

Universitätsbibliothek Paderborn

Travels into several remote nations of the world

in 4 pt.

Swift, Jonathan

London, 1726

Chap. IV. Mildendo the Metropolis of Lilliput describ'd, together with the Emperor's Palace. A Conversation between the Author and a principal Secretary, concerning the Affairs of that Empire. The ...

urn:nbn:de:hbz:466:1-48497

Visual Library

to LILLIPUT. 65

post indi

high, and at lead cleven inches broad, to

and 728

Inga

x on

me, ving

the

ma

that exad

AP

Bound SuC H A P. VIV. You bollog

I dissert the great Waltern Gate, and oex Mildendo, the Metropolis of Lilliput, velue defcribed, together with the Emperor's Simi Palace. A Conversation between the con Author and a Principal Secretary onfe concerning the Affairs of that Empire: oda The Author's Offers to serve the Em. r of peror in his Wars.

HE firft Requeft I made after I had obtained my Liberty, was, that I might have licence to fee Mildendo, the Metropolis; which the Emperor eafily granted me, but with a fpecial Charge to do no hurt, either to the Inhabitants, or their Houfes. The People had notice by Proclamation of my defign to vifit the Town. The Wall which encompafied it, is two foot and an half high, high, and at least eleven Inches broad, fo that a Coach and Horfes may be driven very fafely round it; and it is flanked with ftrong Towers at ten foot diftance I stept over the great Western Gate, and paffed very gently, and fideling through the two principal Streets, only in m fhort Wastecoat, for fear of damaging th Roofs and Eves of the Houfes with th Skirts of my Coat. I walked with th utmost Circumspection, to avoid tread ing on any Straggless, that might remain in the Streets, although the Orders we very strict, that all People should keepi their Houses, at their own peril. Th Garret-windows and tops of Houses wer fo crowded with Spectators, that I though in all my Travels I had not feen a mon populous Place. The City is an example Square, each fide of the Wall beingfi hundred foot long. The two great Street which run crofs and divide it into for Quarters, are five foot wide. The Lan and Alleys which I could not enter, bi only viewed them as I passed, are from twelf id, 6 twelve to eighteen Inches. The Town is capable of holding five hundred thouinked fand Souls. The Houfes are from three to five Stories. The Shops and Markets , and well provided.

8

THE Emperor's Palace is in the Cenn m ter of the City, where the two great ng th Streets meet. It is inclosed by a Wall th th of two foot high, and twenty foot difh th tant from the Buildings. I had his Matread jesty's Permission to step over this Wall; email and the Space being fo wide between s wen that and the Palace, I could eafily view ecpi it on every fide. The outward Court Th is a Square of forty foot, and includes wei two other Courts : In the inmost are the lough Royal Apartments, which I was very demot firous to see, but found it extremely difexal ficult; for the great Gates, from one ngfi Square into another, were but eighteen Street inches high, and feven inches wide. Now o for the Buildings of the outer Court were Lan at least five foot high, and it was impofer, bi fible for me to stride over them, withe froi twel ·Out out infinite Damage to the Pile, though the Walls were ftrongly built of hew Stone, and four Inches thick. At the fame time the Emperor had a great de Ē fire that I should see the Magnificence P his Palace; but this I was not able do till three Days after, which I spenti 7 cutting down with my Knife some P the largest Trees in the Royal Park, t bout an hundred Yards diffant from th I City. Of these Trees I made two Stool each about three foot high, and ftrom 0 enough to bear my Weight. The Per ple having received notice a fecond tim I went again through the City to the I w lace, with my two Stools in my Hand bK When I came to the fide of the out W Court, Istood upon one Stool, and tot CU the other in my hand : This I lifted ow E the Roof, and gently set it down ond a Space between the first and second Cou la which was eight foot wide. I then fte L: over the Buildings very convenient Pl from one Stool to the other, and dre ne up the first after me with a hooked Stie ve

66

69

Oug By this Contrivance I got into the inmost new Court; and lying down upon my Side; I tt applied my Face to the Windows of the at de middle Stories, which were left open on purpose, and discovered the most splen-1000 ole t did Apartments that can be imagined, enti There I faw the Empress, and the young Princes in their feveral Lodgings, with neo their chief Attendants about them. Her rk, Imperial Majefty was pleafed to fmile nth very gracioully upon me, and gave me tool out of the Window her hand to kifs. Aron defired I would give him an Peo

BUT Ishall not anticipate the Reader tim with farther Descriptions of this kind, ne Pi becaufe Ireferve them for a greater Work, Iand which is now almost ready for the Prefs, out containing a general Description of this 1 too Empire, from its first Erection, through i on a long Series of Princes, with a particuont lar account of their Wars and Politicks, Cour Laws, Learning, and Religion: their fter Plants and Animals, their peculiar Manient dre ners and Customs, with other Matters Stid very curious and useful; my chief defign VOL. I. F at

BIBLIOTHEK

70

24.30

at prefent being only to relate fuch I vents and Transactions as happened i the Publick, or to myself, during a Re faice fidence of about nine Months in the Empire.

nal laction at home, and the Dimensiond ONE Morning, about a Fortnightian ter I had obtain'd my Liberty, Keldrel abr principal Secretary (as they ftyle huder of private Affairs, came to my Houpaff attended only by one Servant. He ties dered his Coach to wait at a distance, Tra defired I would give him an Hour's high dience; which I readily confented to whi account of his Quality and perfonal lilled rits, as well as the many good offices nof: had done me during my Sollicitation ion Court. I offered to lie down, thatath might the more conveniently reachlow Ear; but he chose rather to let melfor him in my Hand during our Convert tion. He began with Complimentserve my Liberty, faid he might pretendape some Merit in it: but, however, adorua that if it had not been for the pre a n EA

71

hE Situation of things at Court, perhaps I ed a might not have obtained it fo foon. For, a Re said he, as flourishing a Condition as we 1 th may appear to be in to Foreigners, we labour under two mighty Evils; a violent Faction at home, and the Danger of sht an Invasion by a most potent Enemy from drelabroad. As to the first, you are to unhuderstand, that for above feventy Moons Houpaft, there have been two ftruggling Parle ties in this Empire, under the Names of e, Tramecksan, and Slamecksan, from the r's high and low Heels on their Shoes, by to which they diffinguish themselves. It is al alledged indeed, that the high Heels are ices most agreeable to our ancient Constituion: But however this be, his Majefty that ath determined to make use of only achow Heels in the Administration of the ne Government; and all Offices in the Gift mvef the Crown, as you cannot but obentserve; and particularly, that his Majesty's cendnperial Heels are lower at least by a adDrurr than any of his Court; (Drurr prel a Measure about the fourteenth Part F 2 of

of an Inch.) The Animofities betwee tal de these two Parties run so high, that the M will neither eat nor drink, nor talk ito each other. We compute the Tram. me fan, or High-Heels, to exceed us in m tw ber; but the Power is wholly on fu fide. We apprehend his Imperial H as nefs, the Heir to the Crown, toh in fome tendency towards the High-He M at least, we can plainly discover on ing his Heels higher than the other, tha gives him a hobble in his Gait. bef in the midst of these intestine Diff En we are threatned with an Invalion farl the Island of Blefuscu, which is than ther great Empire of the Universiance most as large and powerful as this his Majefty. For as to what we have his s you affirm, that there are other ling doms and States in the World, inhito by human Creatures as large as youTh our Philosophers are in much doubthani would rather conjecture that you fix from the Moon, or one of the who because it is certain, that an hundred tals of your Bulk wou'd, in a fhort time, two deftroy all the Fruits and Cattle of his at th Majesty's Dominions. Besides, our Hikw ftories of fix thousand Moons make no am mention of any other Regions, than the nnu two great Empires of Lilliput and Bleon alf. fuscu. Which two mighty Powers have, as I was going to tell you, been engaged to in a most obstinate War for fix and thirty 1-He Moons paft. It began upon the followof ing Occasion. It is allowed on all hands, " that the primitive way of breaking Eggs before we eat them, was upon the larger istqu End: But his present Majesty's Grandon father, while he was a Boy, going to cat s than Egg, and breaking it according to the erst ancient practice, happened to cut one of us^o his Fingers. Whereupon the Emperor ve his Father published an Edict, commander ling all his Subjects, upon great Penaltics, inhe to break the smaller End of their Eggs. youThe People fo highly refented this Law, oubthat our Histories tell us there have been ou fix Rebellions raifed on that account; ne wherein one Emperor loft his Life, and Ired boibnun ne if F 3 antipo an ohis an-

73

74

I defined

another his Crown. These civil Con motions were constantly fomented by Monarchs of Blefuscu; and when the were quelled, the Exiles always fledi refuge to that Empire. It is comput that eleven thousand Persons have, feveral times, fuffered death; rathers fubmit to break their Eggs at the fma End. Many hundred large Volumesh been published upon this Controva But the Books of the Big-Endians been long forbidden, and the whole! ty rendered incapable by Law of h ing Employments. During the Ca of these Troubles, the Emperors of fuscu did frequently expostulate by Embassadors, accusing us of making Schism in Religion, by offending ag a fundamental Doctrine of our great phet Lustrog, in the fifty-fourth Cha of the Blundecral, (which is their a ran.) This, however, is thought to a meer strain upon the Text: For words are thefe; That all true Belia Shall break their Eggs at the conve

75

Con End: and which is the convenient End, byt feems, in my humble Opinion, to be left en th to every Man's Confcience, or at least in fledi the power of the chief Magistrate to denput termine. Now, the Big-Endian Exiles ave, have found fo much Credit in the Emperor 1Cr th of Blefuseu's Court, and fo much private Ima Affistance and Encouragement from their aesh Party here at home, that a bloody War hath been carried on between the two OVE ins h Empires for fix and thirty Moons with olel various Success; during which time we of h have loft forty capital Ships, and a much Co greater number of fmaller Veffels, toges of ther with thirty thousand of our best Seaby ti men and Soldiers; and the Damage received by the Enemy is reckon'd to be nakin fomewhat greater than ours. However, ् वड्रा they have now equipped a numerous reat Cha Fleet, and are just preparing to make a Defcent upon us; and his Imperial Maeir A jesty placing great confidence in your ht to Valour and Strength, hath commanded For me to lay this account of his Affairs Belie before you. muel

F 4

I defired

I defired the Secretary to prefent m humble Duty to the Emperor, and let him know, that I thought it wou not become me, who was a Foreigner, interfere with Parties; but I was read with the hazard of my Life, to defend Perfon and State against all Invaders.

adaveconedianose antine a blandy N

an wheneve just proparisate try wathan

d pristing igrand would would work the pristing of the strong fit would be a strong fit would be a strong of the s

A.H. Dby fome of the Enemy's Ships

boulsb !

Embery and spiritely have

Tithe of statistical barries

the Blatton with the White

の何つける

76