

UNIVERSITÄTS-
BIBLIOTHEK
PADERBORN

Universitätsbibliothek Paderborn

Miscellaneous works Of The Late Philip Dormer Stanhope, Earl Of Chesterfield

Consisting Of Letters to his Friends, never before printed, And Various Other Articles

Chesterfield, Philip Dormer Stanhope of Dublin, 1777

Index To The Memoirs.

urn:nbn:de:hbz:466:1-52184

I N D E X

TO THE

M E M O I R S.

A.

ADMINISTRATION. Reflections on opposition to it, 68, 69, 70.

Affairs. State of, at the accession of George I. 34.

Aix-la-Chapelle. Peace of, 184.

Algarotti. Observations on his dialogues, in note 54, sect. II.

Arbuthnot (Dr.). Character of, 40. and in note 47, sect. II.

Atterbury (Bishop of Rochester). Account of, 37. and in notes 35, 36, 37, sect. II.

Austria (House of). Loses the Imperial dignity, 103.

B.

Bath. Account of, 88.

Bavaria (Electors of). Chosen emperor, 103.

Bergen-op-zoom. Siege of, and reduction, 177.

Berkeley (Bishop of Cloyne).

Writes a letter to the Roman Catholics of his diocese, 157. Presents his Minute Philosopher to lord Chesterfield, 163.

Bills (occasional and schism). Remarks on the contest for their repeal, 27. and in note 16, sect. II.

Bill (Excise). Opposition to it, 64. and in notes 45, 46, sect. II. Rejected, 65.

Bill (Septennial). Repeal of, rejected, 72.

Bill (new one), for adding a tax on spirituous liquors, 120, 121.

Blackheath. Account of lord Chesterfield's villa there, 187.

Bolingbroke (Lord). Character and anecdotes of, 41, 42. and in notes 51, 52, 53, sect. II. Occasion of his writing his Idea of a Patriot King, 87. His death, 199, 200.

U 2

Boudoir

Eoudoir. An apartment in lord Chesterfield's house, 187.
Bougainville (Mr.). Account of, 207. and in note 35, sect. VI.
Breda. Congress there, for a peace, 173.
Breton (Cape). Conquest of, 148. and in note 19, sect. V.

C.

Calendar (Julian). Its defect. Bill brought into parliament for its reformation, 197, 198, 199.
Carlos (Don). His establishment in Italy opposed by the Court of Vienna, 55.
Caroline (Queen). Her death and character, 85, 86. Anecdote of, in note 25, sect. IV.
Carteret (Lord). Character of, 37. His speech in favour of the earl of Orford, 112.
Catz. Account of, in note 16, sect. III.
Charles VII. the emperor. His death, and consequences of it, 143.
Chenevix (Dr. Richard). See Waterford (bishop of).
Chenevix (Rev. Mr.). Son to the bishop, his death, 222.
Chesterfield (Philip Dormer Stanhope, Earl of). His birth, 5. Account of his family, 6, 7. and note 5, sect. I. Anecdotes of his grandfather, 6, 7. and notes 6, 7, and 8, sect. I. Account of his father, 7. and in note 12, sect. I. Sent to the university of Cambridge, 10. His manner of employing his time there, 11, 12. His masters, notes 24, 25, 26, sect. I. His own account of his improvement there, note 27, sect. I. Sent on his travels, 13. His reception at Paris, 14. His remarks on the death of queen Ann, 15, 16. and in notes 37, 40, sect. I. Appointed one of the gentlemen of the bed-chamber to the prince of Wales, 19. His acquaintance with lord Scarborough, 19 and 20. Chosen member of parliament, 20. His first speech in parliament, on the impeachment of the managers of the peace of Utrecht, 21, 22. Goes to Paris, 22. Speech on septennial parliaments, 24. and in note 11, sect. II. Divides against the court in the contest for the repeal of the occasional and schism bills, 27. Votes with the minority in the house of commons, in favour of the bill for limiting the number of peers, 28. His connection with lord Townshend, 29. Appointed captain of the yeomen of the guards, 30. Refuses the red ribband, 31. Becomes acquainted with Algarotti, Montesquieu, and Voltaire, 42. His attachment to gaming, 43. His sentiments, and speech on George the Second's accession to the throne, 45. Appointed ambassador to the Hague, 46. During his embassy there, studies the civil law and the imperial code, 50. Becomes acquainted with Slingeland and Fagel, 52, 53. His character of the former, 53. His connection with Mr. Dayrolles, his Majesty's resident at the Hague, 53. Contracts an intimacy with the marquis of Fenelon, the French ambassador, 54. His opinion of the Seville treaty, in note 24, sect. III. Appointed high steward of his Majesty's household, and made knight of the garter, 60. and in notes 30, 31, sect. III. His secret negotiation with the Imperial envoy and the grand pensionary of Holland, 61. and in notes 35, 36, sect. III. Espouses the interest of the prince of Orange, 62. His character of

of him, in note 38, sect. III. Desires to be recalled from his embassy, on account of the ill state of his health, 63. Argues in the house of peers against the reduction of the number of troops, 64. Opposes the excise bill, 64, 65. Surrenders his white staff, 66. Protests against the bill for settling a portion upon the princess of Orange, 70. Marries Melesina de Schulenburg, countess of Walsingham, 71. His protest in favour of the bill for preventing all officers above the rank of colonels from being deprived of their commission, but by a court martial, 73. Complimented on that occasion by the duke of Argyll, 73. Opposes a vote of credit, 75. His speech on the bill for preventing any play being performed without the lord chamberlain's licence, 83. and in note 24, sect. IV. His speech and protest against the convention treaty, 91, 92, 93. and in note 34, sect. IV. His speech on the war with Spain, 94. Opposes the message for an extraordinary supply, 96. Opposes the pension bill, 96, 97. Votes for addressing the king to remove the minister, 100. His ill state of health obliges him to go to Spa, 100. His opinion of the king of Prussia, 100. and in note 46, sect. IV. Goes to Paris, and his connections there, 101, 102. His speech in parliament on the posture of affairs in the year 1741, 106, 107. His speech on the bill against the earl of Orford, 112, 112, 113. Receives some benefit from the use of the Spa waters, 115. His journey to Bath, 115. His protest against the taking of Hanoverian troops in British pay, 119, 120. Opposes the new bill for laying a tax on spirituous liquors, 121. His speech in parliament after the battle of Dettingen, and on continuing the Hanoverian troops in British pay, 127, 128. His speech on the law of forfeiture, 130, 131, 132. His opinion of Mr. Pope, 133. Appointed ambassador to the Hague, 137, 138. Reasons for this appointment, 141. His arrival at the Hague, 141. His instructions, 142. Recommends Dr. Chenevix to be made a bishop, 147. Takes leave of the States General; his speech to them on that occasion, 147. Sets out for Ireland, 151. Appoints Richard Lyddell, esquire, his secretary, 151. His speech in the Irish parliament, 152, 153. His application for supplies, and manner of raising them, 154. Allows the Roman catholics the free use of their religion, 156. His vigilance during the time of the rebellion, 158. Refuses the grant of any reversion, 160. His conduct with regard to the Roman catholics, 160, 161, 162. His readiness to assist the oppressed, 162. and in note 39, sect. V. Abolishes every kind of gaming at the castle, 162. Gives a company to an officer, 162, 163. Increases the pay of the officers and private men of the yeomen of the guards, 163. Procures the title of earl of Blessington to lord viscount Mountjoy, 163. His opinion of bishop Syngé, 164. Patronizes the establishment of a physico-historical society at Dublin, 166. Leaves Ireland, 168. Engages the reverend Mr. Codere and Mr. Maittaire to teach his son the rudiments of learning, and the Latin language, 169. Appoints Mr. Harte to be his tutor, 171.

Is made secretary of state, 172. Obtains the place of resident at the Hague for Mr. Dayrolles, 174, 175. Disapproves of the taxation in Holland called a Free Gift, 179. Approves of the negociation with Russia, 179. Is desirous of making a separate peace with Spain, 180. His memorial on the state of Europe and England in the year 1748, 181, 182. Resolves to resign the seals, 182. Answers a memorial of the Prussian minister, claiming an exemption for the Prussian flag from search, &c. 182. Draws up the instructions for Mr. Legge, envoy to the court of Berlin, 182. His audience with the king on his resignation of the seals to him, and his behaviour on that occasion, 182, 183. Accepts of the office of one of the lords of the admiralty for his brother John Stanhope, 183. Renews his visits at White's, 186. and in note 1, sect. VI. Goes to Bath, 186. Employs himself in building a new house, and furnishing his library, 187. Visits lord Pembroke at Wilton, 187. Loses his brother John Stanhope, 187. His villa at Blackheath, and improvements there, 187, 188. His taste for gardening, 188. His connection with Sir Luke Schaub, 189. His taste for pictures, 189. Recommends to his son the study of the civil, military, and ecclesiastical government of Prussia, and the reformation of the laws introduced there by the king, 190. Apprehensive of his son's contracting a fondness for music, 191. and note 12, sect. VI. Cautions him against the impressions of irreligion and immorality, 191. Recommends him principally to attend to his appearance, elocution, and style, 192. His correspondence with Madam du Bocage, 193. Obtains a prebend of Windfor for Mr. Harte, 194. Advice to his son, with regard to gallantry and dissimulation, 194, 195, 196. Is disappointed in the hopes of procuring an establishment for him in the young prince's household, and of his being made envoy at Venice, 197. and in note 21, sect. VI. His bill for the reformation of the Julian calendar, and speech on that occasion, 197, 198, 199. His concern for the death of lord Bolingbroke, 199, 200. His apprehension on account of his deafness, 200, 201. His disappointment on the king's refusing to nominate his son envoy at the court of Naples, 202. Writes several essays in the periodical paper called The World, 203. Sends his son to Holland, and to some courts of Germany, 203. His disapprobation of the repeal of the bill for the naturalization of the Jews, 204. Recommends to his son the reading of Fra. Paolo's writings, 205, 206. Attacked with a rheumatic complaint, 206. Goes to Spa, 206. Elected a member of the Academy of inscriptions and belles lettres at Paris, 207. Moves for an adjournment in the house of peers, upon a motion made to address the king not to leave England, 208. Speaks in favour of the subsidiary treaty with the court of Russia, 209. His opinion of public affairs, 210. His apprehensions of the event of the war in the year 1757, and 1758, 212, 213. Bad state of his health, 216. His attachment to Ireland, 218. Receives the account of his son's son's death from a lady, who, at the same time, declared herself to be his wife, 220, 221. Adopts the son of his kinsman, Mr. Stanhope, of Mansfield, 222. Loses his brother Sir William Stanhope, 224. His death, ditto. His character, 225.

Coalition (Broad-bottom treaty). Account of, 137.

Codere (the Reverend Mr.). Teaches Mr. Stanhope the rudiments of learning, and the principles of morality, 169. and in note 45, sect. V.

Company (East India). Establishment of at Altona, opposed, 57.

Company (South Sea). Inquiry into, 70.

Contract (Affiento). What, 90. and in note 32, sect. IV.

Craftsman (The). Authors concerned in this paper, 66. Remarks in it concerning lord Chesterfield's dismissal, 66, 67.

Cromwell (Richard, Son of Oliver). His character, 9, 10.

Culloden (Battle of). 165. and in note 43, sect. V.

Cumberland (Duke of). Appointed commander in chief of the confederate army, 144.

D.

Dayrolles (Samuel, Esquire). Resident at the Hague, account of, 53.

Dayrolles (Solomon, Esquire). Made Resident at the Hague, 174, 175. and in note 61, sect. V. Appointed minister and commissary plenipotentiary at the court and congress at Brussels, 199. His marriage, ditto.

Debt (National). Reflection on, 212.

Dedications. Observations on, 165.

Dettingen (Battle of). Account of, 124, 125.

Diffimulation. Lord Chesterfield's opinion of, considered, 195, 196.

Du-Bocage (Madame). Visits England. Her reception by lord Chesterfield. Account of her letters to him, 193.

E.

Edinburgh. Account of a tumult there, 80. Is made an object of parliamentary inquiry, 80, 81.

Eloquence (British.) Reflections on, 34. Remarks on lord Chesterfield's, 38, 39. and in note 41, sect. II.

Emperor. Death of, and reflections on it, 98, 99.

England. Invasion of, attempted by the French, 128, 129.

Europe. State of, in the year 1734, 75, 76, 77. and in notes 13, 14, sect. IV. Balance of, apparently destroyed, 104.

F.

Fenelon (Marquis of). Ambassador at the Hague from the court of France, 54.

Fontenoy. Battle of, 145. and in notes 13, 14, sect. V.

Forfeiture (Law of). Debate upon, 130, 131, 132. Considerations on; account of the author of that treatise, 130, 131. and in note 69, sect. IV.

France,

France. Considered as the mistress of the balance of Europe, 105.

Free Gift (a taxation in Holland). Account of, 178, 179.

G.

Gallantry. Lord Chesterfield's opinion of, considered, 195, 196.

Gardening. Lord Chesterfield's taste for, 188.

George (I.). Remarks on his accession to the throne, 18.

His character and death, 32, 33.

George (II.). Curious anecdote of, in note 50, sect. V. Presses lord Chesterfield to accept of the seals, 172. Urges him to retain them; and offers a pension or dukedom to him, 183.

Granville (Earl of). Accepts the seals, and resigns them three days after, 168, 169.

Grey (Sir James). Appointed envoy at the court of Naples, 202.

H.

Halifax (Marquis of). Account of, and his family, 7. and in notes 13, 14, 15.

Halifax (Earl of). Appointed lord lieutenant of Ireland, 218. His speech, ditto.

Hammond (Anthony, esquire). His character, 47.

Hammond (James, esquire). Account of, 48. His death and character, 133. and in note 71.

Hardwicke (Earl of). His character, 81. His answer to lord Chesterfield, on the law of forfeiture, 132.

Harley (Earl of Oxford). Character of, 36. and in note 33, sect. II.

Harrington (Lord). Appointed lord lieutenant of Ireland, 172.

Harte (Mr.). Account of, 170, 171, and in note 48, sect. IV. Criticism on his style, 192. Appointed a prebendary of Windsor, 194. and in note 19, sect. VI.

Heinsus. His character, note 17, sect. III.

Holt (Sir John). Anecdote of, 10.

Hooke (Mr.). Account of. Recommended by lord Chesterfield to write the history of the duke of Marlborough, 116. His reward for his service, ditto.

J.

Jesuits. Their expulsion from France, 219, 220. and in note 61, sect. VI.

John (Duke of Argyll). Character of, 37. and in note 38, sect. II.

L.

Ligonier (General). Anecdote of, 176.

Lorrain (Duke of). His acquaintance with lord Chesterfield, 63.

Low Countries. Invasion of by the French; their situation at that time, 140.

Lyddell (Richard, esquire). Appointed secretary to lord Chesterfield, 151.

Maccles-

M.

Macclesfield (Lord). His speech for the reformation of the Julian calendar, 199. and in note 22, sect. VI.

Maittaire (Mr.). Engaged to instruct Mr. Stanhope in the Latin language, 169.

Marlborough (Duke of). Resigns, 125.

———— (Dutchess of). Her death, and legacy to lord Chesterfield, 134, 135. Anecdote of, in note 75, sect. IV.

Melesina de Schulenburg (Countess of Walsingham). Account of, and her marriage with lord Chesterfield, 71. and in note 4, sect. IV.

Memoirs. General use of, 1, 2.

Minister (Prussian). His memorial for an exemption of search for the Prussian flag, 182.

Montesquieu. Character of, 42. Anecdote of, 102.

N.

Nash. Anecdote of, 88, 89.

Negotiation (with Russia). Account of, 179, 180.

Newcastle (Duke of). Consulted concerning the bill for the reformation of the calendar, 197, 198. His observation upon it, ditto.

O.

Orange (Prince of). Made Stadtholder, 176.

P.

Parliaments. Remarks on their duration, 24, 25.

Parties. Reflections on, 95.

Pictures. Lord Chesterfield's taste for, 189.

Pitt (Andrew, the quaker). Anecdote of, in note 26, sect. IV.

Pope (Mr.). Anecdote of, in note 49, sect. II. Remarks on his ethic epistles, 41. His death and character, 133. Anecdote of, 134.

Porteus (Captain). Account of his trial and condemnation, 80.

Prior (Mr.). Account of, refuses an employment offered him by lord Chesterfield. Dedicates his book on tar water to him, 166.

Protestants. Association formed by them in Ireland, during the rebellion, 159.

Prussia (King of). Dispute between him and George II. reconciled by the mediation of lord Chesterfield, 58.

Pulteney. Character of, 36. Account of, 109, 110.

R.

Rebellion (in Scotland in 1715). Account of, 22.

———— in 1745). Account of, 149, 150, 151.

S.

Sanction (Pragmatic). Its object, 61. Rejected by the French, ditto.

Saxe

- Saxe* (Marshal). Anecdote of, 175. Makes an irruption into Dutch Flanders, and subdues the whole province, ditto. His enterprize on Maestricht, 184.
- Scarborough* (Earl of). Appointed master of the horse to George the Second, 46. Votes in favour of the bill for preventing all officers above the rank of colonels from being deprived of their commissions, but by a court martial, 74. Resigns his place of master of the horse, ditto, and in note 9, sect. IV. His disapprobation of the public measures; account of his death, 94, 95, 96. and in notes 37, 38, 39, sect. IV.
- Schaub* (Sir Luke). Account of, 188, 189.
- Seals*. Reflection on lord Chesterfield's resignation of them, 185, 186.
- Seville Treaty*. Its object, 56.
- Spain*. War proclaimed against, 93.
- Stadtholdership*. Settlement of, in the female line of the Orange family, 177.
- Stage*. Bill for preventing any play from being acted without the lord chamberlain's licence, 82. Warmly opposed by the opposition, 83.
- Stair* (Earl of). Account of, 23. and in note 8, sect. II. His character, 118. His resignation, 125.
- Stanhope* (General). Appointed secretary of state, 19. Created viscount and earl, 26. His death, 29. and in note 21, sect. II.
- Stanhope John* (the honourable). Appointed secretary of embassy to lord Chesterfield; his character, 47. Made lord of the Admiralty, 183. His death, 187.
- Stanhope* (Colonel). Created a peer by the title of lord Harrington, and appointed ambassador to the court of Madrid, 56. Made secretary of state, 60.
- Stanhope* (honourable Charles, esquire). His death, 78.
- Stanhope* (Mr.). Son to lord Chesterfield, sent to Westminster school, 169. Sent to travel under the care of Mr. Harte, 170. Studies at Lausanne and Leipsig, 189, 190. Goes to Dresden; contracts an acquaintance with Sir Charles Hanbury Williams envoy there, 190. Visits the court of Berlin; his reception there, ditto. Goes to Venice, Rome, and Naples, 191. His arrival at Paris, 193. Goes to Brussels, and not being permitted to appear at that court, returns to Paris, 201. Travels into Holland and some parts of Germany, 203. Chosen member of parliament; his first speech in the house of commons, 207. Goes in a public character to Ratibon, 214. Returns to London, ditto. Is appointed envoy extraordinary to the court of Dresden, ditto. Vacates his seat in parliament, ditto. Goes to the south of France for the recovery of his health, 215. His death, ditto.
- Stanhope* (Sir William). His death, 224.
- Stanhope* (honourable Philip Dormer). See Chesterfield, Earl of.
- Strafford* (Earl of). Account of, 14.
- Strickland* (the Abbé). Account of, in note, 41, sect. III.
- Swift* (Dean). Anecdote of, note 50, sect. II. His death, 157.

T.

- Tabernega* (Marquis de). Account of that nobleman, 181.
- Townshend* (Lord). Made secretary of state, 29. Character of, 37.
- Treaty*

Treaty (Convention). Account of, 91.

U.

Ville (Abbé de la). His character, 142, 143. and in notes 8, 9, sect. V.

United Provinces. Account of the nature of their government, 51, 52. and in notes 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, sect. III. State of, in the year 1746, 172. Letter from their minister at Breda to lord Chesterfield, 173. and in note 58, sect. V. Their finances and commerce in the year 1747, 178.

Universities (English). Remarks upon them, 10. Lord Chesterfield's opinion of them, in note 23, sect. I.

Voltaire. Account of some of his works, in note 56, sect. II.

W.

Wales (Prince of). Account of the difference between him and the king, 26. Opposes the ministry, 83, 84. His conduct resented by the king, &c. 85. His character, 86. His connection with lord Bolingbroke, 86, 87.

and in note 28, sect. IV. Votes against the convention treaty,
92. His death, 196.

Walpole (Mr. afterwards Sir Robert). Character of, 35, 36.
Opposition made to him, 72.
Remarks on his administration,
89. Resigns, created Earl of Orford; remarks on him, 109.
and in notes 51, 52, sect. IV.

Wall (Mr.). Account of, 181.

War. Account of, in the year 1742, 117.

War. Declared by the French against England, 135.

Waterford (County of). Described. Account of this work and author, 167.

Waterford (Bishop of). Made Chaplain to lord Chesterfield,
48. Account of his family, 49.
His character, ditto. Made Bishop of Killaloe, 147. Translated to the See of Waterford, ditto. Account and death of his son, 222, 223. Account of his brother's death, 222.

Wharton (Lord). Account of, 36,
37. and in note 34, sect. II.

The first part of the memoirs
 is devoted to a description of
 the country and the people
 of the province of ...
 The second part contains
 a history of the province
 from the time of the
 conquest to the present time. The third part
 is a collection of
 laws and customs
 which have been enacted in the province since the conquest. The fourth
 part is a list of
 the names of the principal families
 and nobles of the province. The fifth
 part is a list of
 the names of the principal cities and
 towns of the province.
 The sixth part is a
 list of the names of
 the principal rivers
 and streams of the province. The seventh
 part is a list of the names of the principal
 mountains and hills
 of the province. The eighth part is a list
 of the names of the principal lakes and
 ponds of the province.
 The ninth part is a
 list of the names of
 the principal islands
 of the province. The tenth part is a list
 of the names of the principal bays and
 harbours of the province.
 The eleventh part is a list of the names
 of the principal
 fortifications of the province. The twelfth
 part is a list of the names of the principal
 castles and strongholds
 of the province. The thirteenth part is a
 list of the names of
 the principal
 castles and strongholds
 of the province. The fourteenth part is a
 list of the names of
 the principal
 castles and strongholds
 of the province.

The first part of the memoirs
 is devoted to a description of
 the country and the people
 of the province of ...
 The second part contains
 a history of the province
 from the time of the
 conquest to the present
 time. The third part
 is a collection of
 laws and customs
 which have been enacted in the province since the conquest. The fourth
 part is a list of
 the names of the
 principal families
 and nobles of the province. The fifth
 part is a list of
 the names of the
 principal cities and
 towns of the province.
 The sixth part is a
 list of the names of
 the principal rivers
 and streams of the province. The seventh
 part is a list of the names of the principal mountains and hills of the province.
 The eighth part is a
 list of the names of the principal lakes and
 ponds of the province.
 The ninth part is a
 list of the names of
 the principal islands
 of the province. The
 tenth part is a list
 of the names of the principal bays and
 harbours of the province.
 The eleventh part is
 a list of the names
 of the principal
 fortifications of the province. The twelfth
 part is a list of the names of the principal
 castles and strongholds
 of the province. The
 thirteenth part is a
 list of the names of
 the principal
 castles and strongholds
 of the province. The fourteenth part is a
 list of the names of
 the principal
 castles and strongholds
 of the province.