Attention; and when I had ended, they neighed frequently towards each other, as if they were engaged in ferious Converfation. I plainly obferved, that their Language expreffed the Paffions very well, and their Words might with little Pains be refolved into an Alphabet more eafily than the Cbinefe.- I could frequently diftinguifh the Word Yaboo, which was repeated by each of them feveral times; and altho' It was impoffible for me to conjecture what it meant; yet while the two Horfes were bufy in Converfation, I endeavoured to practife this Word upon my Tongue; and as foon as they were N 4 filent, filent, I boldly pronounced $\Upsilon_{a b o o}$ in a loud Voice, imitating at the fame time, as near as I could, the Neighing of a Horfe; at which they were both vifibly furprized, and the Gray repeated the fame Word twice, as if he meant to teach me the right Accent, wherein I fpoke after him as well as I could, and found myfelf perceivably to improve every time, though very far from any degree of Perfection. Then the Bay tried me with a fecond Word, much harder to be pronounced; but reducing it to the Englifb Orthography, may be fpelt thus, Honybnhmms. I did not fucceed in this fo well as in the former, but after two or three farther Trials, I had better fortune; and they both appeared amazed at my Capacity.

170 A Voyage to

AFTER fome farther Difcourfe, which I then conjectured might relate to me, the two Friends took their Leaves with the fame Compliment of itriking each other's Hoof; and the Gray made

the Houyhninms. I7x

 made me figns that I fhould walk before them, wherein I thought it pru* dent to comply, till I could find a better Director. When I offered to flacken my pace, he would cry Hbuun, Hbuun ; I gueffed his meaning, and gave him to underftand, as well as I could, that I was weary, and not able to walk fafter; upon which, he would ftand a while to let me reft. CHAP, P3789

C H A P. II.

The Autbor conducted by a Houyhnhnm to bis House. The Houfe defcribed. The Author's Reception. The Food of the Houyhnhnms. The Autbor in Diftrefs for Want of Meat, is at haft relieved. His Manner of feeding in this Country.

HAving travelled about three Miles, we came to a long kind of Building, made of Timber, fuck in the Ground, and wattled acroos; the Roof was low, and covered with Straw. I now began to be a little comforted, and took out fome Toys, which Travellors ufually carry for Prefents to the Savage Indians of America and other

the HOUYHNHNMS. 173

Parts, in hopes the People of the Houfe would be thereby encouraged to receive me kindly. The Horfe made me a fign to $g a$ in firft; it was a large Room with a fmooth Clay Floor, and a Rack and Manger extending the whole length on one fide. There were three Nags, and two Mares, not eating, but fome of them fitting down upon their Hams? which I very much wondered at; but wondered more to fee the reft employed in domeftick Bufinefs. They feemed but ordinary Cattle, however, this confirmed my firft Opinion, that a People who could fo far civilize brute Animals, muft needs excel in Wifdom all the Nations of the World. The Gray came in juft after, and thereby prevented any ill Treatment, which the others might have given me. He neighed to them feveral times in a fyle of Authority, and received Anfwers.

BEYOND this Room there were shree others, reaching the length of the Houfe,

$$
174 \text { VOYAGE to }
$$

Houfe, to which you paffed through three Doors oppofite to each other, in the manner of a Vifta; we went through the fecond Room towards the third, here the Gray walked in firt, beckoning me to attend: I waited in the fecond Room, and got ready my Prefents, for the Mafter and Miftrefs of the Houfe : They were two Knives, three Bracelets of falfe Pearl, a fmall Lookin-glafs and a Bead Necklace. The Horfe neighed three or four times, and I waited to hear fome Anfwers in a human Voice, but I obferved no other returns, than in the fame Dialect, only one or two a little fhriller than his. I began to think that this Houre mutt belong to fome perfon of great Note among them, becaufe there appeared fo much Ceremony before I could gain Admittance. But, that a Man of Quality fhould be ferved all by Horfes, was beyond my Comprehenfion. I feared my Brain was difturbed by my Suf. ferings and Misfortunes : I roufed my. felf

the Houyhnhems. 175

felf, and looked about me in the Room where I was left alone; this was furnifhed like the firft, only after a more elegant manner. I rubbed my Eyes often, but the fame Objects ftill occurred. I pinched my Arms and Sides, to awake myfelf, hoping I might be in a Dream. I then abfolutely concluded, that all thefe Appearances could be nothing elfe but Necromancy and Magick. But I had no time to purfue thefe Reflections; for the grey Horfe came to the door, and made me a fign to follow him into the third Room, where I faw a very comely Mare, together with a Colt and Fole, fitting upon their Haunches, upon Matts of ftraw, not unartfully made, and perfectly neat and clean.

The Mare, foon after my Entrance, rofe from her Matt, and coming up clofe, after having nicely obferved my Hands and Face, gave me a moft contemptuous Look; then turning to the Horfe, forfe, I hedrd the Word Yaboo ofien repeated betwixt them ; the ineaning of which word I could not then comprehiend, although it were the firt I had learned to pronounce; but I was foon better informed, to my everlafting Mortification? For the Horfe beckening to me with his Head, and repeating the word Hbunn, Hbuun, as he did upon the Road, which I undetftood was to attend him, led me out into a kind of Court, where was another Building at fome diftance from the Houfe. Here we entef ${ }^{\circ}$, and $I$ faw three of thefe deteltảble Creatures, whom I firft met after rify landing, feeding upon Roots, and the flefh of forme Animals, which 1 aftetwards found to be that of Alfes and Dogs, and now and then a Cow dead by Accident or Difeafe. They were all tyed by the Neck with ftrong Wyths, faftened to a Beam; they held their Food between the claws of their Fope-flet, and tore it with their Teeth.

176 VOYAGE to

the Houyhnhins. 179

The Mafter Horfe ordered a fortel Nag, one of his Servants, to untie the largeft of thefe Animals, and take him into the Yard. The Beaft and I were brought clofe together; and our Countenances diligently compared, both by Mafter and Servant, who thereupon repeated feveral times the word Kahoo: My Horror and Aftonifhment are not to be defcribed, when I obferved, in this abominable Animat, à perfeet human Figure; the Face of it indeed was flat and broad, the Nofe depreffed, the Lips large, and the Mouth wide. But thefe differences are common to all favage Nations, where the Lineaments of the Countenance are diftorted by the Natives fuffering their Infants to lie grovelling on the Earth, or by carrying them on their backs, nuzzling with their Face againft the Mother's Shoulders. The Fore-feet of the Taboo differed from my Hands in nothing elfe but the length of the 3 צका2 6 nails, nails, the coarfenefs and brownnefs of the Patms, and the hairinefs on the Backs There was the fame refemBlance between our Feet, with the fame difference, which I knew very well, tho' the Horfes did not, becaufe of my Shoes and Stockings; the fame in every part of our Bodies, except as to Hairinefs and Colour, which I have already defcribed.

178 Voyage to

The great Difficulty that feemed to ftick with the two Horfes, was, to fee the reft of my Body fo very different from that of a $\mathrm{K}_{a}$ boo, for which I was obliged to my Cloaths, whereof they had no conception: The forrel Nag offered me a Root, which he held (af ter their manner, as we fhall defcribe in its proper place) between his Hoof and Paftern; I took it in my Hand, and having fmelt it, returned it to him at gain as civilly as I could. He brought out of the Xaboo's Kenneb a piece of Afs's Flefh, but it fmelt fo offenively that that I turned from it with loathing; he then threw it to the Yaboo, by whom it was greedily devoured. He afterwards thewed me a Whifp of Hay, and a Fetlock full of Oats; but I fhook my Head, to fignify, that neither of thefe were Food for me. And indeed, I now apprehended, that I muft abfolutely farve, if I did not get to fome of my own Species: For as to thofe filthy Yaboos, although there were few greater Lovers of Mankind at that time than myfelf; yet I confefs I never faw any fenfitive Being fo deteftable on all accounts; and the more I came near them, the more hateful they grew, while I ftaid in that Country. This the Mafter Horfe obferved by my Behaviour, and therefore fent the raboo back to his Kennel. He then put his Fore-hoof to his Mouth, at which I was much furprized, although he did it with Eafe, and with a Motion that appeared perfectly natural, and made other figns to know what I would eat; Vol.II.

the Houyhnhnms. 179

buc
(8) $A$ VOYAGE to
but I could not return him fuch ant Anfwer as he was able to apprehend; and if he had underftood me, I did not fee how it was poffible to contrive any way for finding myfelf Nourifhment. While we were thus engaged, I obferved a Cow paffing by, whereupon I pointed to her, and expreffed a Defire to let me go and milk her. This had its Effeel; for he led me back into the Houfe, and ordered a Mare-fervant to open a Roon, where a good fore of Milk lay in eatthen and wooden Veffels, after a very orderly and cleanly manner. She gave me a large Bowl fall, of which I drank very heartily; and found mylelf well refiefhed:

00 ABO O IT 3 Noon 1 faw coming fowaris the Houfe a kind of V ehicle drawn like a sledge, by fous Yaboos. There was in it an-old Steed, who feemed to be of Quality, he alighted with his Hind feet forward, having by Accident got a Hyrt in his left Fore-foot. He came rud

the Hourhnhnms. 18 I to dine with our Horfe, who received him with great Civility. They dined in the beft Room, and had Oats boiled in Milk for the fecond Courfe, which the old Horfe eat warm, but the reft cold Their Mangers were placed circular in the middle of the Room, and divided into feveral Partitions, round which they fate on their Haunches upon Boffes of Straw. In the middle was a large Rack with Angles anfwering to every partition of the Manger. So that each Horfe and Mare eat their owi Hay, and their own Math of Oats and Milk, with much Decency and Regularity. The Beliaviour of the young Colt and Fole appeared very modeft, and that of the Mafter and Miftrefs extreamiy chearful and complaifant to their Gheft.: The Gray ordered me to ftand by him, and much Difcourle paffed between him and his Friend concerning me, as $I$ found by the Stranger's often looking on me, and $\mathrm{O}_{2}$ the$182 \quad A$ Vovage to the frequent Repetition of the Word raboo.

I happened to weat my Glores, which the Mafter Gray obferving, feemed perplexed, difcovering figns of Wonder what I had done to my Fore-feet; he put his Hoof three or four times to them, as if he would fignify, that I fhould reduce them to their former Shape, which I prefently did, pulling off both my Gloves, and putting them into my Pocket. This occafioned farther Talk, and I faw the Company was pleafed with my Behaviour, whereof I foon found the good Effects. I was ordered to fpeak the few Words I underftood, and while they were at Din. ner, the Mafter taught me the Names for Oats, Milk, Fire, Water, and fome others; which I could readily pronource after him, having from my Youth a great Facility in learning Language.

the Houyhnhems. 183

When Dinner was done, the Mafter Horfe took me afide, and by figns and Wonders made me underftand the Concern that he was in, that I had nothing to eat. Oats in their Tongue are called Hhunh. This Word I pronounced two or three times; for although I had refufed them at firft, yet upon fecond Thoughts I confidered that I could contrive to make of them a kind of Bread, which might be fufficient with Milk, to keep me alive, till I could make my Efcape to fome other Country, and to Creatures of my own Species, The Horfe immediately ordered a white Mare-fervant of his Family to bring me a good Quantity of Oats in a fort of wooden Tray. Thefe I heated before the Fire as well as I could, and rubbed them till the Husks came off, which I made a fhift to winnow from the Grain; I ground and beat them between two Stones, then took Water, and made them into a Pafte or Cake, $\mathrm{O}_{3}$
which

284 Vayage to which I toafted at the Fire, and eat warm with Milk. It was at firf a tery infipid Dyet, thiough common enough in many parts of Europe, but grew tolerable by Time ; and having beeen often reduced to hard Fare in my life, this was not the firft Experiment Ihad made how eafily Nature is fatiffied. And I cannot but obferve, that I never had one hour's Sicknefs, while Iftaid in this Ifland. 'Tis true, I fometimes made a Thife to catel a Rabbet, or Bird, by Springes made of Taboos Hairs, and I oftem gathered wholerome Herbs, which I boiled, or eat as Sallades with my Bread, and now andthen, for a Rarity, I made ia little Butter, and drank the Whey. I was at firt at a great lofs for Salt ; but Cuftom foon reconciled the want of it; and I anm confident that the frequent ufe of Salt among us, is an effeat of Luxury, and was fivt introduced only as a Provocative to drink; except where it is neceffary for preferving of Flefh in long $\qquad$

the Houyhninms. i8

Voyages, or in Places remotev from great Markets. For we obferve no A. nimal to be fond of it but Man: And as to myfelf, when I left this Country, it was a great while before I could eno dure the Tafte of it in any thing that I eat.

This is enough to fay upon the fubjeCt of my Dyet, wherewith other Travellers fill their Books, as if the Readers were perfonally concemed, whether we fare well or ill. However, it was neceflary to mention this matter, left the World fhould think it impofible that I could find Suftenance for thee Years in fuch a Country, afid among fuch Inhabitants.

When it grew towards Evening, the Mafter Horfe ordered a Place for me to lodge in; it was but fix yards from the Houfe, and feparated from the Stable of the Yaboos. Here I got fome Straw, and covering myfelf with 186 VOYAGE to my own Cloaths, 』ept very found. But I was in a fhort Time better accommo? dated, as the Readeto fhall know here: after, when I come to treat more particularly about my way of living.

the HouYHNHNMs. 187

 CHAP. III.

The Author fudious to learn the Language, the Houyhnhnm bis Mafter af (f)ts in teaching bim. The Language defcribed. Several Houyhnhnms of Quality come out of Curiofity to See the Author. He gives bis Mafter a Bort Account of his Voyage.

MY principal Endeavour was to learn the Language, which my Mafter (for fo I fhall henceforth call him) and his Children, and every Servant of his Houfe were defirous to teach me. For they looked upon it as a Prodigy, that a brute Animal fhould difcover fuch Marks of a rational Creature I pointed to every thing and enquired the name of it, which I wrote down

IN feaking, they pronounce through the Nofe and Throat, and their Language approaches nearef to the High. Dutch or German, of any I know in Europe; but is much more graceful and fignificant. The Emperor Charles V. made almoft the fame Obfervation, when he faid, That if he were to fpeak to his Horle, it fhould be in High-Datch.

THE Curiofity and Impatience of my Mafter were fo great, that he fpent many hour's of his leifure to inftrut me. He was convinced (as he afterwards told me) that I mult be a rabo, but my Teachablenefs, Civility, and Cleanlinefs aftonifhed him ; wlich were Qualities altogether fo oppofite to thare

the Houynnenms. 189

 thofe Animals. He was mof perplexed about my Cloaths, reafoning fometimes with himfelf, whether they were a part of my Body ; for I never pulled them of till the Family cwere afleep, and got them on before they waked in thé Morning. My Maftet was eager to learn from whence I came, how I acquired thofe appearances of Reafon, which I difeovered in all my Actionis, and to know my Stony from my own Mouth; which he hoped he fhould foon do by the great Proficiency I made in learning and pronouncing their Words and Sentences. To help my Memory, I formed all H learned into the Eugli/h Alphaber, andzwrit the Words down with the Tranflations. This laft, after fome time, I ventured to do in my Mafter's prefence. It coft me much trouble to explain to him what I was doing ; for the Inhabitants have niot the leaft Idea of Books and Litefature: bailqg:- art imm basflobausIn

- In about ten Weeks time I was able to underftand moft of his Queftions, and in three Months could give him fome tolerable Anfwers. He was extremely curious to know from what part of the Country I came, and how I was taught to imitate a rational Creature, becaufe the Yaboos, (whom he faw I exactly refembled in my Head, Hands, and Face, that were only vifible, , with fome appearance of Cunning, and the ftrongeft difpofition to Mirchief, were obferved to be the moft unteachable of all Brutes. I anfwered, That I came over the Sea from a far Place, with many others of my own kind, in a great hollow veffel made of the bodies of Trees. That my Companions forced me to land on this Coaft, and then left me to fhift for myfelf. It was with fome difficulty, and by the help of many Signs, that I brought him to underfand me. He replied, That I muft needs be miftaken, or that I faid

the Houyhnhnms. r9I

 the Thing which was not. (For they have no Word in their Language to exprefs Lying or Falfehood.) He knew it was impoffible, that there could be a Country beyond the Sea, or that a parcel of Brutes could move a wooden Veffel whither they pleafed upon Water. He was fure no Honybnbnm alive could make fuch a Veffel, nor would truft Yaboos to manage it.The Word Houybnbum, in their Tongue, fignifies a Horfe, and in its Etymology, The Perfection of Nature. I told my Mafter, that I was at a lofs for Expreffion, but would improve as faft as I could; and hoped in a fhort time I fhould be able to tell him Wonders: He was pleafed to direct his own Mare, his Colt and Fole, and the Servants of the Family to take all Opportunities of inftructing me, and every Day for two or three Hours, he was ${ }_{a}$ t the fame Pains himfelf: Several Horfes and Mares of Quality in the Neighbourhood igi JA Voyage to
Neighbourhood came often to our houfé upon the Report fpread of a wonderful raboo, that could fpeak like a Hoyy. bubum, and feemed in his Words and Actions to difcover fome glimmerings of Reafon, There delighted to converfe with me; ; they put many Queftions, and received fuch Anfwers, as I was able to return. By all thefe Advantages, I made fo great a progrefs, that in five Months from my Arrival, I underftood whatever was folke, and could exprefs myfelf tolerably well.

रो THE Houy hrubums who came to vift my Mafter, lout of a defign of feeing and talking jwith me, could hardly belieye me to be a right Yaboo, becaufe my Body had a different Covering from others of my kind. They were aftonifhed to obferve me without the ufual Hair or Skin, except on my Head, Face, and Hands; but I difcovered that Secret to my Mafter, upon an Accident, which happened about a Fornight beforce: woditgiols I have

the Houyhninms. 193

Thave already told the Reader, that every Night when the Family were gone to bed, it was my Cuftom to ftrip, and cover myfelf with my Cloaths: It happened one Morning early, that my Mafter fent for me, by the fortel Nag, who was his Valet $;$ si when he came, I was faft alleep, my Cloaths fallen off on one fide, and my Shirt above my Wafte I awaked at the Noife he made, and obferved him to deliver his Meffage in fome Diforder; after which he went to my Mafter, and in; a great fright gave him a very confufed Account of what he had feen: This I prefently difcovered; for going as foon as I was dreffed, to pay my Attendance upon his, Honous, he asked me the meaning of what his Servant had keported, that I was not the fame thing when I Alept as I appeared to be at other times; that his Yalet affured bimo fome part of me was white, fome yefory, at deaft not fo white, and fóme brywhy oturos I HAD

194 Vovage to
I had hitherto concealed the Secret of my Drefs, in order to diftinguifh myfelf as much as I could from the cirred Race of Yaboos; but now I found it in vain to do fo any longer. Befides, I confidered, that my Cloaths and Shoes would foon wear out, which already were in a declining Condition, and muft be fupplied by fome Contrivance from the Hides of Yaboos or other Brutes; whereby the whole Secret would be known: I therefore told my Mafer, That in the Country from whence I came, thofe of my kind always covered their Bodies with the Hairs of certain Animals prepared by Art, as well for Decency, as to avoid the Inclemencies of Air both hot and cold; of which, as to my own Perfon I would give him inmediate Conviction, if he pleafed to command me; only defiring his Excufe, if did not expofe thofe Parts that Nature taught is to conceal. He faid my Dif. courfe was all very Itrange, but efpecially

the Houyhnhems. 195

 the laft Part; for he could not underftand why Nature flould teach us to conceal what Nature had given. That neither himfelf nor Family were afhamed of any Parts of their Bodies but however I might do as I pleafed. Whereupon, I firft unbuttoned my Coat, and pulled it off, I did the fame with my Waftecoat; I drew of my Shoes, Stockings and Breeches. I let my Shirt down to my wafte, and drew up the Bottom, fafning it like a Girdle about my middle to hide my nakednefs.M y Mafter obferved the whole Performance with great Signs of Curiofity and Admiration. He took up all my Cloaths in his Paftern, one Piece after another, and examined them diligently; he then ftroaked my Body very gently, and looked round me feveral times, after which he faid, it was plain I muft be a perfect Yaboo; but that I differed very much from the reft of my Species, in the foftnefs, and whitenefs Yol. II.
and Smoothnefs of my Skin, my wane of Hair in feveral Parts of my Body, the Shape and Shortnefs of my Claws behind and before, and my affectation of walking continually on my two linder Feet, He defired to fee no more, and gave me leave to put on my Cloaths again, for I was fhuddering with Cold.
A. I EXPRESSED my uncafinefs at his giving me fo often the Appellation of Taboo, an odious Animal, for which I had fo utter an Hatred and Contempt. I begged he would forbear applying that Word to me, and take the fame Order in his Fanily, and among his Friends whom he fuffered to fee me, I requefted likewife, that the Secret of having a falfe covering to my Body might be known to none but himeflf, at leaft as long as my prefent Cloathing flould laft; for, as to what the Sorrel Nag his Valet had obferved, his Honour might command him to conceal it.

the Houyhnanms. 197

Ale this my Mafter very graciounly confented to, and thus the Secret was kept till my Cloaths began to wear out, which I was forced to fupply by feveral Contrivances, that fiall hereafter be mentioned. In the mean time, he defired I would go on with my utmof Diligence to learn their Language, bel caufe he was more aftonifhed at min Caz pacity for Speech and Reafon, than at the Figure of my Body, whether it were covered or no; adding, that he waited with fome Impatience to freaif the Wonders which I promifed to tell him.

From thenceforward he doubled the Pains he had been at to inftruet me; he brought me into alt Company, and made them treat me with Civility, becaufe, as he told them privately, this would put me into good Humour, and make me more diyerting.

Pi EVERX

Every Day when I waited on him, befide the Trouble he was at in teaching he would ask me feveral Queftions concerning rayfelf, which I anfwered as well as I could; and by theie means he had already received fome general Ideas, though very imperfect. It would be tedions to relate the feveral Steps, by which I advanced to a mofe regular Converfation: But the firf Account I gave of myfelf in any Order and Length, was to this purpofe:

That I came from a very far Country, as I had already attempted to tell him with about fifty more of my own Specics; that we travelled upon the Seas, in a great hollow Vefiel made of Wood, and larger than lis Honour's Houfe. I defcribed the Ship zo him in the beft terms I could, and explained by the help of my Handkerchief difplayed, how it was driven forward

the HOUYHNHNMS.

 199 ward by the Wind That upon a Quarrel among us, I was fet on flote on this Coaft, where I walked forward without knowing whither, till he delivered me from the Perfecution of thofe execrable Yaboos. He asked me, who made the Ship, and how it was poffible that the Houybnhrimis of my Country would leave it to the Managementiof Brutes? My Anfwer was, that I durft proceed no farther in my Relation, unlefs he would give me his Word and Honour that he would not be offended, and then I would tell him the Wonders I had fo often promifed. He agreed; and I went on by affuring him, that the Ship was made by Creatures like myfelf, who in all the Countries I had travelled, as well as in my own, were the only governing, rational Animals; and that upon my Arrival hither, I was as much aftonifhed to fee the Houybnbums act like rational Beings, as he or his Friends could be in finding fome Marks of Reafon in aGrexture he was pleafed to call a Yaboo, to which I owned my Refemblance in every Part, but could not account for their degenerate and brutal Nature. I faid farther, that if good Fortune ever Feftored me to my native Country, to relate my Travels hither, as I refolved to do, every body would believe that I faid the Thing which was not; that I invented the Story out of my own Head; and with all poffible Refpect to himflf, his Family, and Friends, and under his Promife of not being offended, our Countrymen would hardly think it pro. bable, thiat a Houybnhum fhould be the prefiding Creature of a Nation, and a

the HOUYHNHNMS. 201,

CHAPIV.
The Houyhnhnms Notion of Truthe and Fallhood. The Author's Difcomrere difapproved by bis Mafler. The Author gives a more particular Account of bimfelf, and the Accidents of this Voyage.

MY Mafter heard me with great appearances of Uneafinefs in his Countenance, becaufe doubting or not believing, are fo little known in this Country, that the Inhabitants cannot tell how to behave themfelves under fuch Circumftances. And I remember in frequent Difcourfes with my Mafter concerning the Nature of Manhood, int other Parts of the World, having occa-

$$
\text { wond } \quad P_{4} \quad \text { fion }
$$

202 A VOYAGE to
fion to talk of Lying, and falfe Repre fentation, it was with much Diffculty that he comprehended what I meant, although he had otherwife a moft acute Judgment. For he argued thus: That the ufe of Speech was to make us underftand one another, and to receive Information of Facts; now if any one faid the Tbing wbich was not, thofe Ends were defeated ; becaufe I cannot properly be faid to underftand him, and I am fo far from receiving Information, that he leaves me worfe than in Ignorance, for I am led to believe a. Thing black when it is white, and fbort when it is long. And thefe were all the Notions he had concerning that Faculty of Lying, fo perfectly well underfood among human Creatures, z7s cothonits 30 mans admatidarlal oilt 36fis s (ynmes) T2 To return fiom this Digreffion, - when I afferted that the Pibsoos were the only governing Animals in my Country, which my Mafter faid was altogether paft his Conception, he defired to noit +I know

the Houyhnhims. 203

 know whether we had Horigbibinms a-1 mong us, and what wás their Employment : I told him, we had great Numbers, that in Summer they grazed in the Fields, and in Winter were kept in houres, with Hay and Oats, when-Yaboo-Servants were employed to rub their Skins fmooth, comb their Manes? pick their Feet, ferve them with Food, and make their Beds. I underftan el you well, faid my Mafter, it is now very plain, from all you have fpoken, that whatever fhare of Reafon the $\mathrm{ra}_{a}$. hoos pretended to, the Honybnibnms are your Mafters; I heartily wifh our $\mathrm{ra}_{\mathrm{a}}$ hoos would be fo tractable. I begged his Honour would pleafed to excufe me from proceeding any farther, becaure I was very certain that the Account he expected from me would be highly difpleafing. But he infifted in commanding me to let him know: the beft and the worft: I told him, he fhould be obeyed. I owned, that the Houybrbnoms among us, whom we cals led204 A Voyage to led Horfes, were the moft generous and comely 'Animal we had, that they ed. celled in frength and fwiftnefs; and when they belonged to Perfons of Quality, employed in travelling, racing, or drawing Chariots, they/ were treated with much Kindness and Care, till they fell into Difeafes, or became foundred in the Feet; and then they were fold, and ufed to all kind of Drudgery till they died; after which their Skins were ftripped and fold for what they were worth, and their Bodies left to be devoured by Dogs and Birds of prey: But the common race of Horfes had fiot fo good fortune, being kept by Farmers and Carriers and other mean Peóple, who put them to greater laboar, and feed them worfe. I defcribed as well uas I could, our way of tiding, the flape and ufe of a Bridle, a Saddle, ai Spur, and a: Whip, of Harnels and Whieelse I added, that we faftned Plates of a certain hard fubftance calk led Iron at the bottom of their Feet,

the Houyhnhnms. 20s

to preferve their Hoofs from being brot ken by the ftony ways on which we often travelled.

My Mafter, after fome Expreffions of great Indignation, wondered how we dared to venture upon a Houybnbnm's back, for he was fure, that the meaneft Servant in his Houfe would be able to fhake of the ftrongef Yaboo, or by lying down, and rouling on his back, fqueeze the Brute to death. - I anfwered, That our Horfes were trained up from three our four Years old to the feveral ufes we intended them for; That if any of them proved intolerably vicious, they were employed for Carriages; that they were feverely beaten while they were young, for any mifchievous tricks: That the Males, defigned for common ufe of Riding or Draught, were generally caftrated about two Years after their birth, to take down their Spirits, and make them more tame and gentle; that they were indeed fensils
fible

206 A VOYAGE to
fible of Rewards and Punifhments; but his Honour would pleafe to confider, that they had not the leaft tincture of Reafon any more than the raboos in this Country.

Ir put me to the pains of many Circumlocutions to give my Mafter a right Idea of what I fpoke; for their Language doth not abound in variety of Words, becaufe their Wants and Paffions are fewer than among us. But it is impoffible to repeat his noble Refentment at our favage Treatment of the Houybnbnm race, particularly af: ter I had explained the manner and ufe of caftrating Hoffes among us, to hinder them from propagating their kind, and to render them more fervile. He faid, if it were poffible there could be any Country where Yaboos alone were endued with Reafon, they certainly muft be the governing Animal, becaufe Reafon will in time always prevail againft brutal Strength. But, confidering

the Houyhnhems. 207

 the Frame of our Bodies, and efpecially of mine, he thought no Creature of equal Bulk was fo ill contrived, for employing that Reafon in the commonOffice of Life; whereupon he defired to know, whether thofe among whom I lived, refémbled me or the Yaboos of his Country. I affured him, that I was as well Thaped as moft of my Age: but the younger and the Females were much more foft and tender, and the Skins of the latter generally as white as Milk. He faid, I differed indeed from other Yaboos, being much more cleanly, and not altogether fo deformed, but in point of real Advantage, he thought I differed for the worfe. That my Nails were of no Ufe either to my fore or hinder-feet: As to my Fore-feet he could not properly call them by that Name, for he never obferved me to walk upon them; that they were too foft to bear the Ground; that I generally went with them uncovered, neither was the Covering I fometimes woreon them, of the fame Sliape, or fof frong as that on my Feet behind. That I could not walk with any Security, for if either of my Hinder-feet flipped, 1 muft inevitably fall. He then began to find fault with other Parts of my Body, the Flatnefs of my Face, the Prominence of my Nofe, mine Eyes placed direetly in the Front, fo that I could not look on either fide without turning my Head: That I was not able to feed myfelf, without lifting my. Fore-feet to my Mouth: And therefore Nature had placed thofe Joynts to anfwer that Necefity. He knew not what could be the Ufe of thofe feveral Clefts and Divifions in my Feet behind, that thefe were too foft to bear the Hardness and Sharp. nefs of Stones without a Covering made from the Skin of fome othef Brute; that my whole Body wanted a Fence againft Heat and Cold, whick I was forced to put on and off everyDRy with Tedioufnefs and Trouble, And laftly, that he obferved every Animal in this Country naturally to abhor the Ya boos, whom the Weaker avoided, and the Stronger drove from them. So that fuppofing us to have the Gift of Reafon, he could not fee how it were poffible to cure that natural Antipathy which everyCreature difoovered againft us; nor confequently, how we could tame, and render them ferviceable. However, he would (as he raid) debate the Matter no farther, becaufe he was more defirous to know my own Story, the Country where I was born, and the feveral Actions and Events of my Life before I came hither.

$$
\text { the HOUYHNHNMS. } 209
$$

- I ASSURED him, how extremely defirous I was, that he fhould be fatisfied in every Point; but I doubted much, whether it would be poffible for me to explain myfelf on feveral Subjects wheteof his Honour could have no Conception, becaufe I faw nothing in his Country to which I could refemble them That however, I would do my beft, and 210 A Voyage to and ftrive to exprefs myfelf by Similitudes, humbly defiring his Affiftance when I wanted proper Words; which he was pleafed to promife me.

I I said, my Birth was of honeft Pa rents in an Ifland called England, which was remote from this Country, as many Days Journey as the ftrongef of his Honour's Servants could travel in the Annual Courfe of the Sun. That I was bred a Surgeon, whofe Trade is to cure Wounds and Hurts in the Body, got by Accident or Violence; that my Country was governed by a Female Man, whom we called Queen. That I'left it to get Riches, whereby I might maintain myfelf and Family when I fhould return. That in my laft Voyage I was Commander of the Ship, and had about fifty Yaboos under me, many of which died at Sea, and I was forced to fupply them by others picked out from feveral Nations. That our Ship was twice in Danger of being funk; the firf time by a great

the Houynnhms. 2 II

a great Storm, and the fecond, by ftriking againft a Rock. Here my Mafter interpofed, by asking me, how I could perfuade Strangers out of different Countries to venture with me, after the Loffes I had fuftained, and the Hazards I had run. I faid, they were Fellows of defperate Fortunes forced to fly from the Places of their Birth, on account of their Poverty or their Crimes. Some were undone by Law-fuits; others fpent all they had in Drinking, Whoring and Gaming; others fled for Treafon; many for Murder, Theft, Poyfoning, Robbery, Perjury, Forgery, Coining falfe Morey, for committing Rapes or Sodomy, for flying from their Colours, or deferting to the Enemy, and moft of them had broken Prifon; none of there durft return to their Native Countries for fear of being hanged, or of ftarving in a Jail; and therefore were under a neceffity of feeking a Livelihood in other Places.

Vol.II.
Q During

During this Difcourfe, my Mafter was pleafed to interrupt me feveral times; I had made ufe of many Circumlocutions in defcribing to him the nature of the feveral Crimes, for which moft of our Crew had been forced to fly their Country. This Labour took up Reveral Days Converfation before he was able to comprehend me. He was wholly at a Lofs to know what could be the Ufe or Neceflity of practifing thofe Vices. To clear up which I endeavoured to give him fome Ideas of the Defire of Power and Riches, of the terrible Effects of Luft, Intemperance, Malice and Envy. All this I was forced to define and defcribe by putting of Cafes, and making of Suppofitions. After which, like one whofe Imagination was ftruck with fomething never feen or heard of before, he would lift up his Eyes with Amazement and Indignation. Power, Government, War, Law, Punifhment, and a thoufand other Things

the Houyhninms. $\quad 213$

Things had no Terms, wherein that Language could exprefs them, which made the Difficulty almoft infupetable to give my Mafter any Conception of what I meant. But being of an excellent Underftanding much improved by Contemplation and Converfe, he at laft arrived at a competent Knowledge of what humane Nature in our Parts of the World is capable to perform, and defired I would give him fome particular Account of that Land, which we call Europe, but efpecially of my own Country:

C H A P.

(The Author at bis Mafler's Command iuforms bim of the State of England. The Caufes of Wax among the Princes of Europe. The Author begins to explain the Englifh Confitution.

THE Reader may pleafe to obferve, that the following Extract of many Converfations I had with my Mafter, contains a Summary of the moft material Points, of which were difcourfed at feveral times for above two Years; his Honour often defiring fuller Satisfaction as I farther improved in the Houybnbrm Tongue. I laid before him, as well as I could, the whole State of Europe; I difcourfed of Trade and

the Houyhnhnms. 215

and Manufactures, of Arts and Sciences; and the Anfwers I gave to all the Queftions he made, as they arofe upon feveral Subjects, were a Fund of Converfation not to be exhaufted. But I fhall here only fet down the Subftance of what paffed between us concerning my own Country, reducing it into Order as well as I can, without any Regard to Time or other Circumfances, white I ftrictly adhere to Truth. My only Concern is, that I fhall hardly be able to do Juftice to my Mafter's Arguments and Expreffions, which muft needs fuffer by my want of Capacity, as well as by a Tranflation into our barbarous Englifh.

In Obedience therefore to his Honour's Commands, I related to him the Revolution under the Prince of Orange, the long War with France entered into by the faid Prince, and renewed by his Succeffor the prefent Queen, wherein the greatef Powers of Chriftendom were

$$
Q_{3} \text { engaged, }
$$

$216 \quad A$ Voyage to
engaged, and which ftill continued: I computed at his Requeft, that about a Million of Yaboos might have been killed in the whole Progrefs of it, and perhaps a hundred or more Cities taken, and thrice as many Ships bufnt or funk.

He asked me what were the ufual Caufes or Motives that made one Country go to War with another. I anfwered they were innumerable, but I fhould only mention a few of the chief, Sometimes the Ambition of Princes, who never think they, have Land or People enough to gavern: Sometimes the Corruption of Minifters, who engage their Mafter in a War, in order to fifle or divert the Clamor of the Subjeets againft their evil Adminiftration. Difference in Opinions hath coft many Millions of Lives: For inftance, whether Flefh be Bread, or Bread be Flefb; whether the Juice of a certain Berry be Blood or Wine; whether Whifling be a Vice or a Virtue; whether it be better to kifs a Poft, or throw it into the Fire; what is the beft Colour for a Coat, whether black, wbite, red or gray; and whether it fhould be long or Short, narrow or wide, dirty or clean, with many more. Neither are any Wars fo furious and bloody, or of fo long Continuance, as thofe occafioned by Difference in Opinion, efpecially if it be in things indifferent.

the HOUYHNHNMS. 217

Sometimes the Quarrel between two Princes is to decide which of them thall difpoffefs a third of his Dominions, where neither of them pretend to any Right. Sometimes one Prince quarrelleth with another, for fear the other fhould quarrel with him. Sometimes a War is entered upon, becaufe the Enemy is too frong, and fometimes becaufe he is too weak. Sometimes our Neighbours want the things which we bave, or bave the things which we want; and we bath fight, till they Q 4 take take ours or give us theirs. It is a very juftifiable Caufe of War to invade a Country after the People have been wafted by Famine, deftroyed by Peftilence, or embroiled by Factions among themfelves. It is juftifiable to enter into War againft our nearef Ally, when one of his Towns lies convenient for us, or a Territory of Land, that would render our Dominions round and compleat. If a Prince fends Forces into a Nation, where the People are poor and ignovant, he may lawfully put half of them to death, and make Slaves of the reft, in order to civilize and reduce them from their barbarous way of Living. I is a very kingly, honourable, and frequent Practice, when one Prince defires the Affiftance of another to fecure him againft an Invafion, that the Affiftant, when he hath driven out the Invader, fhould feize on the Dominions himfelf, and kill, imprifon of banifh the Prince he came to relieve. Alliance by Blood or Marriage, is a frequent

218 Voyage to

the Houyhnhems. 219

frequent Caufe of War between Princes, and the nearer the Kindred is, the greater is their Difpofition to quarrel: Poor Nations are bungry, and rich Nations are proud, and Pride and Hunger will ever be at variance. For thofe Reafons, the Trade of a Soldier is held the moft honourable of all others: Becaufe a Soldier is a Yaboo hired to kill in cold Blood as many of his own Species, who have never offended him, as poffibly he can.

There are likewife another kind of Princes in Europe, not able to make War by themfelves, who hire out their Troops to richer Nations, for fo much a Day to each Man; of which they keep three fourths to themfelves, and it is the beft Part of their Maintenance; fuch are thofe in many Northern Parts of Europe.

What you have told me, (faid my Mafter) upon the Subject of War, does indeed indeed difcover" moft admirably the Effects of that Reafon you pretend to: However, it is happy that the Shame is greater than the Danger; and that Nature hath left you utterly uncapable of doing much Mifchief.

220 A Voyage to

For four Mouths lying flat with your Faees, you can hardly bite each o. ther to any purpofe, unles by Confent. Then as to the Claws upon your Feet Wefore and behind, they are fo fhort and tender that one of our Yaboos would drive a dozen of yours before him. And therefore in recounting the Numbers of thofe who have been killed in Battle, I cannot but think that you have faid the tbing that is not,

I cout not forbear fhaking my Head, and fmiling a little at his Ignorance. And being no Stranger to the Art of War, I gave him a Defription of Cannons, Culverins, Muskets, Carabines, Piftols, Bullets, Powder, Swords, Bayonetts,

the Houyhnhms. 22 I

Bayonets, Sieges, Retreats, Attacks, Undermines, Countermines, Bombardments, Sea-fights; Ships funk with a thoufand Men, twenty Thoufand killed on each Side; dying Groans, Limbs flying in the Air, Smoak, Noife, Confufion, trampling to death under Horfes Feet; Flight, Purfuit, Victoty; Fields ftrewed with Carcafes left for Food to Dogs, and Wolves, and Birds of Prey; Plundering, Stripping, Ravifhing, Burning, and Deftroying. And to fet forth the Valour of my own dear Countrymen, I affured him, that I had feen them blow up a hundred Enemies at once in a Siege, and as many in a Ship, and beheld the dead Bodies come down in pieces from the Clouds, to the great Diverfion of the Spectators.

I was going on to more particulars, when my Mafter commanded me Silence. He faid, whoever underftood the Nature of Yaboos might eafily believe it poffible for fo vile an Animal, to be capable of every Action I had named, if their Strength and Cunning equalled their Malice. But as my Difcourfe had increafed his Abhorrence of the whole Species, fo he found he gave him a Difturbance in his Mind, to which he was wholly a Stranger before. He thought his Ears being ufed to fuch abominable Words, might by Degrees admit them with lefs Deteftation, That although he hated the raboos of this Country, yet he no more blamed them for their odious Qualities, than he did a Ginnayh (a Bird of Prey) for its Cruelty, or a fharp Stone for curting my Hoof. But when a Creature pretending to Reafon, could be capable of fuch Enormities, he dreaded left the Corruption of that Faculty might be worfe than Brutality it felf. He feemed therefore confident, that inftead of Reafon, we were only poffeffed of fome Quality fitted to increafe our natural Vices; as the Reflection from a troubled Stream returns the Image of an ill-fhapen Body, not only larger, but more diforted.

222 A Voyage to

the Houyhnhnms. 223

He added, That he had heard too much upon the fubject of War, both in this, and fome former Difcourfes. There was another point which a little perplexed him at prefent. I had informed him, that fome of our Crew left their Country on account of being ruined by Lawe; that I had already explained the meaning of the Word; but he was at a lofs how it fhould come to pafs, that the Law which was intended for every Man's prefervation, flould be any Man's ruin. Therefore he defired to be farther fatisfied what I meant by Larw, and what fort of Dif penfers thereof it could be by whofe practices the Property of any Perfon could be loft, inftead of being preferved. He added, he faw not what great occafion there could be for this thing called Larv, fince all the Intentions and Purpofes of it may be fully anfwered by following the Dictates of Nature and Reafor, which are fufficient Guides for a reafonable Animal, as we pretended to be, in fhewing us what we ought to do, and what to avoid.

224 Voyage to

I assured his Honour, that Law was a Science wherein I had not much converfed, having little more Knowledge of it than what I had obtained by employing Advocates, in vain, upon fome Injuftices that had been done me, and by converfing with fome others who by the fame method had firf loft their Subftance, and then left their own Country under the mortification of fuch Difappointments, however I would give him all the Satisfaction I was able.

I said, That thofe who made profeffion of this Science were exceedingly multiplied, being almoft equal to the Caterpillars in number; that they were of divers Degrees, Diftinctions, and Denominations. The numeroufnels of thofe

the Houyhnanms. 225

thofe that dedicated themfelves to this Profeflion were fuch that the fair and juftifiable Advantage and Income of the Profeffion was not fufficient for the decent and handfome Maintenance of multitudes of thofe who followed it. Hence it came to pafs that it was found needful to fupply that by Artifice and Cunning, which could not be procured by juft and honeft methods: The better to bring which about, very many Men among us were bred up from their Youth in the Art of proving by Words multiplied for the purpofe that white is black, and black is white, according as they are paid. The greatnefs of thefe Mens Affurance and the Boldnefs of their Pretenfions gained upon the Opinion of the Vulgar, whom in a manner they made Slaves of, and got into their hands much the larger Share of the practice of their Profeffion. Thefe Practitioners were by Men of difcernment called Pettifooggers, (that is, Confounders, or rather, Deftrojensof Right,

226 Voyage to
as it was my ill hap, as well as the misfortune of my fuffering Acquaintance, to be erigaged only with this fpecies of the Profeffion. I defired his Ho. nour to underftand the defcription I had to give, and the ruin I had complained of, to relate to thefe Sectaries only, and how and by what means the Misfortunes we met with were brought upon us by the management of thefe Men, might be more eafly conceived by explaining to him their method of proceeding, which could not be better done than by giving him an Example.

M x Neighbour, faid I, I will fuppofe, has a mind to my Cow, he hires one ofthefe Advocates to prove that he ought to have my Cow from me. I muft then hire andther of them to defend my Right, it being againft all rules of Law that any Man fhould be allowed to fpeak for himfelf. Now in this cafe, I who am the right Owner lie under two great Difadvantages. Firft, my Advocate, being as I faid before practifed almoft from hist Cradle in defending Fallhood, is quite out of his Element when he would ar-: gue for Right, which as an Office unnatural he attempts with great Awk-s wardnefs, if not with an Ill-will. The fecond Difadvantage is that my Advocate muft proceed with great Caution 3 for, fince the Maintenance of fo many depend on the keeping up of Bufinefs, fhould he proceed too fummarily, if he does not incur the Difpleafure of his Superiors, he is fure to gain the IIl-will and Hatred of his Brethren, as being by them efteemed one that would leffen the Practice of the Law. This being the Cafe; I have but two Methods to preferve my Cow. The firft is, to gain over my Adverfary's Advocate with a double Fee; from the Manner and Defign of whofe Education before mentioned it is eafy to expect he will be induced to drop his Client, and let the Balance fall to my Side. The fecond Way is for my Advocate not to Vol.II.

$$
\text { the HOUYHNHNMS. } \quad 227
$$

$R$ infift
$228 \quad A$ Voyage to infift on the Juittice of my Caufe, by allowing the Cow to belong to my Adverfary; and this if it be dexteroufly and skiffully done will go a geat Way towatds obtainling a favourable Verdit, it laving been foutind, from a careful Obfervation of Iflues and Events, that the wrong Side, tinder the Management of fuch Practitioners, has the fairer Chance for fuccers; and this more ef. pecially if it happens, as it did in mine and my Friend's Cafe, and may have done fince, that the Perfon appointed to decide all Controverfies of Propriety as well as for the Tryal of Criminals, who flould be taken out of the moft knowing and wife of his Profeflion, is by the Reedrmmendation of a great Favourife, or Court-Miftrels chofen out of thie Sect before mentioned, and fo, having been under a frange Bials all His Tife againtt Equity and falr dealing, lies as it were under a fatal Necelifty of favouring, fififting, double dealing and opprefion, and befides through

the Houyhnhnms.

Age, Infirmity, and Diftempers grown lazy, unactive, and inattentive, and thereby almoft incapacitated frome doing any thing becoming the Nature of his Imployment, and the Duty of his Office. In fuch Cafes, the Decifions and Determinations of Men fo bred, and fo qualified, may with Reafon be expected on the wrong side of the Caufe, fince thofe who can take Harangue and Noife, (if purfued with Warmth, and drawn out into a Length, ) for reafoning, are not much to be wondered at, if they infer the Weight of the Argument from the Heavinefs of the Pleading.

Ir is a Maxim among thefe Men, That whatever has been done before may legally be done again: And therefore they take fpecial Care to record all the Decifions formerly made, even thofe which have through Ignotance or Corruption contradicted the Rules of common Juftice, and the general Reafon of Mankind. Thefe, under the Name of Precedents, they produce as Authorities, and thereby endeavour to juftify the moft iniquitous Opinions; and they are fo lucky in this Practice, that it tarely fails of Decrees anfwerable to their Intentiand Expectation.

230 A Voyage io

IN pleading, they ftudioully avoid entring into the Merits of the Caule; but are louid, violent and tedious in dwelling upon all Circumffances which are not to the Purpofe. For Inflance, in the Cafe already mentioned; they never defire to know what Claim or Title my Adverfary had to my Cow, but whether the faid Cow were red or black, her Horns long or fhort; whether the Field I graze her in be round or fquare, whether fhe was milked at home or abroad, what $D$ feafes the is fubject to, and the like; after which they confult Precedents, adjourn the Caufe, from time to time, and in ten, twenty, or thirty $\mathbf{Y}$ ears, come to an Iffue.

the HOLYHNHNMs. 231

It is likewife to be obferved, that this Society hath a peculiar Cant and Jargon of their own, that no other Mortal can underftand, and wherein all their Laws are written, which they take fpecial Care to multiply ; whiereby they have gone near to Confound the very Effence of Truth and Fallehood, of Right and Wrong; fo that it may take thirty Years to decide whether the Field, left me by my Anceftors for fix Gencrations, belongs to me or to a Stranger three hundred Miles off.

In the Tryal of Perfons acculed for Crimes againft the State, the Method is much more fhort and commendable: For if thofe in Power, who know well how to chufe Inftruments fit for their Purpofe, take care to recommend and promote out of this Clan a proper Perw 14

R 3
fon, $23^{2}$ A Vovage to
fon, his Method of Education and Pra* Ctice makes it eafy to him, when his Patron's Difpofition is underftood, without Difficulty or Stady either to condemn or acquit the Criminal, and at the fame time ftrietly preferve all due Forms of Laxw.
-Her e my Mafter interpofing faid it was a Pity, that Creatures endowed with fuch prodigious Ablilities of Mind as thefe Advocates by the Defription I gave bf them muft certainly be, were not frather encouraged to be Inftruccors of ottlers in Wiffom and Knowtedge. In anfwer to which I affured his Honour that the Bufinefs and Study of their own Calling and Profeffion fo took up all their Thoughts and engroffed all their Timie, that they minded nothing celfe, and that therefore, in all points lout of their own Trade, many of them were of fol great Ignorafice fand Stupidity, that it wwas hard to piok out of any Profeflion a Generation of (IIO)

the Houyhnhings. 233

Men more defpicable in common Converfation, or who were fo much looked upon as avowed Enemies to all Knowledge and Learning, being equally difpofed to pervert the general reafon of Mankind in every other fubject of Difcourfe, as in that of their own calling.

A Continuation of the State of Eng: land; so well governed by a Queen as to need no firft Minifter. The Character of fuch an one in fome European Courts.

MY Mafter was yet wholly at a lofs to underftand what Motive could incite this Race of Lawyers to perplex, difquiet, and weary themfelves, and engage in a Confederacy of Injuftice, merely for the fake of injuring their Fellow-Animals; neither could he comprehend what I meant in faying they did it for Hire. Whereupon I was at much pains to decribe to him the ufe of Money, the Materials it was made of, and the value of the Metals, that when a raboo had got a great ftore of this precious Subftance, he was able to purchafe whatever he had a mind to, the fineft Cloathing, the nobleft Houfes, great Tracts of Land, the mof coftly Meats and Drinks, and have his choice of the moft beautiful Females. Therefore fince Money alone, was able to perform all thefe feats, our Yaboos thought, they could never have enough of it to feend or to fave, as they found themfelves inclined from their natural bent cither to Profufion or Avarice. That the rich Man enjoyed the fruit of the poor Man's Labour, and the latter were a thoufand to one in proportion to the former. That the bulk of our People were forced to live miferably, by labouring every Day for fmall Wages to make a few live plentifully. I enlarged myfelf much on thefe and many other particulars to the fame purpofe: But his Honour was ftill to feek: For he went upon a fuppofition that

the Houyhninms. 235

$$
23^{6} \quad A \text { Voyage to }
$$

that all Animals had a title to their fhare in the Productions of the Earth, and efrecially thofe who prefided over the reft. Therefore he defired I would let him know, what thefe cofly Meats were, and how any of us happened to want them. Whereupon I enumerated as many forts as came into my head, with the various methods of deefing them, which could not be done with. out fending Veffels by Sea to every part of the World, as well for Liquors to drink, as for Sauces, and innumeras. ble other Conveniencies. I affured him, that this whole Globe of Earth mult be at leaft three times gone found, before one of our better female Yaboos could get her Breakfaft, or a Cup to put it in. He faid, That muft needs be a miferable Country which cannot furnifh Food for its own Inhabitants. But what he chiefly wondered at, was, how fuch vaft tratts of Grounds ss I defribed flould be wholly withoute frefb Water, and the People put to the Neceffity of lending over the Sea for Drink. I replied, that England (the dear Place of my Nativity) was computed to produce three times the quantity of Food, more than its Inhabitants are able to confume, as well as Liquors extracted from Grain, or preffed out of the Fruit of certain Trees, which made excellent Drink, and the fame Proportion in every other Convenience of Life. But in order to feed the Luxury and Intemperance of the Males, and the Vanity of the Fernales, we fent away the greateft Part of bur neceeflary Things to other Countries, from whence in retuwn we brought the Materials of Difeares, Folly and Vice, to fpend among ourfelves. Hence it follows of NeceefliIty, that vaft Numbers of our People are compelled to feek their Livelihood by Begging, Robbing, Stealing, Cheating, Pimping, Forfwearing, Flattering, Suborning, Forging, Gaming, Lying, Fawning, Hectoring, Noting, Scribling, Stargazing, Poyfoning, Whoring, Cant-嘘 6

$23^{8}$ A Voyage to
ing, Libelling, Free-thinking, and the like Occupations: Every one of which Terms, I was at much Pains to make him underftand.

That Wine was not imported a. mong us from foreign Countries, tof fup. ply the want of Wate: ov other Drinks, but becaure it was a fort of Liquidwhich made us merry, by putting us out of our Senfes; diverted all melancholy Thoughts, begat wild extravagant Ina: ginations in the Brain, raied our Hopes, and banifhed our Fears, fit fpended every Office of Reafon for a time, and deprived us of the Ufe of our Limbs, till we fell into a profound Sleep; although it muft be confeffed, that we always awaked fick and difpirited, and that the Ufe of this Liquor filled us with Difeafes, which made our Lives uncomrfortable and fhort.

But befide all this, the Bulk of our People fupported themfelves by furnith.

the Houyhnhems. 239

 ing the Neceffities and Conveniencies of Life to the Rich, and to each other. For inftance, when I am at home and dreffed as I ought to be, I carry on my Body the Workmanfhip of an hundred Tradefmen ; the Building and Furniture of my Houfe employ as many more, and five times the Number to adorn my Wife.I was going on to tell him of another fort of People, who get their Livelihood by attending the Sick, having upon fome occafions informed his Honour that many of my Crew had died of Difeafes. But here it was with the utmoft Difficulty, that I brought him to apprehend what I meant. He could eafily conceive, that a Houybnbrm grew weak and heavy a few Days before his Death, or by fome Accident might hurt a Limb. But that Nature, who works all things to Perfection, fhould fuffer any Pains to breed in our Bodies, he thought it impoffible, and defired to know the reafon

240 A Voyage to
reafon of fo unaccountable an Evil. I told him, we fed on a thourand Things which operated the one contrary to each otherg that we eat when we were not hungry, and drank without the Provocation of Thirft; That we fate whole Nights drinking ftrong Liquors witho out eating a Bit, which difpofed us to Sloth, enflamed our Bodies, and precipitated or prevented Digeftion. That proftitute Female Yaboos acquired a certain Malady, which bred Rottennefs in the Bones of thofe, who fell into their Embraces; That this and many other Difeafes, were propagated from Father to Son, fo that great Numbers come into the World with complicated Maladies upon them; that it would be endlefs to give him a Catalogue of all Difeafes incident to humane Bodies; for they could not be fewer than five or fix hundied, fpread over every Limb, and Joynt; in fhort, every Part, externa! and inteftine, having Difeafes appropria. ted to them. To remedy which, there was a fort of People bred up among us, in the Profeffion or Pretence of curing the Sick. And becaufe I had fome Skill in the Faculty, I would in Gratitude to his Honour, let him know the whole Myftery and Method by which they proceed.

the Houyhnhnms. 241

Their Fundamental is, That all Difeafes arife from Repletion, from whenice they conclude, that a great Evacuation of the Body is neceffary, either through the natural Paffage, or upwards at the Mouth. Their next Bufinefs is, from Herbs, Minerals, Gums, Oyls, Shells, Salts, Juices, Seaweed, Excrements, Barks of Trees, Serpents, Toads, Frogs, Spiders, dead Mens Flefh and Bones, Beafts and Fifhes, to form a Compolition for Smell and Tafte the moft abominable, naufeous and deteftable, they can poffibly contrive, which the Stomach immediately rejects with loathing; and this they call a Vomit; or elle from the fame Store-

242 A Voyage to Store-houfe, with fome other poyfonouis Additions, they command us to take in at the Orifice above or below, (juift as the Phyfician then happens to be difpo: fed) a Medicine equally annoying and difguffull to the Bowels, which rex laxing the Belly, drives down all before it, and this they call a Purge, or a Glyfer. For Nature (as the Pliyficians alledge) having intended the fuperior anterior Orifice only for the Intromiflion of Solids and Liquids, and the inferior for Ejection, thefe Artifts ingenioully confidering, that in all Difeafes Nature is forced out of her Seat; therefore to re* place her in it, the Body muff be treated in a manner directly contrary, by interchanging the Ufe of each Orifice, forcing Solids and Liquids in at the $A$. mus, and making Evacuations at the Mouth.

But, befides real Difeafes, we are fubject to many that are onily imagina. ry, for which the Phyficians have invented
the Houy
vented imaginary Cures; thefe have their feveral Names, and fo have the Drugs that are proper for them, and with thefe our Female Yaboos are always infefted.

One great Excellency in this Tribe is their Skill at Prognofticks, wherein they feldom fail; their Predictions in real Difeafes, when they rife to any De gree of Malignity, generally portending Death, which is always in their Power when Recovery is not: And therefore, upon any unexpected Signs of Amendment, after they have pronounced their Sentence, rather than be accufed as falfe Prophets, they know how to approve their Sagacity to the World by a feafonable Dofe.

They are likewife of fecial Ufe to Husbands and Wives, who are grown weary of their Mates, to eldef Sons, to great Minifters of State, and often to Princes.

$$
\text { Vol.II. } \quad \mathrm{S} \text { I HAD }
$$

I had formerly upon occafion difcourfed with my Mafter upon the Na ture of Government in general, and particularly of our own excellent Confithtion, defervedly the Wonder and Envy of the whole World. But having here accidentally mentioned a Miniter of State; he commanded me fome time affer to inform him, what Species of $Y_{a}$. boos I particularly meant by that Ap. plication.

I told him, that our She Governor or Queen having no Ambition to gratify, no Inclination to fatisfy of extend. ing her Power to the Injury of her Neighbours, or the Prejudice of her own Subjects, was therefore fo far from needing a corrupt Miniftry to carry on or cover any finifter Defigns, that fhe not only directs her own Actions to the Good of her People, conducts them by the Direction, and reftrains them within the Limitation of the Laws of ## the Houxhnhims. 245

lier own Country; but fubmits the Behaviour and Acts of thofe fle intrufts with the Adminiftration of her Affairs to the Examination of her great Council, and fubjects them to the Penalties of the Law; and therefore never puts any fuch Confidence in aniy of her Subjects as to entruft them with the whole and entire Adminiftration of her Af. fairs: But I added, that in fome former Reigns here, and in many other Courts of Europe now, where Princes grew indolent and carelefs of their own Affairs through a conftant Love and Purfuit of Pleafure, they made ufe of fuch an Adminiftrator, as I had mentioned, under the Title of firft or chief $M_{i}$ nifter of State, the Defcription of which, as far as it may be collected not only from their Actions, but from the Letters, Memoirs, and Writings publifhed by themfelves, the Truth of which has not yet been difputed, may be allowed to be as follows: That he is a Perfon wholly exempt from Joy S 2
and

246 Voyage to
and Grief, Love and Hatred, Pity and Anger; at leaft makes ufe of no other Paffions but a violent Defire of Wealth, Power and Titles; That he never tells Words to all Ufes, except to the Indication of his Mind; That he never tells a Truth; but with an Intent that you fhould take it for a Lye; nor a Lye, but with a Defign that you fhould take it for a Trutb; That thofe he fpeaks worft of behind their Backs, are in the fureft Way to Preferment; and whenever he begins to praife you to others or to yourfelf, you are from that Day forlorn. The worft Mark you can receive is a Promife, efpecially when it is confirmed with an Oath; after which every wife Man retires, and gives over all Hopes.

There are three Methods by which a Man may rife to be chief Minifter: The firft is, by knowing how with prudence to difpofe of a Wife, a Daughter, or a Sifter: The fecond, by betraying or undel-

the Houyhninms. 247

 undermining his Predeceffor: And the third is by a furious Zeal in publick Affemblies againft the Corruptions of the Courr. But a wife Prince would rather chufe to employ thofe who practife the laft of thefe Methods; becaufe fuch Zealots prove always the moft obfequious and fubfervient to the Will and Paffions of their Mafter. That thefe Miniflers laving all Employments at their Difpofal, preferve themfelves in Power by bribing the Majority of a Senate or great Council; and at laft by an ACt of Indemnity (whereof I defcribed the Nature to him) they fecured themfelves from After-reckonings, and retired from the Publick, laden with the Spoils of the Nation.The Palace of a Chief Minifter, is a Seminary to breed up others in his own Trade: The Pages, Lacquies, and Porter, by imitating their Mafter, become Minifters of State in their feve. ral Diftritts, and learn to excel in the

$$
\mathrm{S}_{3} \quad \text { three }
$$

248 Voyage to
three principal Ingredients, of Info. Lence, Lying, and Bribery. According. 1y, they have a Subaltern Court paid to them by Perfons of the beft Rank, and fometimes by the Force of Dexterity and Impudence, arrive through feveral Gradations to be Succeffors to their Lord.

He is ufually governed by a decayed Wench, or favourite Footman, who are the Tunnels through which all Graces are conveyed, and may properly be called, in the laft Refort, the Governors of the Kingdom.

One Day in Difcourfe my Mafter having heard me mention the Nobility of my Country, was pleafed to make me a Compliment which I could not pretend to deferve: That he was fure, I mult have been born of fome noble Family, becaufe I far exceeded in Shape, Colour, and Cleanliners, all the raboos

$$
\text { the Houyhnhins. } 249
$$

raboos of his Nation, although I feemed to fail in Strength and Agility, which muft be imputed to my different Way of Living from thofe other Brutes; and befides, I was not only endowed with the Faculty of Speech, but likewife with fome Rudiments of Reafon, to a Degree, that with all his Acquaintance I paffed for a Prodigy.

He made me obferve, that among the Houybnbinms, the White, the Sorrel, and the Iron-grey, were not fo exactly fhaped as the Bay, the Dapplegrey, and the Black; nor born with equal Talents of the Mind, or a Capacity to improve them; and therefore continued always in the Condition of Servants, without ever afpiring to match out of their own Race, which in that Country would be reckoned monftrous and unnatural.

Imade his Honour my moft humble Acknowledgments! for the good S 4 Opi-

250 Voỳage to Opinion he was pleared to conceive of me; but affured him at the fame Time, that my Birth was of the lower Sort, having been born of plain honeft Parents, who were juft able to give me a tolerable Education: That Nobility among us was altogether a different Thing from the Idea he had of it; That our young Noblemen are bred from their Childhood in Idlenefs and Luxury; that as foon as Years will permit, they confume their Vigour, and contract odious Difeafes among lewd Females; and when their Fortunes are almoft ruined, they marry fome Woman of mean Birth, difagreeable Perfon, and unfound Conftitution, merely for the Sake of Money, whom they hate and defpife. That the Productions of fuch Marriages are generally fcrophulous, ricketty, or deformed Children; by which means the Family feldom continues above three Generations, unlefs the Wife takes Carc to provide a healthy Father among

the Houyhninms. 25 I

 her Neighbours, or Acquaintance, in order to improve and continue the Breed. That a weak difeafed Body, a meager Countenance, and fallow Complexion, are no uncommon Marks of a Great Man ; and a healthy robuft Appearance is fo far difgraceful in a Man of Quality, that the World is apt to conclude his real Father to have been one of the Inferiors of the Family, efpecially when it is feen that the Imperfections of his Mind run parallel with thofe of his Body, and are little elfe than a Compofition of Spleen, Dulnefs, Ignorance, Caprice, Senfuality, and Pride.

252 AVOYAGE to

LGM CH A P. VH.
The Autbor's great Love of his Native Country. His Mafter's Obfervations upon the Conffitution and Adminijfration of England; as deforibed by the Author, with parallel Cafes and Comparifons. His Maftex's Obfervations upon Human Nature.

THE Reader may be difpofed to wonder how I could prevail on myfelf to give fo free a Reprefentation of my own Species, among a Race of Mortals who were already too apt to conceive the vileft Opinion of human Kind from that entire Congruity betwixt me and their Yaboos. But I muft freely confers, that the many Virtues of thofe excellent 2uadrupeds placed in oppofite View to human Corruptions, had fo fat operied my Eyes, and enlightened my Underftanding, that I began to view the Actions and Paffions of Man in a very different Light, and to think the Honour of my own kind not worth managing; which, befides, it was impoffible for me to do before a Perfon of fo acute a Judgment as my Mafter, who daily convinced me of a thoufand Faults in myfelf, whereof I had not the leaft Perception before, and which among us would never be numbered even among human Infirmities, I had likewife learned from his Example an utter Deteftation of all Falfehood or Difguife; and Iruth appeared fo amiable to me, that I determined upon facrificing every thing to it.

$$
\text { the Houyhnhims. } 253
$$

Let me deal fo candidly with the Reader, as to confers, that there was yet a much ftronger Motive for the Freedom I took in my Reprefentation 254 A VOYAGE to of Things. I had not been a Year in this Country, before I contracted fuch a Love and Veneration for the Inhabitants, that I entered on a firm Refolution never to return to human Kind, but to pais the reft of my Life among thefe admirable Houybubums in the Contemplation and Practice of every Virtue; where I could have no Example or Incitement to Vice. But it was decreed by Fortune, my perpetual Enemy, that fo great a Felicity fhould not fall to my fhare. However, it is now fome Comfort to reflect, that in what I faid of my Countrymen, I extenuated their Faults as much as I durft before fo Atrict an Examiner, and upon every Article, gave as favourable a Turn as the Matter would bear. For, indeed, who is there alive that will not be fwayed by his Byafs and Partiality to the Place of his Birth?

I haye related the Subftance of feveral Converfations I had with my Mafter,

the HOUYHNHNMS. 255

Mafter, during the greateft part of the Time I had the Honour to be in his fervice, but have indeed for Brevity fake omitted much more than is here fet down.

When I had anfwered all his Queftions, and his Curiofity feemed to be fully fatisfied; he fent for me one Morning early, and commanding me to fit down at fome diftance, (an Honour which he had never before conferred upon me) he faid, he had been very ferioufly confidering my whole Story, as far as it related both to myfelf and my Country: That he looked upon us as a fort of Animals to whofe fhare, by what Accident he could not conjecture, fome fmall Pittance of Reafon had fallen, whereof we made no other Ufe than by its Affiftance to aggravate our natural Corruptions, and to acquire new ones which Nature had not given us, That we difarmed ourfelves of the few Abilities fhe had beftowed, had been very fucceffful in multiplying our original Wants, and feemed to fpend our whole Lives in vain Endeavours to fupply them by our own Inventions. That as to myfelf, it was manifet I had neither the Strength or Agility of a common Yaboo, that I walked infirmly on my hinder Feet, had found out a contrivance to make my Claws of no Ufe or Defence, and to remove the Hair from my Chin, which was intended as a fhelter from the Sun and the Weather. Laftly, That I could neither run with fpeed, nor climb Trees like my Brethren (as he called them) the Yaboos in this Country.

256 Voyage to

That our Inftitutions of Govery. ment and Laro were plainly owing to our grofs Defects in Reafon, and by confequence, in Virtue; becaule Reafon alone is fufficient to govern a rational Creature; which was therefore a Cliaracter we had no pretence to challenge, even from the Account I had given of my own People, although he manifeftly perceived, that in order to favour them, I had concealed many Particulars, and often faid the thing which was not.

the Houyhnhems. 257

He was the more confirmed in this opinion, becaufe he obferved, that as I agreed in every Feature of my Body with other Yaboos, except where it was to my real Difadvantage in point of Strength, Speed, and Activity, the fhortnefs of my Claws, and fome other particulars where Nature had no part; fo from the Reprefentation I had given him of our Lives, our Manners, and our Actions, he found as near a refemblance in the difpofition of our Minds. He faid the Yaboos were known to hate one another more than they did any different fpecies of Animals; and the Reafon ufually affigned, was, the Odioufnefs of their own Shapes, which all could fee in the reft, but none in themfelves. He had therefore begun to think it not unwife in ts to cover our Bodies, and by that 258 a $A$ Voyage to that Invention, conceal many of our own Deformities from each other, which would elfe be hardly fupportable. But, the now found he had been miftaken, and that the Diffentions of thofe Brutes in his Country were owing to the fame Caufe with ours, as I had defcribed them. For, if (faid he) you throw among five Yaboos as much Food as would be fufficient for fifty, they will, inftead of eating peaceably, fall together by the ears, each fingle one impatient to bave all to itfelf; and therefore a Servant was ufually employed to fand by while they were feeding abroad, and thofe kept at home were tied at a diftance from each other; that if a Cow died of Age or Accident, before a Houybnbrm could fecure it for his own Yaboos, thofe in the Neighbourhood would come in Herds to feize it, and then would enfue fuch a Battle as I had defcribed, with terrible Wounds made by their Claws on both fides, although they feldom were able to kill

the Houyhnhnms.

one another, for want of fuch convenient Inftruments of Death, as we had invented. At other times the like Battles have been fought between the $\Upsilon_{a}$ hoos of feveral Neighbourhoods without any vifible Caufe: Thofe of one Diftrict watching all Opportunities to furprize the next before they are prepared. But if they find their Project hath mifcarryed, they return home, and for want of Enemies, engage in what I call a Civil War among themfelves.

That in fome Fields of his Country, there are certain fizining Stones of feveral Colours, whereof the Yaboos are violently fond, and when Part of thefe Jtones is fixed in the Earth, as it fometimes happeneth, they will dig with their Claws for whole Days to get them out, then carry them away, and hide them by Heaps in their Kennels; but ftill looking round with great Caution, for fear their Comrades fhould find out their Treafure. My Mafter Vol.II.

T faid,

260 Voyage to
faid, he could never difcover the Reafon of this unnatural Appetite, or how thefe Stones could be of any Ufe to a Yaboo; but now he believed it might proceed from the fame Principle of Avarice, which I had afcribed to Mankind; that he had once, by way of Experiment, privately removed a Heap of thefe Stones from the Place where one of his Yaboos had buried it: Whereupon, the fordid Animal miffing his Treafure, by his toud lamenting brought the whole Herd to the Place, there miferably howled, then fell to biting and tearing the reft, began to pine away, would neither eat, nor fleep, nor work, till he ordered a Servant privately to convey the Stones into the fame Hole, and hide them as before; which when his $\mathrm{raboo}^{\text {had }}$ Found, he prefently recovered his Spirits and good Humour, but took care to remove them to a better hiding Place, and hath ever fince been a very ferviceable Brute.

the HouYHNHNMs.

M > Mafter farther affured me, which I alfo obferved myfelf, That in the Fields where the Jining Stones ab bound, the fierceft and moft frequent Battles are fought, occafioned by perpetual Inroads of the Neighbouring raboos

He faid, it was common when two Yaboos difcovered fuch a Stone in a Field, and were contending which of them fhould be the Proprietor, a third would take the Advantage, and carry it away from them both; which my Mafter would needs contend to have fome kind of Refemblance with our Suits at Law ; wherein I thought it for our Credit not to undeceive him; fince the Decifion he mentioned was much more equitable than many De crees among us: Becaure the Plaintiff and Defendant there loft nothing beffdes the Stome they contended for, whereas our Courts of Equity, would feldom have buoy $\mathrm{T}_{2}$ difmiffed

262 A Voyage to
difmiffed the Caule while either of them had any thing left.

My Mafter continuing his Difcourfe, faid, There was nothing that rendered the Yaboos more odious, than their undiftinguifhing Appetite to devour every thing that came in their Way, whether Herbs, Roots, Berries, the corrupted Flefh of Animals, or all min. gled together: And it was peculiar in their Temper, that they were fonder of what they could get by Rapine or Stealth at a greater diftance, than much better Food provided for them at home. If their Prey held out, they would eat till they were ready to burft, after which Nature had pointed out to them a certain Root that gave them a general Evacuation.

There was alfo another kind of Root very juicy, but foinewhat rare and difficult to be found, which the raboos fought for with much Eagernef, and would fuck it with great Delight; and it produced the fame Effects that Wine hath upon us. It would make them fometimes hug, and fometimes tear one another, they would howl and grin, and chatter, and tumble, and then fall afleep in the Dirt.

the Houyhninms. 263

I D id indeed obferve, that the $\mathrm{ra}_{\text {a }}$ boos were the only Animals in this Country fubject to any Difeafes; which however, were much fewer than Horfes have among us, and contracted not by any Ill-treatment they meet with, but by the Naftinefs and Greedinefs of that fordid Brute. Neither has their Language any more than a general Appellation for thofe Maladies, which is borrowed from the Name of the Beaft, and called Hnea- Yaboo or the Yaboo's:Evil, and the Cure prefcribed is a Mixture of their owin Dung and Urine forcibly put down the Yaboo's Throat. This I have fince often taken myfelf, and do freely recommend it to my CountiyT3 men, men for the publick Good, as an admirable Specifick agaift all Difeafes pro. duced by Repletion.

264 A Voyage 10

B As to Learning, Government, Atts, Manufactures, and the like, my Mafter confeffed he could find little or no refemblance between the Yaboos of that $^{\text {fat }}$ Country and thofe in ours. For, he on$1 y$ meant to obferve what Parity there was in our Natures. He had heard indeed fome curious Houybnbnms obferve, that in moft Herds there was a fort of ruling Yaboo, (as among us there is generally fome leading or principal Stag in a Park) who was always more deformed in Body, and mifchierous in Difpofition, than any of the reft. That this Leader had ufually a Favourite as like bimpelf as the could get; whofe Employment was to lick Bis Mafter's Feet and Pofto. riors, and drive the female Yahoos to Bis Kennel; for which he was now and then rewarded with a piece of $\mathrm{Als}^{\prime}$ 's Flefh. This Favourite is hated by the whole Herd, and therefore to protect himfelf, keeps always near the Perfon of his Leader. He ufually continues in office till a worfe can be found; but the very Moment he is difcarded, his Succeffor, at the Head of all the Yaboos in that Diftrict, young and old, male and female, come in a Body, and difcharge their Excrements upon him from head to foot. But how far this might be applicable to our Courts, and Favourites, and Minifters of State, my Mafter faid I could beft determine.

the Houyhnhmms. 265

IDURST make no return to this malicious Infinuation, which debafed human Underftanding below the Sagacity of a common Hound, who has Judgment enough to diftinguifh and follow the cry of the ableft Dog in the pack, without being ever miftaken.

My Mafter told me, there were fome Qualities remarkable in the $\mathrm{Y}_{a}$ boos, which he had not obferved me to

$$
\text { T } 4 \text { mention, }
$$

266 VOYAGF to $A$ हhy
mention, or at leaft very flightly, in the Accounts I had given him of human Kind ; he faid, Thofe Animals, like other Brutes, had their Females in common; but in this they differed, that the She-Yaboo would admit the Male, while fhe was pregnant, and that the Hees would quarrel and fight with Females as fiercely as with each other. Both which Practices were fuch degrees of Brutality, that no other fenfitive Creature ever arrived at.

Another thing he wondered at in the Yaboos, was their frange Difpofition to Naftinefs and Dirt, whereas there appears to be a natural love of Cleanlinefs in all other Animals. As to the two former Accufations, I was glad to let them pafs without any Reply, becaufe I had not a Word to offer upon them in defence of my Species, which otherwife I certainly had done from my own Inclinations. But I could have eafily vindicated human Kind

the Houyhnhems. 267

Kind from the Imputation of Singularity upon the Article, if there had been any Swine in that Country, (as unluckily for me there were not) which although it may be a fweeter Quadru. ped than a Yaboo, cannot I humbly conceive in Juftice pretend to more Cleanlinefs; and fo his Honour himfelf muft have owned, if he had feen their filthy way of feeding, and their cuftom of wallowing and fleeping in the Mud.

My Mafter likewife mentioned another Quality which his Servants had difcovered in feveral Yaboos, and to him was wholly unaccountable. He faid, a Fancy would fometimes take a Yaboo, to retire into a Corner, to lie down and howl, and groan, and fpurn away all that came near him, although he were young and fat, wanted neither Food nor Water; nor could the Servants imagine what could poffibly ail him. And the only Remedy they found, was ro fet him to hard work, after which he would infallibly come to himfelf. To this I was fflent out of partiality to my own Kind; yet here I could difcover the true Seeds of Spleen, which only feizeth on the Lazy, the Luxurious, and the Rich; who, if they were forced to undergo the fame Regimen, I would undertake for the cure.

268 A Voyage to

- His Honour had further obferved, that a Female-Tahoo would often ftand behind a Bank or Bufh, to gaze on the young Males paffing by, and then appear, and hide, ufing many antick Geftures and Grimaces, at which time it was obferved, that fhe had a moft offenfive Smell; and when any of the Males advanced, would flowly retire, looking often back, and with a counterfeit fhew of Fear, run off into fome convenient Place where the knêw the Male would follow her.

the Houyhninms. 269

At other times if a Female Stranget came among them, three or four of her own Sex would get about her, and ftare and chatter, and grin, and fmell her all over, and then turn off with Geftures that feemed to exprefs Con: tempt and Difdain.

Perhaps my Mafter might refine a little in thefe Speculations, which he had drawn from what he obferved himfelf, or had been told him by others: However, I could not reflect without fome Amazement and much Sorrow, that the Rudiments of Lewdnefs, Coquetry, Cenfure, and Scandal, fhould have place by Inftinct in Womankind.

I expected every Moment, that my Mafter would accufe the Yaboos of thofe unnatural Appetites in both Sexes, fo common among us. But Nature, it feems, hath not been fo expert 270 A VOYAGE to Nlt? pert a School-miftrefs; and thefe politer Pleafures are entirely the Productions of Art and Reafon, on our fide of the Globe.

the HOUYHNHNMS. 271

C H A P. VIII.

The Autbor relates feveral Particulars of the Yahoos. The great Virtues of the Houyhnhnms. The Education and Exercifes of their Youth. Their general Afembly.

$A$ S I ought to have underftood humane Nature much better than I fuppofed it poffible for my Mafter to do, fo it was eafy to apply the Character he gave of the raboos to myfelf and my Countrymen, and I believed I could yet make farther Difcoveries from my own Obfervation. I therefore often begged his Favour to let me go among the Herds of Yaboos in the Neighbourhood, to which he always very gracioufly isi AVOYAGE to cioufly confented, being perfectly con: vinced, that the Hatred I bore thofe Brutes, would never fuffer me to be corrupted by them; and his Honour ordered one of his Servants, a ftrong forrel Nag, very honeft and good-natured, to be my Guard, without whofe Protection I durft not undertake fuch Adventures. For I have already told the Reader how much I was peftered with thofe odious Animals upon my firft Arrival: And I afterwards failed very narrowly three or four times of falling into their Clutches, when I happened to ftray at any Diftance without my Hanger. And I have reafon to believe they had fome Imagination that I was of their own Species, which I often affifted myfelf, by ftripping up my Sleeves, and fhewing ny naked Arms and Breaft in their fight, when my Pro: tector was with me. At which times they would approach as near as they durft, -and imitate my Actions after the man--ner of Mankeys, but ever-with great figns of Hatred, as a tame Fack-Dare with Cap and Stockings, is always perfecuted by the wild ones, when he happens to be got among them.

.the Houyhnhings. 273

- They are prodigioully nimble from their Infancy; however, I once caught ${ }^{\circ}$ a young Male of three Years old, and endeavoured by all Marks of Tendernefs to make it quiet; but the little Imp fell a-fqualling, and fcratching, and biting with fuch Violence, that I was forced to let it go, and it was high time, for a whole Troop of old ones came about us at the Noife, but finding the Cub was fafe, (for away it ran) and my forrel Nag being by, they durft not venture near us. I obferved the young Animal's Flefh to fmell veryrank, and the ftink was fomewhat between a Weafel and a Fox, but much more difagreeable. Iforgot another Circumiftance (and perhaps I might have the Reader's Pardon, if it were wholly omitted) that while I held the odious Vermin in my Hands,

274 A Voyage 20
Hands, it voided its filthy Excrements of a yellow liquid Subftance, all over my Cloaths; but by good Fortune there was a fmall Brook hard by, where I wafhed myfelf as clean as I could, although I durf not come into my Ma-- ffer's Prefence, until I were fufficiently aired.

By what I could difcover, the Yaboos appear to be the moft unteachable of all Animals, their Capacities never reaching higher than to draw or carry Burthens. Yet I am of Opinion, this Defeit arifeth chiefly from a perverfe, reftive Difpofition. For they are cunning, malicious, treacherous and revengeful. They are ftrong and hardy, but of a cowardly Spirit, and by confequence, infolent, abject, and cruel. It is obferved, that the Red-baired of both Sexes are more libidinous and mifchievous than the reft, whom yet they much exceed in Strength and Activity.

The

the Houyhnhinms. 275

The Houbbrbums keep the raboos for prefent ufe in Huts not far from the Houfe; but the reft are fent abroad to certain Fields, where they dig up Roots, eat feveral kinds of Herbs, and fcratcl about for Carrion, or fometimes catch Weafels and Lubimubs (a fort of wild Rat) which they greedily devour. Nature hath taught them to dig deep Holes with their Nails on the fide of a rifing Ground, where they lie by themfelves, only the Kennels of the Females are larger, fufficient to hold two or three Cubs.

They fwim from their Infancy like Frogs, and are able to continue long under Water, where they often take Fifh, which the Females carry home to theif Young. And upon this Occafion, I hope the Reader will pardon my relating an odd Adventure.

Vol.II.

U
Being

Being one Day abroad with my Protector, the forrel Nag, and the Weather exceeding hot, I entreated him to let me bathe in a River that was near. He confented, and I immediately ftripped myfelf ftark naked, and went down foftly into the Stream. It happened that a young Female Yaboo ftanding behind a Bank, faw the whole proceeding, and enflamed by Defire, as the Nag and I conjectured, came running with all fpeed, and leaped into the Water within five Yards of the Place where I bathed. I was never in my Life fo terribly frighted; the Nag was grazing at fome diftance, not fufpecting any harm. She embraced me after a moft fulfome manner; I roared as loud as I could, and the Nag came gallopping towards me, whereupon the quitted her Gralp, with the utmoft Reluctancy, and leaped upon the oppofite Bank, where fhe flood gazing, and howling all the time I was putting on my Cloaths.

THIS

the Houynnanms. $27 y$

This was matter of Diverfion to my Mafter and his Family, as well as of Mortification to myfelf. For now I could no longer deny that I was a real Yaboo, in every Limb and Feature, fince the Females had a natural Propenfity to me as one of their own Species: Neither was the Hair of this Brute of a red Colour, (which might have been fome Excufe for an Appetite a little irregular) but black as a Sloe, and her Countenance did not make an Appearance altogether fo hideous as the reft of the Kind; for I think, fhe could not be above eleven Years old.

Having lived three Years in this Country, the Reader, I fuppore, will expect, that I fhould, like other Travellers, give him fome Account of the Manners and Cuftomis of its Inhabitants, which it was indeed my principal Study to learn.
$278 \quad A$ Voyage to
As thefe noble. Honybnbums are en. dowed by Nature with a general Difpofition to all Virtues, and have no Conceptions or Ideas of what is evil in a rational Creature, fo their grand Maxim is, to cultivate Reafon, and to be wholly governed by it. Neither is Reafon among them a Point Problematical as with us, where Men canargue with Plaufibility on both fides of a Queftion; but ftrikes you with immediate Conviction; as it mult needs do where it is not mingled, obfcured, or difcoloured by Paffion and Interefl. I remember it was with extreme Difficulty that I could bring my Mafter to underftand the meaning of the Word Opinion, or how a Point could be difputable; becaufe Reafon taught us to affirm or deny only where we are certain; and beyond our Knowledge we cannot do either. So that Controverfies, Wranglings, Difputes, and Pofitivenefs in falfe or dubious Propofitions are

the Houyhnhnms. 279

 ate Evils unknown among the Howybubnms. In the like manner, when I ufed to explain to him our feveral Syftems of Natural Pbilofophy, he would laugh that a Creature pretending to Reafon fhould value iefelf upon the Knowledge of other Peoples Conjectures, and in Things, where that Knowledge, if it were certain, could be of no Ufe. Wherein he agreed entirely with the Sentiments of Socrates, as Plato delivers them; which I mention as the highieft Honour I can do that Prince of Philofophers. I have often fince reflected what Deftruction fuch a Doctrine would make in the Libraries of Europe, and how many Paths to Fame would be then fhut up in the learned World.Friendship and Benevolence are the two principal Virtues among the Houybubums, and thefe not confined to particular Objects, but univerfal to the whole Race. For a Stranger from the $U_{3}$ remoteft

280 Voyage to
remoteft Part is equally treated with the neareft Neighbour, and wherever he goes, looks upon himfelf as at home. They preferve Decency and Civility in the higheft Degrees, but are altogether ignorant of Ceremony. They have no Fondnees for their Colts or Foles, but the Care they take in educating them proceeds entirely from the Diftates of Reafon. And I obferved my Mafter to fhew the fame Affection to his Neighbour's Iffue that he had for his own. They will have it, that Nature teaches them to love the whole Species, and it is Reafon only that maketh a Diftinction of Perfons, where there is a fuperior Degree of Virtue,

When the Matron Houbbibums have produced one of each Sex, they no longer accompany with their Conforts, except they lofe one of their Iffue by fome Cafualty, which very feldom lappens: But in fuch a Cafe they meet again,

the Houyhnhinms. 28 I

 again, or when the like Accident befalls a Perfon, whofe Wife is paft bearing, fome other Couple beftow on him one of their own Colts, and then go together again till the Mother is pregnant. This Caution is neceffary to prevent the Country from being overburthened with Numbers. But the Race of inferior Houybninms bred up to be Servants is not fo frictly limited upon this Article; thefe are allowed to produce three of each Sex, to be Domefticks in the noble Families.In their Marriages they are exactly careful to chufe fuch Colours as will not make any difagreeable Mixture in the Breed. Strength is chiefly valued in the Male, and Comelinefs in the Female, not upon the account of Love, but to preferve the Race from degenerating; for where a Female happens to excel in Strength, a Confort is chofen with regard to Comelinefs. Courthip, Love, Prefents, Joyntures, Settlements, U 4 have have no place in their Thoughts; or Terms whereby to exprefs them in their Language. The young Couple meet, and are joyned, merely becaufe it is the Determination of their Parents and Friends: It is what they fee done every Day, and they look upon it as one of the necelfary Actions of a rational Being. But the Violation of Marriage, or any other Unchaftity, was never heard of: And the married Pair pafs their Lives with the fame Friendfhip and mutual Benevolence that they bear to all others of the fame Species, who come in their way; without Jealoufy, Fondneff, Quarrelling, or Difcontent.

282 Voyage to

In educating the Youth of both Sexes, their Method is admirable, and highly deferves our Imitation. Thefe are not fuffered to tafte a Grain of Oats, except upon certain Days, till eighteen Years old; nor Milk, but very rarell; and in Summer they graze two Hours in the Morning, and as long in the Evening, which their Parents likewife obferve, but the Servants are not allowed above half that time, and a great part of their Grafs is brought home, which they eat at the moft convenient hours, when they can be beft fpared from Work.

the Houyhnhems. 283

Temperance, Indufry, Exercife, and Cleanlinefs, are the Leffons equally enjoined to the young ones of both Sexes : And my Mafter thought it monftrous in us to give the Females a different kind of Education from the Males, except in fome Articles of domeftick Management ; whereby as he truly obferved, one half of our Natives were good for nothing but bringing Children into the World: And to truft the Care of our Children to fuch ufelefs Animals, he faid was yet a greater Inftance of Brutality.

But

284 Voyage ta

But the Honynbnbums train up their Youth to Strength, Speed, and Hardinefs, by exercifing them in running Races up and down fteep Hills, and over hard and ftony Grounds, and when they are all in a fweat, they are ordered to leap over head and ears into a Pond or a River. Four times a Year the Youth of a certain Diftriit meet to Shew their proficiency in Running, and Leaping, and other feats of Strength and Agility, where the Vietor is rewarded with a Song made in his or her Praife. On this Feftival the Servants drive a Herd of Yaboos into the Field, laden with Hay, and Oats, and Milk, for a Repaft to the Honybnbums; after which, thefe Brutes were immediately driven back again, for fear of being noifome to the Affembly.

Every fourth Year at the Vernal Equinox, there is a Reprefentative Council of the whole Nation, which meets

the Houyhnhems. 285

in a Plain about twenty Miles from our Houfe, and continues about five or fix Days. Here they enquire into the State and Condition of the feveral Diftricts, Whether they abound or be deficient in Hay or Oats, of Cows of Yaboos? And wherever there is any Want (which is but feldom) it is immediately fupplied by unanimous Confent and Contribution. Here likewife the Regulation of Children is fettled: As for inftance, if a Houybnbum hath two Males, he changeth one of them with another that hath two Females: And when a Child hath been loft by any Cafualty, where the Mother is paft breeding, it is determined what Family flall breed another to fupply the Lofs.

C H A P.

$$
286 \quad A \text { Voyage to }
$$

C H A P. IX.

A grand Debate at the General Af. fembly of the Houyhnhnms, and bow it was determined. The Learning of the Houyhnhnms. Their Buildings. Their manner of Burials. The Defectiveness of their Language.

O
N E of thefe Grand Affemblies was held in my time, about three months before my Departure, whither my Mafter went as the Reprefentative of our Diftrict. In this Council was refumed their old Debate, and indeed, the only Debate that ever happened in that Country ; whereof my Mafter after his return gave me a very particular Account.

the Houyhnanms. 287

The Quftion to be debated, was, Whether the Yaboos fhould be extirminated from the face of the Earth? One of the Members for the Affirmative offered feveral Arguments of great ftrength and weight, alledging, That as the Yaboos were the moft filthy, noifome, and deformed Animal which $\mathrm{Na}-$ ture ever produced, fo they were the moft reftive and indocible, mifchicvous and malicious: They would privately fuck the Teats of the Honybnbums Cows, kill and devour their Cats, trample down their Oats and Grafs, if they were not continually watched, and commit a thoufand other Extravagancies. He took notice of a general Tradition, That Yaboos had not been always in that Country: But, that many Ages ago, two of thefe Brutes appeared together upon a mountain, whether produced by the Heat of the Sun upon corrupted Mud and Slime, or from the Ooze or Froth of the Sea,

288 Voyage to
was never known. That thefe Yakoos engendered, and their Brood in a fhort time grew fo numerous as to over-ruh and infeft the whole Nation. That the Houybnbums to get rid of this Evil, made a general Hunting, and at laft enclofed the whole Herd, and deftroying the old ones, every Houylonbum kept two young ones in a Kennel, and brought them to fuch a degree of Tamenefs, as an Animal fo favage by $\mathrm{Na}^{-}$ ture can be capable of acquiring; ufing them for Draught and Carriage. That there feemed to be much Truth in this Tradition, and that thofe Creatures could not be Ylubniamfly (or Aborigines of the Land) becaufe of the violent Hatred the Honybubnms, as well as all other Animals, bore them ; which although their evil Difpofition fufficiently deferved, could never have arrived at fo high a Degree, if they had been Aborigines, or elfe they would have long fince been rooted out. That the Inhabitants taking a fancy to ufe the Service

$$
\text { the Houyhnhnms. } 289
$$

Service of the Yaboos, had very imprudently neglected to cultivate the Breed of Afes, which were a comely Animal, eafily kept, more tame and orderly, without any offenfive Smell, ftrong enough for Labour, although they yield to the other in Agility of body; and if their Braying be no agreeable Sound, it is far preferable to the horrible Howlings of the raboos.

Several others declared their Sentiments to the fame purpofe, when my Mafter propofed an Expedient to the Affembly, whereof he had indeed borrowed the Hint from me. He approved of the Tradition mentioned by the Honourable Member, who fpoke before, and affirmed, that the two Yaboos faid to be firft feen among them had been driven thither over the Sea ; that coming to Land, and being forfaken by their Companions, they retired to the Mountains, and degenerating by degrees, became in procefs of time, much more

290 - $A$ Voyage to
more favage than thofe of their own Species in the Country from whence thefe two Originals came. The reafon of his Affertion was, that he had now in his Poffeffion a certain wonderful $\Upsilon_{a}$ hoo, (meaning myfelf) which mof of them had heard of, and many of them had feen. He then related to them, how he firft found me, that my Body was all covered with an artificial Compofure of the Skins and Hairs of other Animals: That I had a Language of my own, and had thoroughly learned theirs; That I had related to him the Accidents which brought me thither: That when he faw me without my Covering, I was an exact $\Upsilon_{a b o o ~ i n ~ e v e r y ~ P a r t, ~ o n-~}^{\text {an }}$ ly of a whiter Colour, lefs hairy and with fhorter Claws. He added, how I had endeavoured to perfuade him, that in my own and other Countries the Yaboos acted as the governing, rational Animal, and held the Honsbnbnms in Servitude: That he oblerved in me all the Qualities of a Yaboo, only the Houчhnhnms. 291 ofily a little more civilized by fome TinCture of Reafon, which however was in a Degree as far inferior to the Honybnbum Race, as the Yaboos of their Country were to me: That, among other things, I mentioned a Cu ftom we had of Cafrating Honybnbums when they were young, in order to render them tame ; that the Operation was eafy and fafe ; that it was no Shame to I learn Wifdom from Brutes, as Induffry is taught by the Ant, and Building by the Swallow. (For fo I tranflate the Word $L$ Lhannh, although it be a much larger Fowl) That this Invention might be practifed upon the younger Yaboos here; which, befides rendring them tractable and fitter for Ufe, would in an Age put an end to the whole Species without deftroying Life. That, in the mean time the Honybubims fhould be exborted to cultivate the Breed of Affes, which as they are in all refpects more valuable Brutes, fo they have this Advantage, Vol. II.
to be fit for Service at five Years old which the others are not till twelve.

This was all my Mafter thought fit to tell me at that time, of what paffed in the Grand Council. But he was pleafed to conceal one particular, wlich related perfonally to myfelf, whereof I foon felt the unhappy Effcet, as the Reader will know in its proper Place, and from whence I date all the fucceeding Misfortunes of my Life.

The Houybribnms have no Letters, and confequently, their Knowledge is all traditional. But there happening few Events of any Moment among a People fo well united, naturally difpofed to every Virtue, wholly governed by Reafon, and cut off from all Commerce with other Nations, the hiftorical Part is eafily preferved without burthening their Memory. I have already obferved, that they are fubject o no Difeafes, and therefore can have 6

$$
\text { the Houyhnems. } 293
$$ no need of Phyficians. However, they have excellent Medicines compofed of Herbs, to cure accidental Bruifes and Cuts in the Paftern or Frog of the Foot by flarp Stones, as well as other Maims and Hurts in the feveral Parts of the Body.

They calculate the Year by the Revolution of the Sun and the Moon, but ufe no Subdivifions into Weeks. They are well enough acquainted with the Motions of thofe two Luminaries, and underftand the Nature of Eclipfes; and this is the utmoft Progrefs of their Aftroiomy.

In Poetry they muft be allowed to excel all other Mortals; wherein the Juftnefs of their Similes, and the Minutenefs, as well as Exactnefs of their Defcriptions, are indeed inimitable. Their Verfes abound very much in both of thefe, and ufually contain either fome exalted Notions of Friendfhip and Be$\mathrm{X}_{2}$ nevolence, 294 A VOYAGE to nevolence, or the Praifes of thofe who were Victors in Races, and other bodily Exercifes. Their Buildings, although very rude and fimple, are not inconvenient, but well contrived to defend them from all Injuries of Cold and Heat. They have a kind of Tree, which at forty Years old loofens in the Root, and falls with the firft Storm; they grow very ftrait, and being pointed like Stakes with a fharp Stone, (for the Houybnhnms know not the Ufe of Iron) they ftick them ereet in the Ground about ten Inches afunder, and then weave in Oat-ftraw, or fometimes Wattles betwixt them. The Roof is made after the fame Manner, and fo are the Doors.

THE Houybnbums ufe the hollow Part between the Paftern and the Hoof of their Forefeet, as we do our Hands, and this with greater Dexterity, than I could firft imagine. I have feen a white Mare of our Family thread a Needle

$$
\text { the Houxhnhins. } 295
$$

Needle (which I lent her on purpofe) with that Joynt. They milk their Cows, reap their Oats, and do all the Work which requires Hands, in the fame manner. They have a kind of hard Flints, which by grinding againft other Stones, they form into Inftruments, that ferve inftead of Wedges, Axes, and Hammers. With Tools made of there Flints, they likewife cut their Hay, and reap their Oats, which there groweth naturally in feveral Fields: The Yaboos draw home the fheaves in Carriages, and the Servants tread them in feveral covered Hutts, to get out the Grain, which is kept in Stores. They make a rude kind of earthen and wooded Veffels, and bake the former in the Sun.

If they can avoid Cafualties, they die only of Old-Age, and are buried in the obfcureft Places that can be found, their Friends and Relations expreffing neither Joy nor Grief at their DeX 3 parture parture, nor does the dying Perfon difcover the leaft Regret that he is leaving the World, any more than if he were upon returning home from a Vifit to one of his Neighbours. I remember my Mafter having once made an Appointment with a Friend and his Family to come to his Houfe upon fome Affair of Importance, on the Day fixed, the Miftrefs and her two Children came very late; The made two Excufes, firft for her Husband, whio, as the faid, happened that very Morning to Sbnuwnh. The Word is ftrongly expreffive in their Language, but not cafily rendered into Englifh, it fignifies, to retire to bis firf Motber. Her Excufe for not coming fooner, was, that her Husband dying late in the Morning, The was a good while confulting her Servants about a convenient place where his Body fhould be laid; and I obferved the behaved herfelf at our Houfe, as chearfully as the reff, and died about three months after.

296 VOYAGE to

the Houyhnhnms. 297

They live generally to feventy or feventy five Years, very feldom to fourfcore: Some Weeks before their Death they feel a gradual Decay, but without Pain. During this time they are much vifited by their Friends, becaure they cannot go abroad, with their ufual Eafe and Satisfaction. However, about ten Days before their Death, which they feldom fail in computing, they return the Vifits that have been made them by thofe who are neareft in the Neighbourhood, being carried in a convenient Sledge drawn by Yaboos, which Vehicle they ufe, not only upon this Occafion, but when they grow old upon long Journeys, or when they are lamed by any Accident. And therefore when the dying Houybnbums return thofe Vifits, they take a folemn Leave of their Friends, as if they were going to fome remote Part of the Country, where they defigned to pafs the reft of their Lives.

298 A Voyage to
I know not whether it may be worth oblerving, that the Houybnhnms have no Word in their Language to exprefs any thing that is Evil, except what they borrow from the Deformities or ill Qualities of the Yaboos. Thus they denote the Folly of a Servant, an Omiffion of a Child, a Stone that cut their Feet, a Continuance of foul or unfeafonable Weather, and the like, by adding to each the Epithet of Y aboo: For Inftance, bhwm Yaboo, WV bnabolm Yaboo, Yulbmndwiblma raboo, and an ill contrived Houfe, Yubolmbumroblurw Yaboo.

I could with great Pleafure enlarge farther upon the Manners and Virtues, of this excellent People; but intending in a fhort time to publifh a Volume by itfelf exprefly upon that Subject, I refer the Reader thither. And in the mean time, proceed to relate my own fad Cataftrophe.

the Houyhnhms. 299

C H A P. X.

The Authar's Oeconomy and happy Life. among the Houyhnhnms. His great Improvement in Virtue, by converfing with them. Their Converfations. The Author has notice given bim by bis Mafter that he muft depart from the Country. He falls into a Sreoon for Grief, but fubmits. He contrives and finifhes a Canoo, by the belp of a Fellow-Servant, and puts to Sea at a venture.

IHAD fettled my little Oeconomy, to my own Hearts content. My Mafter had ordered a Room for me after their Manner, about fix Yards from the Houfe, the Sides and Floors of which I plaiftered with Clay, and contriving; I had beaten Hemp, which there grows wild, and made of it a fort of Ticking: This I filled with the Feathers of feveral Birds I had taken with Springes made of Yaboos Hairs, and were excellent Food. I had worked two Chairs with my Knife, the Sorrel Nag helping me in the groffer and more laborious Part. When my Cloaths were worn to Rags, I made myfelf others with the Skins of Rabbets, and of a certain beautiful Animal about the fame Size, called Nuubnob, the Skin of which is covered with a fine Down. Of thefe I made very tolerable Stockings. I foaled my Shoes with Wood, which I cut from a Tree, and fitted to the upper Leather; and when this was worn out, 1 fupplied it with the Skins of Yaboos dried in the Sun. I often got Honey out of hollow Trees, which I mingled with Water, or eat with my Bread. No Man could more verify the Truth of thefe two Maxims, That Nature is very eafily fatisfied; and, That Necefity is the Mother of Invention. I enjoyed perfect Health of Body and Tranquillity of Mind ; I did not find the Treachery or Inconftancy of a Friend, nor the Injuries of a fecret or open Enemy; I had no occafion of bribing, flattering, or pimping, to procure the favour of any Great Man or of his Minion; I wanted no Fence againft Fraud or Oppreffion ; here was neither Phyfician to deftroy my Body, nor Lawyer to ruin my Fortune; no Informer to watch my Words and Actions, or forge Accufations againft me for hire ; here were no Gibers, Cenfurers, Backbiters, Pick-pockets, Highwaymen, Houfebreakers, Attorneys, Bawds, Buffoons, Gamefters, Politicians, Wits, fplenetick tedious Talkers, Controvertifts, Ravifhers, Murderers, Robbers, Virtuofo's; no Leaders or Followers of Party and Faction; no Encouragers to Vice, by Seducement or Examples; no Dungeon, Axes, Gibbets, Whipping-pofts, or Pil-lories;

the HOUYHNHNMS. 301

$$
302 \text { A VOYAGE to }
$$

lories; no cheating Shop-keepers or Mechanicks; no Pride, Vanity, or Affectation; no Fops, Bullies, Dunkards, ftrolling Whores, or Poxes; no ranting, lewd, expenfive Wives; no ftupid, proud Pedants ; no importunate, overbearing, quarrelfome, noify, roaring, empty, conceited, fwearing Companions; no Scoundrels, raifed from the Duft for the fake of their Vices, or Nobility thrown into it on account of their Virtues; no Lords, Fidlers, Judges, or Dancing-Mafters.

IHAD the favour of being admitted to feveral Houybnbums, who came to vifit or dine with my Mafter, where his Honour gracioufly fuffered me to wait in the Room, and liften to their Difcourfe. Both he and his Company would often defcend to ask me Quftions, and receive my Anfwers. I had alfo fometimes the Honour of attending my Mafter in his Vifits to others. I never prefumed to fpeak, except in anfwer anfwer to a Queftion, and then I did it with inward Regret, becaufe it was a Lofs of fo much Time for improving myfelf: But I was infinitely delighted with the Station of an humble Auditor in fuch Converfations, where nothing paffed but what was ufeful, expreffed in the feweft and moft fignificant Words: Where the greatef Decency was obferved, without the leaft Degree of Ceremony; where no Perfons fpoke without being pleafed himfelf, and pleafing his Companions: Where there was no Interruption, Tedioufnefs, Heat or Difference of Sentiments. They have a Notion, That when People are met together, a fhort Silence doth much improve Converfation: This I found to be true; for during thofe little Intermiffions of Talk, new Ideas would arife in the Thoughts, which very much enlivened their Difcourfe. Their Subjects are generally on Friendfhip and Benevolence, on Order and Oeconomy, fometimes upon the vifible Operations of Nature,

the Houyhnhems. 303

Nature, or ancient Traditions, upon the Bounds and Limits of Vistue, upon the unerring Rules of Reafon, or upon fome Determinations, to be taken at the next great Affembly; and often upon the various Excellencies of Poetry. I may add without Vanity, that my Prefence often gave them fufficient Matter for Difcourfe, becaufe it afforded my Mafter an Occafion of letting his Friends into the Hiftory of me and my Country, upon which they were all pleafed to defcant in a manner not very adyantageous to humane Kind; and for that Reafon I fhall not repeat what they faid: Only I may be allowed to obferve, That his Honour, to my great Admiration, appeared to underfand the Na ture of Yaboos in all Countries, much better than myfelf. He went through all our Vices and Follies, and difcovered many which I had never mentioned to him, by only fuppofing what Qualities a Yaboo of their Country, with a fmall proportion of Reafon, might be capable capable of exerting; and concluded, with too much Probability, how vile as well as miferable fuch a Creature mult be.

the Houyhnhnms. 305

I freely confefs, that all the little Knowledge I have of any value, was acquired by the Leatures I received from my Mafter, and from hearing the Difcourfes of him and his Friends; to which I fhould be prouder to liften, than to dictate to the greateft and wifeft Affembly in Europe. I admired the Strength, Comelinefs, and Speed of the Inhabitants, and fuch a Conftellation of Virtues in fuch amiable Perfons produced in me the higheft Veneration. At firft, indeed, I did not feel that natural Awe which the Yaboos and all other Animals bear towards them, but it grew upon me by Degrees, much fooner than I imagined, and was mingled with a refpectful Love and Gratitude, that they would condefcend to diftigguinh diftinguifh me from the reft of my Species.
$306 A$ Voyage to

When I thought of my Family, my Friends, and my Countrymen, or Human Race in general, I confidered them as they really were, Yaboos in Shape and Difpofition, only a little civilized, and qualified with the Gift of Speech, but making no other ufe of Reafon, than to improve and multiply thofe Vices, whereof their Brethren in this Country had only the Share that Nature allotted them. When I happened to behold the Reflection of my own Form in a Lake or a Fountain, I turned away my Face in Horror and Deteftation of my felf, and could better endure the sight of a common Yaboo, than of my own Perfon. By converfing with the Honybnbnms, and looking upon them with Delight, I fell to imitate their Gate and Gefture, which is now grown into an Habit, and my Friend́s often tell me, in a blunt Way, that I trot

the Houyhninms. joy

 thike a Hiorfe; which, however, I take for a great Compliment: Neither fhall I difown, that in Ifeaking I am apt to fall into the voice and manner of the Houybonbrms, and hear myfelf ridiculed on that account without the leaft Mor2

In the midft of all this Happieef, and when I looked upon myfelf to be fully fettled for Life, my Mafter fent for me one Morning a little earlier than his ufual Hour. I obferved by his Countenance that he was in fome perplexity, and at a lofs how to begin what he had to fpeak. After Ta flort Silence, he told me, He did not know how I would take what lie was going to fay; that in the laft general Affembly, when the Affair of the raboos was entered upon, the Reprefentatives had taken offence at his keeping a $r_{\text {a }}$ boo (meaning myfelf) in his Family more like a Houybnbnm, than a brute Animal. That he was known frequentVol. II.

308 Voyage to ly to converfe with me, as if he could receive fome Advantage or Pleafure in my Company: That fuch a Practice was not agreeable to Reafon or Nature, nor a thing ever heard of before among them. The Affembly did therefore exbort him, either to employ me like the reft of my Species, or command me to fwim back to the place from whence I came. That the firft of thefe Expedients was utterly rejected by all the Houybnbnms who had ever feen me at his Houfe or their own: For they alledged, That becaufe I had fome Rudiments of Reafon, added to the natural pravity of thofe Animals, it was to be feared, I might be able to feduce them into the woody and mountainous parts fof the Country, and bring them in Troops by night to deftroy the Houybnbnms Cattle, as being naturally of the ravenous kind, and averfe from Labour.

the HouYHNHNMS. 309

M y Mafter added, That he was dayly preffed by the Honybnbums of the Neighbourhood to liave the Affembly's Exhortation executed, which he could not put off much longer. He doubted it would be impoffible for me to fwim to another Country, and therefore wifhed I would contrive fome fort of Vehicle refembling thofe I had defcribed to him, that might carry me on the Sea, in which work I fhould have the Affiftance of his own Sers vants, as well as thofe of his Neighbours. He concluded, That for his own part, he tould have been content to keep me in his Service as long as I lived, becaufe he found I had cured myfelf of rome bad Habits and Difpofitions, by endeavouring, as far as my inferior Nature was capable, to imitate the Houlybnhnms.

> I should here obferve to the Reader, That a Decree of the general Afo
> ${ }^{1} 2$
> fembly

3 IO $A$ Voyage to fembly in this Country, is expreffed by the Word Hubloayn, which fignifies an Exhortation ; as near as I can rendet it: For they have no conception how a rational Creature can be compelled, but only advifed, or exborted, becaufe no Perfon can difobey Reafon, without giving up his Clain to be a rational Creature.

I was ftrick with the litmoft Grief and Derpair at my Mafter's Difcourfe, and being uinable to fupport the Agonies 1 wwas under, If fell into a Swoon at his Feet; when I came to myfelf, he told me, that he concluded I had been deado (For thefe People are fubjectl to no fuch Imbecillities of Nature. I anfwered; in a faint Voice, That Death would have been too great an Happinefs; that although I could not blame the Affèmbly's $E x$ bortation, or the Urgency of his Friends; yet in my weak and corrupt Judgment, I thought it might confilt with Reafon

the Houyhnhings. 3 II

Reafon to have been lefs rigorous. That I could not fwim a League, and probably the neareft Land to theirs might be diftant above an hundred: That many Materials, neceflary for making a fmall Veffel to carry me off, were wholly wanting in this Country, which however, I would attempt in Obedience and Gratitude to his Honour, although I concluded the Thing to be imporfible, and therefore looked on myfelf as already devoted to Deftruction. That the certain Profpect of unnatural Death, was the leaft of my Evils: For, fuppofing I fhould efcape with Life by fome ftrange Adventure, how could I think with Temper of paffing my Days, among raboos, and relapfing into my old Corruptions, for want of Examples to lead and keep me within the Paths, of Virtue? That I knew too well upon what folid Reafons all the Determinations of the wife Houybubums were founded, not to be fhaken by Ar guments of mine, a miferable raboo; Y 3
and
$312 \quad A$ VOYAGE to
and therefore after prefenting him with my humble Thanks for the Offer of his Servants Affiftance in making a Veffel, and defiring a reafonable Time for fo difficult a Work, I told him I would endeavour to preferve a wretched Being; and if ever I returned to England, was not without Hopes of being ufeful to my own Species, by celebrating the Praifes of the renowned Houybribums, and propofing thicir Virtues to the Imitation of Mankind.

My Mafter in a few Words made me a very gracious Reply, allowed me the fpace of two Months to finifh my Boat; and ordered the Sorrel Nag, my Fellow-Servant, (for fo at this diftance I may prefume to call him) to follow my Inftructions, becaufe I told my Mafter, that his help would be fufficient, and I knew he had a Tendernefs for me.

the HouyHnhims. $3^{I}$

In his Company my firft Bufinefs was to go to that Part of the Coaft, where my rebellious Crew had ordered me to be fet on flore. I got upon a Height, and looking on every fide into the Sea, fanfied I faw a frmall Ifland, towards the Nortb-Eaff: I took out my Pocket-glafs, and could then clearly diftinguifh it about five Leagues off, as I computed; but it appeared to the Sorrel Nag to be only a blue Cloud: For, as he had no Conception of any Country befide his own, fo he could not be as expert in diftinguifhing remote Objects at Sea, as we who fo much converfe in that Element.

After I had difcovered this Ifland, I confidered no farther; but refolved, it thould, if poffible, be the firft Place of my Banifhment, leaving the Confequence to Fortune.

Y4 IRE

$$
314 \text { A VoYAGE to }
$$

I I returned home, and confulting with the Sorrel Nag, we went into, a Copre at fome Dittance, where I with my Knife, and he with a fharp Flint faftened very artificially, after their manner, to a wooden Handle, cut down feveral Oak Wattles about the Thicknefs of a Walking-ftaff, and fome larger Pieces. But I fall not trouble the Reader with a particular Defcription of my own Mechanicks; let it fuffice to fay, that in fix Weeks time, with the Help of the Sorrel Nag, who performed the Parts that required moft Labour, I finithed a fort of Indian Canoo, but much larger, covering it with the Skins of Yaboos well fitched together, with hempen Threads of my own making. My Sail was likewife compored of the Skins of the fame Animal; but I made ufe of the youngeft I could get, the older being too tough and thick, and I likewife provided myfelf with four Paddles. I laid in a Stock of boiled flefh of Rabbets and Fowls, and took with me two Veffels, one filled with Milk, and the other with Water.

the Houyhnhmms. 315

I tried my Canoo in a large Pond near my Mafter's Houfe, and then corrected in it what was amifs ; ftopping all the chinks with Yaboos Tallow, till I found it fanch, and able to bear me, and my freight. And when it was as compleat as I could poffibly make it, I had it drawn on a Carriage very gently by Yaboos to the Sea-fide, under the conduct of the forrel Nag , and another Servant.

When all was ready, and the Day come for my departure, I took leave of my Mafter and Lady, and the whole family, mine Eyes flowing with Tears, and my Heart quite funk with Grief, But his Honour, out of curiofity, and perhaps (if I may freak it without Va nity) partly out of kindnefs, was determined mined to fee me in my Canoo, and got feveral of his neighbouring Friends to accompany him. I was forced to wait above an Hour for the Tide, and then obferving the Wind very fortunately bearing towards the ffland, to which I intended to fteer my Courfe. I took a fecond Leave of my Mafter: But as I was going to proftrate myfelf to kifs his Hoof, he did me the Honour to raife it gently to my Mouth. I am not ignorant how much I have been cenfured for mentioning this laft Particular. For my Detractors are pleafed to think it improbable, that fo illuftrious a Perfon fhould defcend to give fo great a Mark of Diftinction to a Creature fo inferior as I. Neither have I forgot, how apt fome Travellers are to boaft of extraordinary Favours they have received. But if thefe Cenfurers were better acquainted with the noble and courteous Difpofition of the Honybnbnms, they would foon change their Opinion.

IPAID

the Houyhnhims. 317

I paid my refpects to the reft of the Houybnbums in his Honour's Company; then getting into my Canoo, I pufhed off from Shore.

```
318 A VOYAgE

\section*{C H A P. XI.}

Tbe Author's dangerous Voyage. He arrives at New-Holland, boping to Settle there. Is wounded with an Arrow by one of the Natives. Is feized and carried by force into a Portugueze Sbip. The great Civilities of the Captain. The Autbor arrives at England.

\(T\)Began this defperate Voyage on February 15, 1714-15, at \(90^{\circ}\) Clock in the Morning. The Wind was very favourable; however, I made ufe at firft only of my Paddles, but confidering I fhould foon be weary, and that the Wind might chop about, I ventured to fet up my little Sail; and thus with

\section*{the Houyhnanms. 319}
with the Help of the Tide, I went at the Rate of a League and a Half an Hour, as near as I could guefs. My Mafter and his Friends continued on the Shoar, till I was almoft out of Sight; and I often heard the Sorrel Nag (who always loved me) crying out, Hnuy illa nyba majab Yaboo, Take care of thyfelf, gentle raboo.

M y Defign was, if poffible, to difcover forme fimall Ifland uninhabited, yet fufficient by my Labour to furnifh me with the Neceffities of Life, which I would have thought a greater Happinefs than to be firf Minifter in the politeft Court of Europe; fo horrible was the Idea I conceived of returning to live in the Society, and under the Government of Yaboos. For in fuch a Solitude as I defired, I could at leaft enjoy my own Thoughts, and reflect with Delight on the Virtues of thofe inimitable Houybribnms, without any Opportunity of degenerating tating into the Vices and Corruptions of my own Species.

The Reader may remember what I related when my Crew confpired againft me, and confined me to my Cabbin. How I continued there feveral Weeks; without knowing what Courfe we took, and when I was put a Shoar in the long Boat, how the Sailors told me with Oaths, whether true or falfe, that they knew not in what Part of the World we were. However, I did then believe us to be about ten Degrees Southward of the Cape of Good Hope, or about 45 Degrees Southern Latitude, as I gathered from fome general Words I over-heard among them, being I fuppofed to the South-Eaft in their intended Voyage to Madagafcar. And although this were but little better than Conjecture, yet I refolved to fteer my Courfe Eaff: ward, hoping to reach the South-Wef Coaft of New-Holland, and perhaps fome

\section*{the HouY HNHNMs. 321}
fome fuch Illand as I defired, lying Weftrward of it. The Wind was full Wef, and by fix in the Evening I computed I had gone Eaftrward at leaft eighteen Leagues, when I fpied a very fmall Ifland about half a League off, which I foon reached. It was nothing but a Rock with one Creek, naturally arclied by the Force of Tempefts. Here I put in my Canoo, and climbing up a Part of the Rock, I could plainly difcover Land to the Eaf, extending from Soutb to North. I lay all Night in my Canoo, and repeating my Voyage early in the Morning, I arrived in feven Hours to the South-Eaft Point of New Holland. This confirmed me in the Opinion I have long entertained, that the Maps and Cbarts place this Country at leaft three Degrees more to the Eaft than it really is; which thought I communicated many Years ago to my worthy Friend Mr. Herman Moll, and gave him my Reafons for it, although he fath rather chofen to follow other Authors.
\[
322 \quad A \text { Voyage to }
\]

I saw no Inhabitants in the Place where I landed, and being unarmed, I was afraid of venturring far into the Country: I found fome Shell-fifh on the Shoar, and eat them raw, not daring to kindle a Fire, for fear of being difcovered by the Natives. I continued thitee Days feeding on Oyfters and Lims pits, to fave my own Provifions, and I fortunately found a Brook of excellent Water, which gave me great Re lief.
- On the fourth Day, venturing out early a little too far, I faw twenty or thirty Natives upon a Height, not above five hundred Yards from me. They were ftark naked, Men, Women, and Children round a Fire, às I could difcover by the Smoak. Orie of them fpied me, and gave notice to the reft; five of them advanced towards me, 6 leaving

\section*{the Houyhnhems. 323} lea ving the Women and Children at the Fire. I made what hafte I could to the Shore, and getting into my Canoo; fhoved off: The Savages obferving me retreat ran after me; and before I could get far enough into the Sea, difcharged an Arrow, which wounded me deeply on the infide of my left Knee. (I fhall carry the Mark to my Grave:) I apprehended the Arrow might be poifoned, and paddling out of the reach of their Darts (being a calm Day) I made a fhift to fuck the Wound, and drefs it as well as I could.

I was at a lofs what to do, for \(\mathbf{I}\) durft not return to the fame Landingplace, but food to the North, and was forced to paddle; for the Wind, though very gentle, was againft me, Blowing North-Wefl. As I was looking about for a fecure Landing-place, I faw a Sail to the North Nortb-Eaft, which ap pearing every Minute more vifible, I was in fome doubt, whether I fhould Vol.II.

Z wait
\[
324 \text { A Voyage to }
\]
wait for them or no, but at laft my Deteffation of the Yaboo Race prevailed, and turging my Canoo, I failed and paddled together to the South, and got into the fame Creek from whence I fet out in the Morning, chufing rather to truft myfelf among thefe Barbarians, than live with European Yaboos. I drew up my Canoo as clofe as I could to the Shore, and hid myfelf behind a Stone by a little Brook, which, as I have already faid, was excellent Water.

The Ship came within half a league of this Creek, and fent out her LongBoat with Veffels to take in frefh Water (for the Place, it feems, was very well known) but I did not obferve it till the Boat was almoft on Shore, and it was too late to feek another Hidingplace. The Seamen at their landing obferved my Canoo, and rummaging it all over, eafily conjectured, that the Owner could not be far off. Four of them well-armed fearched every Cranny and

\section*{the Houyhnhnms. 325}
and Lurking-hole, till at laft, they found me flat on my Face behind the Stone. They gazed a while in admiration at my ftrange uncouth Drefs, my Coat made of Skins, my wooden foaled Shoes, and my furred Stockings ; from whence, however, they concluded, I was not a Native of the Place, who all go naked. One of the Seamen in Portugueze bid me rife, and asked who I was. I underftood that Language very well, and getting upon my Feet, faid, I was a poor Yaboo, banifhed from the Houybntrums, and defired they would pleafe to let me depart. They admired to hear me anfwer them in their own Tongue, and faw by my Complexion I muft be an European; but were at a lofs to know what I meant by Yakroos and Hourybubums, and at the fame time fell a laughing at my ftrange Tone in fpeaking, which refembled the Neighing of a Horfe. I trembled all the while betwixt Fear and Hatred: I again defired leave to depart, and was gently moving to my Z 2 Canoo;

Canoo; but they laid hold on me, defiring to know what Country I was of? whence I came? with many other Queflions. I told them, I was born in Eng. land, from whence I came about five Years ago, and then their Country and ours were at Peace. I therefore hoped they would not treat me as an Enemy, fince I meant them no harm, but was a poor Yaboo, feeking fome defolate Place where to pafs the Remainder of his unfortunate Life.
1. When they began to talk, Ithought I never heard or faw any thing fo unnatural; for it appeared to me as monftrous as if a Dog or a Cow fhould fpeak in England, as a Yaboo in Houy-bnbnm-land. The honeft Portugueze were equally amazed at my ftrange Drefs, and the odd manner of delivering my Words, which, however, they underftood very well. They fpoke to me with great Humanity, and faid they were fure their Captain would \section*{the Houyhnhnms. 327} carry me gratis to Lisbon, from whence I might return to my own Country; that two of the Seamen would go back to the Ship, inform the Captain of what they had feen, and receive his Orders; in the mean time, unlefs I would give my folemn Oath not to fly they would fecure me by force. I thought it beft to comply with their Propofal. They were very curious to know my Story, but I gave them very little Satisfaction; and they all conjectured, that my Miffortunes had impaired my Reafon. In two Hours, the Boat, which went loaden with Veffels of Water, returned with the Captain's Command to fetch me on Board. I fell on my Knees to preferve my Liberty; but all was in vain, and the Men having tied me with Cords, heaved me into the Boat, from whence I was taken into the Ship, and from thence into the Captain's Cabbin.

\section*{\(A\) Vorage to}

His Name was Pedro de Mendez, he was a very courteous and generous Perfon; he entreated me to give fome Account of myfelf, and defired to know what I would eat or drink; faid I fhould be ufed as well as himfelf, and fpoke fo many obliging things that I wondered to find fuch Civilities from a Yaboo. However, I remained flent and fullen; I was ready to faint at the very fmell of him and his Men. At laft I defired fomething to eat out of my own Canoo; but he ordered me a Chicken and fome excellent Wine, and then directed that I fhould be put to bed in a very clean Cabbin. I would not undrefs myfelf, but lay on the Bed-cloaths, and in half an Hour ftole Out, when I thought the Grew was at Dinner, and getting to the fide of the Ship was going to feap into the Sea, and fwim for my Life, rather than continue among rahoos. But one of the Seamen prevented me, and having infurmed formed the Captain, I was chained to my Cabbing.

\section*{the Houyhnhnm.}

After Dinner Don Pedro came to me, and defired to know my reafon for fo defperate an Attempt; affured me he only meant to do me all the Service he was able, and fpoke fo very movingty, that at lat I defended to treat him like an Animal that had forme little Portion of Reafon. I gave him a very flor Relation of my Voyage, of the Conspiracy againft me by my own Men, of the Country where they feet me on Shore, and of my three Years Refidence there. All which he looked upon as if it were a Dream or a Vifin; whereat I took great Offence; for I had quire forgot the Faculty of Lying, fo peculiar to Taboos in all Counttries where they prefide, and confequently the Difpofition of fufpecting Truth in others of their awn Species. I asked him, Whether it were the Cu foo in his Country to fay the Thing \(Z_{4}\) that that was not? I affured him I had almoft forgot what he meant by Falfehood, and if I had lived a thoufand Years in Houybnbumband, I fhould never have heard a Lye from the meaneft Servant; that I was altogether indifferent whether he believed me or no; but however, in return for his Favours, I would give fo much Allowance to the Corruption of his Nature, as to anfwer any Objection he would please to make, and then he might eafily difcover the Truth.

330 A Voyage to

The Captain, a wife Man, after many Endeavours to catch me tripping in fome Part of my Story, at laft began to have a better Opinion of my Veracity; and the rather, becaufe he confeffed, he met with a Dutch Skipper, who pretended to have landed with five others of his Crew upon a certain Ifland or Continent South of New Holland, where they went for frefh Water, and obferved a Horfe driving before

\section*{the Houyhnhnms. 33F}
fore him feveral Animals exactly refembling thofe I defrribed under the Name of Yaboos, with fome other Particulars, which the Captain faid he had forgot; becaufe he then concluded them all to be Lies. But he added, that fince I profeffed fo inviolable an Attachment to Truch, I muft give him my Word of Honour to bear him Company in this Voyage, without attempting any thing againft my Life, or elfe he would continue me a Prifoner till we arrived at Lifbon. I gave him the Promile he required ; but at the fame time protefted, that I would fuffer the greatelt Hardflips rather than return to live at mong Yaboos

OUR Voyage paffed without any confiderable Accident. In Gratitude to the Captain I fometimes fate with him at his earneft Requeft, and ftrove to conceal my Antipathy to human Kind, although it often broke out, which he fuffered to pafs without Obfervation.

\section*{\(33^{2}\) A Voyage ta}

But the greateft Part of the Day, I confined myfelf to my Cabbin, to avoid feeing any of the Crew. The Captain had often entreated me to ftrip myfelf of my Savage Drefs, and offered to Iend me the beft Suit of Cloaths he had. This I would not be prevailed on to accept, abhorring to cover myfelf with any thing that had been on the Back of a Yaboo. I only defired he would lend me two clean Shirts, which having been wafhed fince he wore them, I believed would not fo much defile me. Thefe I changed every fecond Day, and wafhed them myfelf.
W.e arrived at Lisbon, Nov. 5. 1715. At our landing the Captain forced me to cover myfelf with his Cloak, to prevent the Rabble from crouding about me. I was conveyed to his own Houfe, and at my earneft Requeft, he led me up to the higheft Room backwards. I conjured him to conceal from all Perfons what I had told him of the Houybnhbums, becaufe the leaft Hint of fuch a Story would not only draw Numbers of People to fee me, but probably, put me in Danger of being imprifoned, or burnt by the \(I n\) quifition. The Captain perfuaded me to accept a Suit of Cloaths newly made, but I would not fuffer the Taylor to take my Meafure; however, Don \(P\) Pdro, being almoft of my Size, they fitted me well enough. He accoutred me with other Neceffaries all new, which I aired. for twenty-four Hours before I would ufe them.

\section*{the Houyhninms. 333}
- The Captain had no Wife, nor above three Servants, none of which were fuffered to attend at Meals, and his whole Deportment was fo obliging, added to very good buman Underftanding, that I really began to tolerate his Company. He gained fo fat upon me, that I ventured to look out of the back Window. By degrees blay I was

\section*{334 A Voyage to}

I was brought into another Room, from whence I peeped into the Street, but drew my Head back in a Fright. In a Week's Time he feduced me down to the Door. I found my Terror gradually leffened, but my Hatred and Contempt feemed to encreafe. I was at laft bold enough to walk the Street in his Company, but kept my Nofe well ftopped with Rue, or fometimes with Tobacco.

In ten Days, Don Pedra, to whom I had given fome Account of my domeftick Affairs, put it upon me as a matter of Honour and Confcience, that I ought to return to my native Country, and live at home with my Wife and Children. He told me, there was an Englifh Ship in the Port juft ready to fail, and he would furnifh me with all Things neceffary. It would be tedious to repeat his Arguments, and my Contradictions. He faid it was alrogether impoflible to find fuch a folitary

Ifland

\section*{the Houyhnhems. 335}

Ifland as I had defired to live in ; but I might command in my own Houfe, and pafs my time in a manner as reclufe as I pleafed.

I complied at laft, finding I could not do better. I left Lisbon the 24 th Day of November, in an Englifh Mer-chant-man, but who was the Mafter I never enquired. Don Pedro accompanied me to the Ship, and lent me twenty Pounds. He took kind leave of me, and embraced me at parting, which I bore as well as I could: During the laft Voyage I had no Commerce with the Mafter or any of his Men, but pretending I was fick kept clofe in my Cabbin. On the fifth of December, 1715 , we caft anchor in the Dorens about Nine in the Morning, and at Three in the Afternoon I got fafe to my Houfe at Rotherbith.

My Wife and Family received me with great Surprize and. Joy, becaufe they
\[
33^{6} \text { A Voyage to }
\]
they concluded me certainly dead; but I muft freely confefs the fight of them filled me only with Hatred, Difguft, and Contempt, and the more by reflecting on the near Alliance I had to them. For, although fince my unfortunate Exile from the Houybnbum Country, I had compelled myfelf to tolerate the fight of Yaboos, and to converfe with Don Pedro de Mendez; yet my Memory and Imaginations were perpetually filled with the Virtues and Ideas of thofe exalted Houybubums. And when I began to confider, that by copulating with one of the Kahoo-Species I became a Parent of more, it fruck me with the utmoft Shame, Confufion, and Horror.

As foon as I entered the Houfe, my Wife took me in her Arms, and kiffed me, at which, having not been ufed to the touch of that odious Animal for fo many Years, I fell in a Swoon for almoft an Hour. At the time I am writing \section*{the Houyhnhnms. 337} writing it is five Years fince my laft return to England: During the firft Year I could not endure my Wife or Children in my prefence, the very Smell of them was intolerable, much lefs could I fuffer them to eat in the fame Room. To this hour they dare not prefume to touch my Bread, or drink out of the fame Cup, neither was I ever able to let one of them take me by the hand. The fiff Money I laid out was to buy two young Stone-Horfes, which I keep in a good Stable, and next to them the Groom is my greateft Favourite; for I feel my Spirits revived by the Smell he contraats in the Stable. My Horfes underftand me tolerably well; I converfe with them at leaft four Hours every Day. They are ftrangers to Bridle or Saddle, they live in great Amity with me, and Friendfhip to each other.

\author{
CHAP. XII.
}

The Autbor's Veracity. His Defign in publifbing this Work. His Cenfure of those Travellers who fwerve from the Truth. The Author clears bimJelf from any finifer Ends in writing. An Objection anfwered. The Met万od of planting Colonies. His Native Country commended. The Right of the Crown to tho fe Countries deforibed by the Author is juftified. The Difp-culty of conquering them. The Autbor takes bis laft leave of the Reader: propofeth bis manner of living for the future, gives good Advice, and con= cludes.

\(T\)H US, Gentle Reader, I have given thee a faithful Hiftory of my Travels for fixteen Years, and above feven̆

\section*{the Houyhninms. 339}
feven Months, wherein I have not been fo ftudious of Ornament as TruthI could perhaps like others have aftonifhed thee with ftrange improbable Tales; but I rather chofe to relate plain Matter of Fact in the fimpleft Manner and Style, becaufe my principal Defign was to inform, and not to amufe thee.

It is eafy for us who travel into remote Countries, which are feldom vifited by Englifbmen or other Europeans, to form Defcriptions of wonderful Animals both at Sea and Land. Whereas a Traveller's chief Aim fhould be to make Men wifer and better, and to improve their Minds by the bad as well as good Example of what they deliver concerning foreign Places.

I could heartily wilh a Law was enacted, that every Traveller before he were permitted to publifh his Voyages, fhould be obliged to make Oath before Vol.II.

A a
the

340 \(A\) Voyage to the Lord High Cbancellor that all he intehded to print was abfolutely true to the beft of hiskinowledge; for then the World would no longer be deceived as itsufually is, while fome Writers, to miake their Works pars the better upon the Publick, impofe the groffeft Falfities on the unwary Reader. I have perufed feveral Books of Travels with guveat delight in my younger Days; but having fince gone over moft Parts of the Globe, land been able to contradienmany fabulous Accounts from my dwn Obfervation, at hath given me a giteat Difguft/againft this part of Reading, and fome Indignation to fee the Credulity of Mankind fó impudently abufed. Therefore fince my Acquaintance were pleafed to think my poop Endeavour's might not be unacceptable to my Country, I impofed on myfelf as a Maxim, never to be fwerved from, that I would Arictly adbere zo Truth; neither indeed can I be ever under the leaf Temptations to vary from it, while I retain \section*{the Houyhnhins. 342}

in my Mind the Lectures and Examb ple of my noble Mafter, and the other illuftrious Honybnhums, of whom I had fo long the Honour to be an humble Hearer.
- Neiofo miferum Fortund Sinonem. Finxit, ranum etiam, mendacemque muro zird to haments griad Jundtive I I RNow very well how little Re2 putation is to be got by Writings which require neither Genious nor Learning, nor indeed any other Tatent, except a good Menory, or an exact fournal. I know likewife, the Writers of Travels, like Dictionary-Makers, are funk into Oblivion by the weight and bulk of thofe who come after, and therefore lie uppermoft. And it is highly prot bable, that fuch Travellers who fhalit hereafter vifit the Countries defcribed in this Work of mine, may by detecting my Errors, (if there be any) and adg ding many new Difcoveries of their own, juftle me out of vogue, and ftand in my place, making the World forget that I was ever an Author. This indeed would be too great a Mortification if I wrote for Fame: But, as my fole Intention was the Publick Good, I cannot be altogether difappointed. For who can read of the Virtues I have mentioned in the glorious Houybnhnms, without being afhamed of his own Vices, when he confiders himfelf as the reafoning, governing Animal of his Country? I fhall fay nothing of thofe remote Nations where raboos prefide, amongft which, the leaft corrupted are the Brobdingnagians, whofe wife Maxims in Morality and Government, it would be our Happinefs to obferve. But I forbear defcanting farther, and rather leave the judicious Reader to his own Remarks and Applications.

A a 2 own

342 A Voyage to

I am not a little pleafed that this Work of mine can poffibly meet with no Genfurers: For what Objections can be 3
\[
\text { the Houyhnings. } 343
\]
be made againft a Writer who relates only plain Facts that happened in fuch diftant Countries, where we have not the leaft Intereft with refpect either to Trade or Negotiations? I have carefully avoided every Fault with which common Writers of Travels are often too juftly charged. Befides, I meddle not with any Party, but write without Paffion, Prejudice, or Ill-will againft any Man or number of Men whatfoever. I write for the nobleft End, to inform and inftruet Mankind, over whom I may, without Breach of Modefty, pretend to fome Superiority from the Advantages I received by iconverfing fo long among the moft accomplifhed Houybnhnms. I write without any view towards Profit or Praife. I never fuffer a Word to pafs that may look like Reflection, or poffibly give the leaft of fence even to thofe who are moft ready to take it. So that I hope I may with Jutice pronounce mýfelf an Author perfectly blamelefs, againft whom the Aa \(3 \quad\) Tribes

Tribes of Anfwerers, Confiderers, \(\mathrm{Ob}_{\pi}\) fervers, Reflecters, Detecters, Remarkers will never be able to find Matter fors exercifing their Talents.

I Confess, it was whifpered to me, that I was bound in Duty as a Subject of England, to have given in a Memorial to a Secretary of State at my firft coming over; becaufe whatever Lands are difcovered by a Subject, belong to the Crown. But I doubt whetherpur Cony quefts in the Countries I treat of, would be as eafy as thofe of Ferdinando Cortez over the naked Americans, The Lilliputians, I think, are hardly worth the Charge of a Fleet and Army to reduce them, and I queftion whether it might be prudent or fafe to attempt the Brob dingnagians. Or whether an Fughifh Army would be much at their Eafe, with the Flying Ifland over theirHeads, The Houybubums, indeed, appear not to be fo well prepared for War, wsience to which they are perfect Strapgers, and exdict es es efpe
\[
\text { the Houyhninms. } 345
\] efpecially againft miffive weapons. However, fuppofing myfelf to be a Minifter of State, I could never give my Advice for invading them. Their Prudence, Unanimity, Unacquaintednefs with Fear, and their Love of theif Country would amply fupply all Defects in the Military Art. Inagine twenty thoufand of them breaking into the midh of an European Army, confoinding the Ranks, overturning the Carriages, battering the Warriors Faces into Mummy, by terrible Yerks from their hinder Hoofs. For they would well deferve the Character given fo 2 quiguftus; Recalcitrat mindique tutus. But inftead of Propofals for conquering that magnanimous Nation, I rather wifh they were in a Capacity or Difpofition to fend a fufficient Number of their Int habitants for civilizing Europe, by teaching th the firft Principles of Honour, Juftice, Truth, Temperance, Publick Spirit, Fortitude, Chaffity, Friendthip, Benevolence, and Fidelity. The A \({ }^{4} 4\) Names

346 A Voyage to
Names of all which Virtues are ftill retained among us in moft Languages, and are to be met with in fome modern as well as ancient Authors; which I am able to affert from my own fmall Reading.

But I had another Reafon which made me lefs forward to enlarge his Majeft's's Dominions by my Difcovery. To fay the Truth, I had conceived a few Scruples with Relation to the Diftributive Juftice of Princes upon thofe Occafions. For inftance, a Crew of Pyrates are driven by a Storm they know not whither, at length a Boy difcovers Land from the Top-maft, they go on Shore to rob and plunder; they fee an harmlers People, are entertained with Kindnefs, they give the Country a new Name, they take formal Poffeffion of it for their King, they fet up a rotten Plank or a Stone for a Memorial, they murder two or three Dozen of the Natives, bring away

\section*{the Houyhnings. 347}
away a Couple more by Force for a Sample, return home, and get their Pardon. Here commences a new Dominion acquired with a Title by Divine Right. Ships are fent with the firft Opportunity, the Natives driven out or deftroyed, their Princes tortured to difcover thein Gold; a free Licence given to all ACts of Inhumanity and Luff, the Earth reeking with the Blood of its Inhabitants: And this execrable Crew of Butchers employed in fo pious an Expedition, is a modern Colony fent to convert and civilize an idolatrous and barbarous People,

But this Defcription, I confefs, doth by no means effect the Briti/h Nation, who may be an Example to the whole World for their Wifdom, Care, and Juftice in planting Colonies; their liberal Endowments for the Advancement of Religion and Learning; their Choice of devout and able Paftors to propagate Chrifianity, their Caution in ftocking their

\section*{348 A Vovage to} their Provinces with People of fober Lives and Converfations from this the Mother Kingdom; theirmftrict Regard to the Diftribution of Juftice in fupplying the GivitAdminiftration through all thein Colonies with Officers of the gireateft Abilities, lutter Strangers to Corruption; landito crown all, by fending the moft vigilantland vibtuous Governors, who have no other views than the Happinefs of the People over whom they prefide, and the Honour of the King their Mafter. aroustinef bas cromslobi as oxitivis
But, as thofe Countries which I have defcribed, do not appear to have a Defire of being conquered, and enflaved, murdered or driven out' by Colonies, nor abound either in Gold, Silver, Sugars or Tobacco; I did hunbly conceive they were by no means proper Objects of sour Zeal, our valour, or our Interefti: However, if thofe whom it may concern, think fit to beydi another Opinion, \(I\) am ready to de \({ }^{-}\) Tisels 6 pofe,

\section*{the Houyhnhnms. 349}
pofe, when I fhall be lawfully called, that no European did ever vifit there Countries before me. I mean, if the Inhabitants ought to be believed; unlefs a Difpute may arife about the two Taboos, faid to have been feen many Ages ago on a Mountain in Houylarhumband, from whence the Opinion is, that the Race of thofe Brutes hath defcended; and there, for any thing I know, may have been Engli/h, |which indeed I was apt to furpect from the Lineaments of their Pofterities Countenances, although very much defaced. But, how far that will go to make out a Title, I leave to the learned in Colony Law.

But as to the Formality of taking Poffeffion in my Sovereign's Name, it never came once into my Thoughts; and if it had, yet as my Affairs then ftood, I fhould perhaps in Point of Prudence and Self-Prefervation, have put it off to a better Opportunity.

\author{
HAVING
}

Having thus arifwered the only Objection that can ever be raifed againft me as a Travellor, I here take a final Leave of all my courteous Readers, and return to enjoy my own Speculations in my little Garden at Reddriff, to apply thofe excellent Leffons of Virtue, which I learned among the Houybubnms, to inftrutt the raboos of my own Family as far as I fhall find them docible Animals, to behold my Figure often in a Glafs, and thus, if poffible, habituate myfelf by time to tolerate the Sight of a human Creature: To lament the Brutality of Houybubnms in my own Country, but always treat their Perfons with Refpec, for the Sake of my noble Mafter, his Family, his Friends, and the whole Houybnibnm Race, whom thefe of ours have the Honour to refemble in all their Lineaments, however their Intellectuals came to degenerate.

\section*{the Houyhnanms.}

I began laft Week to permit my Wife to fit at Dinner with me, at the fartheft End of a long Table, and to anfwer (but with the utmoft Brevity) the few Queftions I ask'd her. Yet the frell of a Yaboo continuing very offenfive, I always keep my Nofe well ftopt with Rue, Lavender, or Tobacco-leaves. And although it be hard for a Man late in Life to remove old Habits, I am not altogether out of Hopes in fome time to fuffer a Neighbour \(Y_{a b o o ~ i n ~}\) my Company, without the Apprehenfions I am yet under of his Teeth or his Claws.

My Reconcilement to the Yabookind in general might not be fo difficult if they would be content with thofe Vices and Follies only, which Nature hath intitled them to. I am not in the leaft provoked at the Sight of a Lawyer, a Pick-pocket, a Colonel, a Fool, a Lord, a Gamefter, a Politician, a. Whore-mafter, a Phyfician, an Evidence,
\(35^{2} A\) VOYAGE to dence, a Süborner, an Attorney, a Trai tor, or the like: This is all according to the due Courfe of Things: But when Ibehold a Lump of Deformity, and Difeafes both in Body and Mind, fmitten with Pride, it immediately breaks all the Meafures of my \(\mathrm{Pa}-\) tience; neither fhall I be ever able to comprehend how fuch an Animal and fuch a Vice could tally together. The wife and virtuous Houybnbnms, who abound in all Excellencies that can adorn a rational Creature, have no Name for this \(V\) ice in their Language, which hath no Terms to exprefs any thing that is evil, except thofe whereby they deferibe the deteftable Qualities of theio Kaboos, oamong which they were not able to diftinguifh this of Pride for want of tharoughty underfanding hu* mane Nāture, as it fheweth itfelf in ow ther Countries, where that Animal pres fides. But I, who had more Experience, could plainly obferve fome Rudiments of it among the wild Kaboos:

\section*{the Houyhnhnms.}

But the Houybnbums, who live under the Government of Reafon, are no more proud of the good Qualities they poffefs, than I fhould be for not wanting a Leg or an Arm, which no Man in his Wits would boaft of, although he muft be miferable without them. I dwell the longer upon this Subject from the Defire I have to make the Society of an Englifb Yaboo by any means not infupportable, and therefore I here entreat thofe who have any Tincture of this abfurd Vice, that they will not prefume to come in my Sight.

\section*{\(F \quad I \quad N \quad I \quad S\)} veri) नiimue hoon rilato buoug =rom -tism jor fict od. bifoth I nish amblog poiM on rloidur cma as 20 get a mai Alomerifls fo floed bloow enty हid nie I. rixald tuortive slesmatim od flumed

 zea rasem yas yd ondist ndituras an \%o -nio vian I moisivita bis sidd nuogctuii 10 97ubrili pas suad ody stoll jevis:

\[
8181.9
\]
I
\[
1
\]

Standort: \(\quad P\) & 06
Signatur:
DZLF1018-2
Akz.-Nr.:
\(74 / 19125\)
Id.-Nr.:
W285350

```

